vention. Full power is also given to the legislature to fix the number of delegates. At the state house there is some surprise manifested at the fact that early indiations point to the carrying of the constitutional revision. The state constitution provides that the matter be submitted to the people each tenth year after the year 1870. In both 1880 and 1890 the proposition was voted down and it was the con sensus of opinion prior to election day that the question would suffer the same fate.

More Precincts Needed.

The recent election shows conclusively that more voting precincts are needed in South Omaha. In some precincts the vote was so heavy that the judges and clerks were worn out long before the count was finished. In the First ward there is particular need of additional precincts or else a division of the ward. This has been talked of before, but for various reasons nothing has been done. When Johnston Was mayor the question first came up, but Johnstop opposed the proposition of di-viding the First ward for the reason that it would entail an additional expense for the salaries of two more councilmen and also an increased expense in the street repair department. Johnston had his way tanglement is not religious differences, but and the plan fell through. At various times since then the plan of dividing the Grain Deaters in Session.

About forty members were present at the quarterly meeting of the Grain Dealers' union of southwest Iowa and northwest M.ssouri held yesterday afternoon at the Grand hotel.

The meeting as usual was held behind closed doors, but President E. Hunter of Hamburg stated that the only matter discussed was the condition of the crops and the best method to handle them. Reports showed that the corn crop in lowa was no! In good condition. There has been some delay in the delivery of the pipe on account of the rush of orders at the foundry, but he expects that the mains ordered will be laid before winter sets in. Hospital Buttons.

Election matters detracted a great deal from the interest at first shown in the sale of lapel buttons for the South Omily hospital fund. From now on, however, an annual dividend was declared, but any extra active campaign will be carried on and declaration was omitted. Today's extra Mrs. Holmes, along with the other members of the association, will make an exbuttons now on hand and then order more, with the idea of raising at least $3,000 for the hospital fund. With this money ground will be purchased and a suitably hospital building erected.
