M'KINLEY'S ELECTION THE FINAL BLOW

Last United States Consul at Manila Believes Republican Success Will Bring Utter Discouragement to Aguinaldo's Adherents.

Oscar F. Williams, the last consul of the United States at Manila, delivered speeches in Nohra last week, one at Hartington Friday night and another at Madison Saturday evening.

While the events leading up to the declaration of the war with Spain were in progress Mr. Williams, foreseeing the possible results, took occasion to post himself as to the defenses of the harbor of Manila and the strength of the Spanish army and navy on the island.

Referring to the present trouble on the island of Luzon Mr. Williams later, when Dewey entered Manila, said that he had never seen a man who had not been acquainted with the harbor and for this reason Consul Williams, who had studied the water and its defenses, was taken along as a sort of pilot.

As to the balance of the company it spoke when its cue came and made gestures at the arms, undoubtedly preparing for an attack.

Mr. Williams was in charge of the administration of the municipal affairs of Manila from the time of its surrender until it was occupied by the American army on the arrival of General Otis and under that officer had practical direction of the civil affairs of the city until he left the island.

Speaking of the ability of the natives to establish a stable government of their own Mr. Williams said that he is not at all sanguine as to the possibility of their doing so.

"The government has already purchased $100,000 worth of school books which have been placed in the hands of the Filipino children and they are learning rapidly.

"The Filipino insurgents are deeply interested in the result of the present campaign in the United States—so deeply as any voter in this country. In their homes are lithographs of Mr. Bryan and there is no doubt that they hope for the withdrawal of the American forces if he is elected.

NEW BUSHWHACKING DODGER

Bronch Push Fires a Second Anonymous Broadside of Abuse and Fiction.

Another edition of anonymous circulars came out Saturday purporting to be issued by a so-called "Republican League" in the interest of the democratic legislative ticket and signed "executive committee."

These circulars, like the "Jekyll and Hyde" circulars of a few days before, were distributed by Sam McLeod, A. J. VanAllen, Jim Connell, ex-policeman; John Case, ex-school board janitor; George Hess, ex-member of the school board boodle combine, and others of their ilk.

The circulars are simply a rehash of the various fakes and charges which the same crowd have been making through the World-Herald, as the fusion organ, ever since they were knocked out in the republican primaries.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A Midnight Bell"

"A Midnight Bell," one of the many conceptions of Charles Hoyt, was enacted at Boyd's theater Sunday afternoon and evening by a company which did its best.

The setting of the piece, which is quite laboriously put on, was attended to faithfully.

The story of Little Lawson, incidental to the country school recitations, was a refreshing variation. He sang some of the least objectionable of con songs simply and with charming effect.

GREAT SUFFERING REPORTED

Plague-Stricken Districts on Lower Yukon Rival Horrors of India.

MISERY OF THE NATIVES IS TERRIBLE

Graphic Pictures of Awful Scenes Given by Rev. John B. Rene, in Charge of Catholic Missions and Churches of Alaska.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 28.—A special to the Tribune from Dawson, October 11, via Fairbanks, Oct. 28, says: Details of the suffering of the plague-stricken natives of the Siberian and Alaskan coasts and the lower Yukon, by travelers who reached Dawson two weeks ago, picture these mortals living in awful misery, that may be compared with that of the disease and famine-burdened people of India.

Graphic pictures of the sufferings of a small part of those stricken on the lower Yukon, which will serve as a sample of the awful misery, is given by Rev. John B. Rene, in charge of Alaska, who has arrived at Dawson, en route from the mouth of the Yukon to his headquarters in Juneau. He says:

"The condition of the natives is so miserable one might say death would be a relief to them. On entering the tent one sees a man, his wife and three or four children, and a number of infants, lying on a thin mat on the damp ground, all prostrated and afflicted by the plague. All are coughing up blood and bile, and vomiting. Matter runs from the eruptions on eyes and nose, and the patient is unable to eat, to aggravate their misery, all the sufferers are wet day and night."

HEAVY STORM AT HONOLULU

Rain Falls in Torrents and Rivers Are Out of Their Banks.

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The heaviest rain storm which has occurred here within two years broke at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents and within a short while the streets were impassable. The rainfall in Nuunua valley, about two miles from Honolulu, was 3.15 inches, and it varied slightly near the city. The Nuunua was soon swollen beyond its boundaries and came sweeping down with increasing speed. It broke its banks and washed every movable object away. Acres of the town on both sides of the river were submerged to a depth of three feet and some of the houses near the bank were driven away in wild haste. The water covered the floors two feet deep in some cases. A good-sized portion of River street was washed away and the bridge leading to the Palama district was carried off. The heaviest rainfall in the city proper was 4.17 inches, while the heaviest on the island occurred on the north side of the mountain, being 5.10 inches. A native workman was drowned.

The official returns of the registration in all the islands of the territory have been received. Only 11,216 persons registered in the coming election. For some reason. This is 3,000 less than the registration during the last year under the monarchy. By islands the registration is as follows: Hawaii, 2,717; Maui, 2,058; Oahu (includes Honolulu), 5,794; Kauai, 789.

Hawaiian postmasters who held office during the republic are endeavoring to have the United States redeem several thousand dollars' worth of Hawaiian stamps. Under the laws of the republic the postmasters purchased their stamps outright. When association came no provision was made for redeeming the stamps. The United States collector Justin left for Guam October 15.

Still More Counterfeiting. The Secret Service has secured another band of counterfeiters and secured a large quantity of bogus bills, which are so cleverly executed that the average person would never suspect them of being spurious. Things of great value are always selected for imitation, notably Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has many imitations. The counterfeiters are also making a specialty of the reliable druggists who have the reputation of giving what you ask for.

Famous Gun at Nashville. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—The gun from which the first shot in the Spanish-American war was fired in the city of Nashville, which is to be its permanent home, is being drawn in a railroad box car and comes from the smelter at Nashville, which sent a shot over the bow of the Spanish merchant vessel Buena Ventura.

Big Storm in Minnesota. WINONA, Minn., Oct. 28.—This city and vicinity was visited today by the worst storm in many years. The wind was a gale. Lightning did considerable damage to the city and the railroad suffered considerable loss in several washouts and high water. The Chicago & Northwestern lost 1,500 feet of track washed out near Rockland.

Adapted from some incident in the life of a popular candidate, as immediately after the war, when General Grant was the only man who could find time to talk to him. This is what the man said: "Do you see that steam shovel digging ore and all those men at work loading it and trimming the cargoes? Do you see all those cars on those tracks? Do you see the docks and you will see five big steamers waiting for cargoes of ore. It is in such demand that there is not a pound in stock and the ships can't load until the ore is mined. Three and four years ago these men were sitting around home so poor that they could buy only a few chickens. Now they are getting all the work they want at good pay and there is room for other men if they want to work. Those fellows don't want a picture of Bryan and they don't want a paper that is saying that times are hard when they are good. After the soldier had heard these things a half dozen times, he said, he headed for Milwaukee, canvassing the towns all the way back, where his experience was about the same.

The popularity of the Rough Rider hat among republican campaigners this year recalls the picturesque side of political fights in years gone by. Since the campaign of 1864, when the hat was the election of President Lincoln, distinctive hats have frequently figured as badges of partisans. In 1864, while the war was still in progress and when the vital republican issue was the preservation of the union and the abolishing of Lincoln's administration, campaign hats were called "Wideawakes." Every town had its company and some of the larger cities had several. All the young republicans were active "Wideawakes" in those days and all the old fellows were honorary members. The campaign hat of the "Wideawakes" was a slouch of black felt. It hadn't as wide a brim as the Rough Rider hat of today, but it was just as serviceable. It was really the army hat of the southern cavaliers in the civil war.

Since Lincoln's time every fourth year has seen republicans and democrats saluting forth with hats of such shape or color or bearing such an emblem as to distinguish members of one party from those of the other. Often the style has been

A Man to the Rescue!

The Woman in Peril Rarely Finds Help From Her Own Sex.

It is no wise to a woman's discredit that she is not a professional life-saver. We can only fancy her in the fireman's helmet, in the crew of the life-boat, or wielding a policeman's club, at the loss of some of that fineness which is the distinguishing quality of her sex. The Molly Pitchers and Grace Darlings are only examples of the sublime self-forgetfulness of women in great emergencies.

It's much the same in other ways. Women turn to the strength, skill and judgment of men in the crises of life.

One of the most common statements made in the letters grateful women write to Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is this: "I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

These women have found themselves in great trouble. They have appealed without avail to local physicians. They have consulted in vain with women advisers. The best that had been done for them was just to keep them afloat in the sea of disease with strength visibly failing, in the hope that the man who had strength and skill to save them might be found.

WOMAN'S APPEAL ANSWERED. Hundreds of thousands of women have appealed to Dr. Pierce, for relief from womanly ills and not one has been disappointed. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription supplemented by the medical advice of Dr. Pierce has been the means of cure to this vast army of women suffering from diseases peculiar to the sex.

"I wish to tell you the benefit I received from using your remedies," writes Mrs. Alice Soncrant, of 261 W. Harrison Street, Chicago, Ill. "Two years ago I was taken with a severe pain in the left ovary and side. Tried several different remedies, but nothing helped me. I got so bad I could scarcely walk across the floor or do work of any kind. One day an old neighbor lady came in to see me, and told me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She said she knew it would help me, as it had saved her life. When the doctors had given her up and said they could do nothing for her, she began to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it cured her. So I got a bottle of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and began taking them. Before I had taken one bottle of each I was so much better I could do all my own work, and that is a good deal, as I am the mother of four small children. Three bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me. I have not been sick since then. I think

STORM RAGES IN LA CROSSE Much Damage is Done to Property by a Severe Wisconsin Rain.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 28.—In the twenty-four hours preceding 8 o'clock this morning seven and a quarter inches of rain fell in this city. The storm was the severest in this city, although it was generally felt within a radius of fifty miles from here. The Milwaukee road suffered much damage to its tracks and no trains have arrived from the east for twenty-four hours. The La Crosse river marshes are flooded and most of the hay that escaped the last flood has been destroyed.
