

BOSTON STORE

L. BRANDEIS & SONS
16 AND DOUGLAS STS. OMAHA

Men's Odd Pants.
Men's all wool cassimere and chevrot, and English corduroy pants, worth up to $4.00 a pair, on sale at $1.25

Men's Odd Coats.
These were traveling men's samples, finest cassimere, chevrot, and worsteds, worth up to $10, your choice only. $1.98

That $63,000.00 Clothing Deal

We made with Levy, Rosenfield & Co. of 3 and 5 Waverly Place, New York,

Has Electrified the Bargain Appreciating People of This Great City.

At no place, at no time and under no circumstances have the people of Omaha had such an opportunity to buy such magnificent clothing at such extremely low prices. Remember we bought this stock at 50c on the dollar of cost to make, and consequently can afford to sell you garments, at retail, for less than they generally sell at wholesale. We declare this clothing to be first class in every respect. You can buy a suit and an overcoat in this sale for what either one is really worth.

$1.75 For Boy's Ulsters, Overcoats, Cape Overcoats and Reefers, worth $5.00

$2.98 For Men's Extra Heavy Storm Ulsters, all sizes, worth fully $6.50

$2.50 For Men's All Wool Heavy Winter Weight Suits, actual values $7.50

$1.25 For Boys' Double Breasted and Children's Vestee Suits, worth fully $3.00

Men's Extra Fine Suits and Overcoats

These garments are equal to custom made clothing in every particular. Our range of styles and patterns are unsurpassed and the materials are the very best. The new checks and stripes in the latest shades of chevrots, worsteds, thibets, vicunas, etc. Every garment is expertly tailored and guaranteed perfect fitting and are worth considerable more than our special sale prices—

$1250 $1500 $1900

$5 For Men's Stylish Suits and Overcoats worth $10.00—Every garment in this lot is strictly up-to-date, excellent fitting and well made and lined. The Suits are made of fancy striped and checked worsteds, gray vicunas, black and blue chevrots, cassimeres black worsteds, etc. The Overcoats are made of fine kerseys, meltons, coverts and beavers in blue, tan, brown and black. Regular and box lengths, cloth and velvet collars, actual $10.00 values on sale for $5.00.

$7.50 For Men's Fine Suits and Overcoats worth $15—Stop and realize the magnitude of these values—Right now when you are most in need of clothing we are offering you $15 suits and overcoats for $7.50. Every garment is strictly up to date and thoroughly well tailored and trimmed. The Suits are made of fine clay worsteds, fancy checked and striped worsteds, cassimeres, chevrots, meltons and vicunas, all sizes and all styles. The Overcoats are fine oxfords, vicunas, Wasington kerseys, Irish frieze and fancy back coverts. Every garment splendidly lined and made to fit perfectly. Actual $15.00 values on sale for $7.50.

$9.50 For Men's Very Fine Suits and Overcoats worth $19—This lot comprises the very best suits and overcoats in the entire stock. Every garment is faultlessly tailored, extra well lined and trimmed and fits like made-to-order clothes. The Suits are made of black and blue serges, imported worsteds, meltons, thibets, finest worsteds and vicunas. The Overcoats are made of the best fabrics and comprise the new and leading styles. Come and choose from this superb line for $9.50. They are actual $19 values.

Special Values in Men's Fine Fur Overcoats

Our line of men's fur coats is very extensive and includes every variety and grade of fur in the market. Coats made of the finest dog skins, horse coats dyed black, galloway, wombat, raccoon, Bulgarian lamb or astrachan and Japanese wolf; in plain or trimmed, prices range upwards to $35.00.

We offer 3 Specials for Saturday—
$598 $850 $998

Extraordinary Values in Seasonable Men's Furnishings Saturday,

25c For Men's Fleeced Lined and heavy gray underwear, all sizes shirts and drawers, worth 50c a garment.
39c For Men's Wool Fleeced Underwear and all wool gray underwear, all sizes shirts and drawers, worth 75c a garment.
50c For Men's Fine Derby Ribbed and silk fleeced underwear, all sizes shirts and drawers, worth $1 a garment.
75c For Men's Finest Lambs' Wool, natural gray, camels' hair and fancy colored underwear, worth fully $1.50 a garment.

25c For Men's 50c Neckwear. We guarantee every tie in this lot to be worth fully 50c. They are sold for that price throughout the universe. The styles and colorings are the very latest and comprise the new narrow necks and four-in-hands, made of extra quality silk. Come and get two ties for the price of one.

Men's and Boys' Winter Caps
25c For Sample Caps worth 75c—In this lot are caps for men and boys in every conceivable style, made of fine cloth, fur, etc., well lined and warm winter headwear, worth up to 75c, on sale tomorrow at 25c.
Men's and Boys' Sample Caps worth $1.25 are on sale Saturday at 49c. Come and choose from the greatest variety of styles ever shown in Omaha. There are all sizes in this lot and every cap is worth from $1.00 to $1.25, but we offer them for Saturday at 49c

50c For Men's $1.00 Shirts. A number of these shirts are worth more than $1.00, none are worth less. They are the very latest styles in both plain and fancy colors, in all sizes. We advise you to lay in a supply when you can buy them so cheap. $1 value, 50c

25c Leather Mittens for 8c—500 pair of men's lined leather mittens and men's and boys' fleeced lined knit mittens, worth 8c 25c a pair, only. 8c
25c For Men's and Boys' Scotch Gloves and golf gloves, and lined and unlined kid and leather gloves and mittens.
50c For Men's and Boys' Lined and Unlined kid and leather gloves and mittens.

Another Big Shoe Sale Saturday.

Better Shoes than anyone else sells for the money.
Better Shoes than anyone else carries in stock.
Newer Styles—and more styles and more shoes than any other store in the west.

Each and Every Pair Guaranteed
No matter what we sell them at.

That's Boston Store's Way of Selling Shoes

Saturday we will sell

4 Pairs of Shoe Laces for 5c—the kind others sell 5c pair.
2000 pairs Men's Satin Calf Shoes, in 5 different styles of toe, 11 iron sole, good plump leather—every pair guaranteed—any and all sizes—on sale Saturday in basement at $1.25.....

On Main Floor, in Men's Department. 1200 pairs Men's Custom Made Calf Shoes, double soles, in the newest style of toe, all sizes from 6 to 11—and 100 pairs men's very fine welt sole kid shoes, sizes 6, 6 1/2, 7 and 7 1/2, worth up to $5.00, go at $1.98.....

On Main Floor, in Men's Dept. 800 pairs Men's Single, Double and Triple Sole Shoes, in black and tan, in calf, Russia calf and vic kid, all sizes, on sale Saturday at $2.50

For $3.00 we will give you unlimited choice of all the very latest and styles in men's fine shoes in single, double and triple soles, leather lined and drill lined, in patent leather, enamel, French calf and vic kid, box calf, willow calf, velours and Phoenix kid, in all sizes and all widths, which could not be bought at any other store for less than $3.00, we will sell them Saturday at $3.50 and $3.00 a pair.....

BOYS' SHOES 98c $125 $139 $150 $159 $175 $200
We make a special offer for Saturday of boys' and youths' shoes, both on the main floor and in basement. We give you the choice of the finest shoes ever put on sale in Omaha at prices that are simply impossible elsewhere.

MRS. MOORE'S ANXIOUS NIGHT

Loses Her Husband and Forgets Number of Her Boarding House.

PASSES NIGHT AT THE POLICE STATION

Officer in Charge Tries to Locate the Missing Man by Telephoning to Friends in Norfolk.

Since the resignation of Mrs. Tiedeman as police matron, and pending the qualification of the new appointee, Officer Sam Reigleman has been in charge of the matron's room on the second floor of the jail building, and, it is alleged, his condition has bordered upon nervous prostration so great is his dread of having to officiate in a delicate case. This fear, however, he has been involved in no embarrassing predicament, though he has had several narrow escapes.

The most interesting, perhaps, was that in which figured Mrs. G. W. Moore of Norfolk. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, both of whom were strangers in Omaha, arrived in the city about noon Thursday, and at once went out on West Farnam street and rented a room. Then they came back down town and separated, agreeing to meet at the Boston store at 5:30.

Mrs. Moore was there on time, but her husband wasn't. Five forty-five came, 5:50, and then the big store began to discharge its crowd of customers. It was time to close up. Six o'clock. The employees were biting out. Finding herself alone in the store, Mrs. Moore gave up waiting and concluded to go to her room, but here she was confronted by an unexpected difficulty: She had forgotten its number and location.

It was after 10 o'clock Thursday night that Mrs. Moore, accompanied by a policeman, entered the station and told her story to the captain. But the captain didn't know the number of her room either.

"Perhaps you'd better stay in the matron's apartment tonight," he said to her. "Your husband, of course, will call for you here as soon as he is satisfied you are lost. Wait and I'll introduce you to the matron—I mean to the—"

For the moment the captain had forgotten that Sam Reigleman was acting matron.

A half-hour later Officer Reigleman and Mrs. Moore entered the Millard hotel office and asked to use the long-distance 'phone.

"Are you sure the name was George Sherlock?" he was saying.

"Yes, quite sure."

"And that he is a real estate agent in Omaha?"

"Yes. My husband used to know him in Norfolk, and now he's going to work for him here. I'm sure Mr. Moore has been with him all the afternoon."

"But 'no' George Sherlock, real estate agent, is in the city directory."

"I can't help it. Maybe he hasn't been here long enough."

Communicates with Norfolk.

"All right, we'll call up Norfolk, then. Will you please get Norfolk for us?" This

LITIGANT WITH NO TRIBUNAL

Dissolution of Railroad Board Proves Embarrassment for Yeiser.

Telephone Rate Case is Out of Court

Effort to Secure Cheaper Service Reaches Interesting Stage When it is Interrupted by Supreme Court's Decision.

Since the supreme court decided that the law creating the State Board of Transportation was unconstitutional and that that body had no legal existence, John O. Yeiser has been spending several hours a day trying to find out "where he is at" with his suit against the Nebraska Telephone company to compel it to reduce the rate charged patrons of that system in Omaha.

He has at last come to the conclusion that he is a litigant without a tribunal. The case against the telephone company was originally started in the district court of Douglas county. It came up for hearing before Judge Scott, who dismissed the complaint on the grounds that the legislature had provided another tribunal for the trial of such cases—the State Board of Railroad Commissioners. Suit was then brought before that board and the taking of testimony in the case proceeded for several days, on different occasions, as the work of the board and the convenience of the litigants permitted. The case attracted state attention and for a while it was predicted that it would result in the nomination of Mr. Yeiser as populist and democratic candidate for governor, as he had done more active work in attacking corporations than the occupant of the gubernatorial chair.

The sequence of events proved the futility of the prophecy. Governor Poynter being nominated to succeed himself. Even after that shattering of hopes the case was continued and evidence was taken during the campaign. The hearing promised to extend over more time than any initial hearing of similar nature in the history of Nebraska corporations, when it was stopped by the supreme court decision. Mr. Yeiser says that he is now considering the next step and intimates that he will again bring suit in the district court for a reduction of the charges. It is possible, however, that the matter will be dropped.

EXPENSE OF THE CAMPAIGN

Republican County Committee Renders Account of Its House-keeping During Three Months.

George Heimrod, treasurer of the republican county committee, has filed with the county clerk a list of moneys received and expended during August, September and October in the furtherance of the campaign. The total expense incurred during the campaign amounted to about $8,000. This money was expended for halls, necessary canvasses, labor in the headquarters office and in a score of minor directions. The committee received, on the other hand, cash contributions of $7,017.80, which has been applied on the bills rendered. The income was made up of assessments on candidates and officeholders and subscriptions from well known republicans and by the assistance of the national and state committees of $2,895 and $1,700, respectively.

MRS. MOORE'S ANXIOUS NIGHT

Loses Her Husband and Forgets Number of Her Boarding House.

PASSES NIGHT AT THE POLICE STATION

Officer in Charge Tries to Locate the Missing Man by Telephoning to Friends in Norfolk.

Since the resignation of Mrs. Tiedeman as police matron, and pending the qualification of the new appointee, Officer Sam Reigleman has been in charge of the matron's room on the second floor of the jail building, and, it is alleged, his condition has bordered upon nervous prostration so great is his dread of having to officiate in a delicate case. This fear, however, he has been involved in no embarrassing predicament, though he has had several narrow escapes.

The most interesting, perhaps, was that in which figured Mrs. G. W. Moore of Norfolk. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, both of whom were strangers in Omaha, arrived in the city about noon Thursday, and at once went out on West Farnam street and rented a room. Then they came back down town and separated, agreeing to meet at the Boston store at 5:30.

Mrs. Moore was there on time, but her husband wasn't. Five forty-five came, 5:50, and then the big store began to discharge its crowd of customers. It was time to close up. Six o'clock. The employees were biting out. Finding herself alone in the store, Mrs. Moore gave up waiting and concluded to go to her room, but here she was confronted by an unexpected difficulty: She had forgotten its number and location.

It was after 10 o'clock Thursday night that Mrs. Moore, accompanied by a policeman, entered the station and told her story to the captain. But the captain didn't know the number of her room either.

"Perhaps you'd better stay in the matron's apartment tonight," he said to her. "Your husband, of course, will call for you here as soon as he is satisfied you are lost. Wait and I'll introduce you to the matron—I mean to the—"

For the moment the captain had forgotten that Sam Reigleman was acting matron.

A half-hour later Officer Reigleman and Mrs. Moore entered the Millard hotel office and asked to use the long-distance 'phone.

"Are you sure the name was George Sherlock?" he was saying.

"Yes, quite sure."

"And that he is a real estate agent in Omaha?"

"Yes. My husband used to know him in Norfolk, and now he's going to work for him here. I'm sure Mr. Moore has been with him all the afternoon."

"But 'no' George Sherlock, real estate agent, is in the city directory."

"I can't help it. Maybe he hasn't been here long enough."

Communicates with Norfolk.

"All right, we'll call up Norfolk, then. Will you please get Norfolk for us?" This

EXPENSE OF THE CAMPAIGN

Republican County Committee Renders Account of Its House-keeping During Three Months.

George Heimrod, treasurer of the republican county committee, has filed with the county clerk a list of moneys received and expended during August, September and October in the furtherance of the campaign. The total expense incurred during the campaign amounted to about $8,000. This money was expended for halls, necessary canvasses, labor in the headquarters office and in a score of minor directions. The committee received, on the other hand, cash contributions of $7,017.80, which has been applied on the bills rendered. The income was made up of assessments on candidates and officeholders and subscriptions from well known republicans and by the assistance of the national and state committees of $2,895 and $1,700, respectively.

MRS. MOORE'S ANXIOUS NIGHT

Loses Her Husband and Forgets Number of Her Boarding House.

PASSES NIGHT AT THE POLICE STATION

Officer in Charge Tries to Locate the Missing Man by Telephoning to Friends in Norfolk.

Since the resignation of Mrs. Tiedeman as police matron, and pending the qualification of the new appointee, Officer Sam Reigleman has been in charge of the matron's room on the second floor of the jail building, and, it is alleged, his condition has bordered upon nervous prostration so great is his dread of having to officiate in a delicate case. This fear, however, he has been involved in no embarrassing predicament, though he has had several narrow escapes.

The most interesting, perhaps, was that in which figured Mrs. G. W. Moore of Norfolk. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, both of whom were strangers in Omaha, arrived in the city about noon Thursday, and at once went out on West Farnam street and rented a room. Then they came back down town and separated, agreeing to meet at the Boston store at 5:30.

Mrs. Moore was there on time, but her husband wasn't. Five forty-five came, 5:50, and then the big store began to discharge its crowd of customers. It was time to close up. Six o'clock. The employees were biting out. Finding herself alone in the store, Mrs. Moore gave up waiting and concluded to go to her room, but here she was confronted by an unexpected difficulty: She had forgotten its number and location.

It was after 10 o'clock Thursday night that Mrs. Moore, accompanied by a policeman, entered the station and told her story to the captain. But the captain didn't know the number of her room either.

"Perhaps you'd better stay in the matron's apartment tonight," he said to her. "Your husband, of course, will call for you here as soon as he is satisfied you are lost. Wait and I'll introduce you to the matron—I mean to the—"

For the moment the captain had forgotten that Sam Reigleman was acting matron.

A half-hour later Officer Reigleman and Mrs. Moore entered the Millard hotel office and asked to use the long-distance 'phone.

"Are you sure the name was George Sherlock?" he was saying.

"Yes, quite sure."

"And that he is a real estate agent in Omaha?"

"Yes. My husband used to know him in Norfolk, and now he's going to work for him here. I'm sure Mr. Moore has been with him all the afternoon."

"But 'no' George Sherlock, real estate agent, is in the city directory."

"I can't help it. Maybe he hasn't been here long enough."

Communicates with Norfolk.

"All right, we'll call up Norfolk, then. Will you please get Norfolk for us?" This

EXPENSE OF THE CAMPAIGN

Republican County Committee Renders Account of Its House-keeping During Three Months.

George Heimrod, treasurer of the republican county committee, has filed with the county clerk a list of moneys received and expended during August, September and October in the furtherance of the campaign. The total expense incurred during the campaign amounted to about $8,000. This money was expended for halls, necessary canvasses, labor in the headquarters office and in a score of minor directions. The committee received, on the other hand, cash contributions of $7,017.80, which has been applied on the bills rendered. The income was made up of assessments on candidates and officeholders and subscriptions from well known republicans and by the assistance of the national and state committees of $2,895 and $1,700, respectively.

KID-NE-OIDS

CURE BACK-ACHE

AND WEAK KIDNEYS

FOR SALE BY DRUGGISTS