Attempted Murder and Suicide.

DUBOIS, Pa. Nov. 8.—George M. Harding, a well known citizen of Reynoldsville, today attempted to kill his wife and then committed suicide by blowing his brains out. The wife probably will recover. The couple quarreled last week and separated, the husband charring the wife with infedity. He took their two small children to the home of his parents where he went to live Mrs. Harding went to the home of her parents. Harding called on his wife at her parents home today and when she made her appearance he threw his arms around her and fired a bullet into her head. He then turned the weapon and blew his own brains out, his body falling beside his prostrate wife. Attempted Murder and Suleide.

Gas-Propelled Life Boat.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Nov. 8-A lifeboat propelled by a twelve-horse-power gas engine was given a severe test in the heavy northerly storm today. It ran out into the open lake in the teeth of a fifty-mile northerly gale at the rate of six miles an hour and was handled with entire cuccess. An oar propelled hoat would not have been able to round the breakers. Captain Cleary of the Marquette tation will report to the government on the trial and it is believed that the adoption of the engine for general use in lifeboats will follow.

> Mayor of Greater New York Answers Governor's Impeachment Charges.

EXPLAINS HIS CONNECTION WITH ICE TRUS

Lengthy Reply to Roosevelt Charges in Which a Confession in Avoidonce is Entered by Tammany's Mayor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 .- The World tomorrow will print the full text of Mayor Van braid trimmings, extra lengths, 75c Wyck's answer to the charges in the matter of the American Ice company. The answer is addressed to Theodore Rooseveit, fasteners, best quality materials, $1.00 governor of the state of New York. In his reply the mayor says that it is an answer to the charges preferred against him by David Ferguson and Louis Southworth. He says that he does not own any stock in any ice company and that he has no direct or indirect interest in any such company. he continues as follows:

"Upon April 11, 1899, I bought from C. W. Morse 5,000 shares of the stock of the American Ice company for $250,000, which was the fair market value thereof, of which sum I paid $50,000 in cash by three checks and I gave three promissory notes for the balance, one for $50,000 and two for $75,000 each. The stock was issued to me and by me delivered to Mr. Morse as collateral security for the notes. Subsequently the certain banks. They were renewed from time to time, the interest being paid by me. Finally the notes were paid in full by me, with interest, out of the proceeds FAIRBURY, Neb., Nov. 8 .- (Special Tele- of the stock as hereinafter stated. I had gram.)—Jefferson county complete gives been a stockholder in the Knickerhocker McKinley 1,862: Bryan, 1,587; Dietrich, Ice company of Maine long previous to April 11, 1899, and had paid for my stock therein $45,000, which was the fair market value thereof. I received a printed circular about May, 1899, from the American Ice company, offering to exchauge their stock, share for share, for Knickerbocker stock and I made such exchange. My entire holding of the ice stock has been sold in the open market on the New York Stock exchange in various lots for $281,319.15. 1 paid for the stock $295,000."

Long Time Finding Out.

The mayor then goes on to say that when he was served with Justice Gaynor's order in the latter part of May he did the American Ice company or its allies from for the first time in the latter part of May called to the fact that the American Ice company had contracts with the city to supply ice and that he owned stock in the charges that he visited Maine to inspect city or that the Consolidated Ice company in any way. had any leases with the city; that when direct or indirect, in any ice company as ney general or the district attorney. stockholder or otherwise, that for all stock a nominal consideration.

He was first informed about the end of May that contracts had been made in January, 1900, with the American Ice company for the supply of ice to the city of New York. He says that although he had a right to continue to hold said stock, he immediately commenced to sell mayor explains in this connection it and that he had sold all of his stock by June 28, 1900.

Debates the Law.

The mayor next takes up the provisions f section 1533 of the charter, which prohibits a city officer from being interested in city contracts, and says that if any indirect interest in the contracts of the American Ice company was acquired by him it was not within the meaning of this or restrict competition. statute because it was devolved upon him by law and it was not knowingly acquired. He says that many months after he bought his stock the contracts were made without his knowledge and without any volition on his part and that his holding of the stock could not be turned into a crime by the acts of other persons over whom he had no control and of whose acts he was ignorant. Mayor Van Wyck next takes up the consideration of the capitalization of the American Ice company. He says that the practical and accepted construction of the section of the charter referred to for upwards of fifty years has been that a stockhelder in a corporation having contracts with the city does not have a direct or indirect interest in such contracts by reason of his ownership of a minority of the stock. He goes on to explain that the American Ice company had in 1899 outstanding contracts amounting to $30,000,000, divided into 300 000 shares of $100 each Mayor Van Wyck then says he has been informed that during the administration f Mayor William L. Strong he was a stockhelder in the Central National bank and that such bank made contracts with the city for the deposit of city funds in said bank and the payment of interest thereon pursuant to the designation of a board of which the mayor was a member. Mayor Van Wyck says that he has also been informed that Mayor Strong was a stockholder and trustee in the New York Security and Trust company and that such company also made similar contracts with the city In addition, Mayor Van Wyck says that Mayor Strong was a director and stockholder in the New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad and that this rail-Take Lexative Brome Quinine Tablets. He also explained that Mayor Strong was a director in and chairman of the building committee of the New York Life Insurance company, from which the city took a lease of nine rooms in their building for three years from November 1, 1897. Case of Bird S. Coler.

Mayor Van Wyck next takes up the discuision of the charges that the present comptroller of the city, Mr. Coler, during his term has publicly stated that he owned stock in the City Trust company, which has a contract with the city regarding the deposit of the city funds. Mayor Van Wyck says that he has been informed that ex-Judge Dillon says that said charter provision was not applicable to such ownership. Next Mayor Van Wyck discusses in a similar fashion the charges against Woodbury Langdon, a member of the Rapid over two years, in which time she has Transit Ratiroad commission. He says that he has been informed that Woodbury ing camps She has made a good fortune tral Syndicate Building company and that in this city.

Mayor Van Wyck says that in 1896, while William R. Grace was mayor, he was a tockholder in the Commercial National bank and that this bank had a contract with the city for the deposit of city funds. He says that he has also been informed that Mayor Maguire of Syracuse is a stockholder in a corporation called the Courier Publishing company, which has dealings with that city, and that in a proceeding before the attorney general seeking his removal because of such awnership the attorney general dismissed the proceedings. Denies the Dock Charge.

The mayor's answer to the second charge that he became unlawfully interested in dock and wharf leases or privileges deals with the grants of land under water made to the Knickerbocker Ice company. He says they were made long prior to January 1, 1898, when he took office and that they were simply allowed to continue. He Chicago for the Anamosa (Ia.) National denies approving dock leases and says bank. that the Consolidated Ice company had less dock privileges since March 10, 1899, than they had when he assumed the office of mayor on January 1, 1898. He claims that the so-called "ice trust" has not been favored, and says that he did not know and never had any information that any leases of the Consolidated Ice company would become the property of the American Ice company. He claims that the allegations contained in the charge to the effect that the Knickerbocker Ice company of Maine, together with the Consolidated

Ice company of Maine, were about to become merged in the American Ice company of New Jersey in the year 1898, were not known or understood by him, and that he notes and collateral were transferred to had no knowledge or information of any merger until he received the printed cir cular offering to exchange stock. The mayor says that he is not guilty of the four charges made against him, which is malfeasance in office, in creating and maintaining a monopoly, that he did not encourage monopoly and explains that facts regarding the dealings of the dock departments are clearly presented in the evidence of J. Sergeant Cram and Charles F. Murphy, dock commissioners, in the proceedings before Justice Gaynor. He says that there are many docks and wharves owned by private persons and that monopoly of such docks and wharves for loading ice is practically an impossibility. He claims that he never in any way influenced the action of the dock commissioners as to leases or privileges to persons in the ice business and never in any way sought to prevent the competitiors of own 5,800 shares of stock of the American gaining such privileges. He also emphati-Ice company, and that his attention was cally denies the charges that the American Ice company received esceptional privileges. Just a Social Visit. Mayor Van Wyck next takes up the

In conclusion, the mayor claims that the charges against bim, although in form made by Ferguson and Southworth, are really instigated by the New York World and that he is informed that Ferguson and Southworth are reporters on that newspaper. WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 8 .- After a night of excitement over a threatened conflict between negroes and whites quiet prevails this morning and through the prompt action of the town authorities aided by the members of Company H, Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, a race riot was avoided. The trouble started on Tuesday night over the election and the fighting was kept up for a large part of the night and all of yesterday. There were numer ous encounters between the negroes and injured. Fearing a serious outbreak, a for the presidency four years hence. large number of extra policemen were vorn in and these, with sounds of the Tenth regiment, patrolled the streets until daylight. A dozen arrests were made and warrants are out for many more. This morning the excitement has died down and unless there are more assaults no further trouble is apprehended. The cutbreak it is said, was instigated by negroes recently brought from the south by contracting
