ANOTHER GRAND STAND PLAY

Brooks Reed Offers Reward for Reports of Violation of Election Laws.

DEMOCRATS AFFECT TO SCENT BRIBERY

Mayor Jennings Orders That the Space Around Polling Places Be Roped Off and Carefully Patrolled.

William Brooks Reed, chairman of the democratic county central committee, made another of his grand stand plays yesterday and had posted around the city large placards offering $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person violating the election laws of Iowa at or before the election of November 6, 1900.

One hundred dollars reward. I will pay a reward of $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person in this city violating the election laws of Iowa at or before the election of November 6, 1900.

The following offenses are punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary: 1. Paying or offering to pay a voter to vote for any ticket or candidate.

As soon as this placard made its appearance Chairman Wright of the republican county central committee decided to go Mr. Reed $100 better and he soon had a number of posters printed offering $200 reward for similar information.

The regular meeting of the democratic county central committee was held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Reed, chairman of the committee, at 10 o'clock yesterday.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Mayor Company Gets All It Wants from the Public.

Although the city council remained in session less than half an hour last night it found time to take definite action looking to a determination of the controversy over Main street between the city and the motor company.

As soon as the bills for the preceding month had been read and allowed Alderman Huber sprang three motions, typewritten copies of which he held in his hand.

The city marshal is and he is hereby instructed to notify the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company and the Omaha, Council Bluffs & Suburban Railway company to cease the construction of any additional street railway tracks in or upon Main street and to refrain from tearing up any paving on said street for the purpose of such construction.

This was carried unanimously and then the alderman from the First ward submitted his second, which was that: "The city marshal be and he is hereby instructed to prevent the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company and the Omaha, Council Bluffs & Suburban Railway company or any other person or corporation from laying any street railway track in or upon any portion of Main street or from tearing up and removing any of the paving upon said street."

This also carried without a dissenting vote and embodied the same as the alderman Huber then sprang his third motion. It was: "That the city attorney be and he is hereby instructed to take the necessary action or proceeding proper for determining or testing the authority of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company and the Omaha, Council Bluffs & Suburban Railway company, or either of them to occupy Main street and Pearl street with its street railway tracks and to take the necessary action or proceeding to prevent the further construction of street railway tracks by either of said railway companies in or upon either of said streets and of tearing up of the paving thereon."

Alderman Inge did not approve of this and recorded his vote in the negative, but his was the only opposition to the motion. The program, which was evidently cut and dried, having been carried out, the council adjourned to Thursday night after having been in session less than an hour.

Manager Dimmock, when seen after the meeting, said: "It is exactly what we wanted the council to do. Now that it has declared itself in favor of the city, we will continue to work tomorrow, but will cease as soon as notified by the city marshal. Then the aldermen will learn a thing or two which they don't seem to know at present. We have something up our sleeve that will surprise them when we spring it. We maintain we have the right to lay a second track on Main street and we will lay it. Whatever we will do will be above board and there will be no laying of track at night time or any attempt on our part to steal a march upon the city. It may be possible that the matter will have to be determined by the courts, but as to that I cannot say at this time. As soon as the city marshal orders the city stopped then our next action will depend upon the course the city takes. Our only reason for expending $12,000 upon a second track on Main street is to improve our service to the lake next spring and not for the purpose of securing any supposed additional rights upon that street."
