Mrs. Long Abides by Promise She Made at the Altar.

He is ill with smallpox, but She Refused to be Separated and Will Be His Nurse.

Armed Truce in the Pit.

Down on the Board of Trade, where November corn had risen in the pit to 50 cents, almost as much excitement was occasioned when Charles Counselman called Mr. Phillips from the pit. They were in a room surrounded by a jostling crowd of speculators, eager to hear the conversation. The big elevator speculator, towering head and shoulders above the slight speculator, said to him:

"Mr. Phillips, I don't want to give you anything but contract corn and I am having No. 2 corn loaded on your vessel."

"All I ask, Mr. Counselman, is to get contract corn and with that I shall be perfectly satisfied."

"That was the extent of the conversation, hardly bitter enough to satisfy the expectations of the speculators, but it was suggestive of an armed truce.

Another engagement was on in a few hours, for after 65,000 bushels had been loaded on the steamer at South Chicago Phillips inspector reported a poorer quality of corn was being dumped into the boat. The work of loading was ordered stopped and Mr. Phillips went to the state grain department and demanded that the appeals committee be sent down to examine the cargo.

LIVES LOST IN THE FLOODS

Returns of Casualties in Western Tennessee Coming In—Covers Wide Territory.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 26.—Meager accounts of casualties by flood are coming from western Tennessee. A few miles north of Dyersburg a woman and two children in a buggy were thrown into deep backwater by the sloshing of a log, and both of which they were passing and all were drowned. At the south fork of the Forked Deer river a negro track hand of the Illinois Central was drowned.

HIGH WATER AT PITTSBURG

Ohio Reaches Stage of Twenty-One Feet and is Rising at Rate of Six Inches an Hour.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—About 3,000,000 bushels of coal were started to southern points today. More would have been shipped had the Ohio river not been on such a rampage, making it unsafe. The Ohio at 10 o'clock tonight registered at the dam twenty-one feet and is rising at the rate of six inches an hour. Both the Allegheny and Monongahela are still rising; the result of heavy rains along their entire length for the last forty-eight hours. River men expect twenty-five feet in the Ohio before a calm begins. The flood marks forty-four feet. While this water will not be reached, every precaution is being taken to prevent loss if it should come.

Many Houses at Dabols Under Water.

DUBOIS, Pa., Nov. 26.—This section of the country experienced one of the worst floods today that has ever occurred in many years. All of the mining plants situated on low ground were compelled to close down this morning and many residences in the lower parts of the town were under six to eight feet of water in the ground floors. The Beaver meadows are covered to a depth of three and four feet for miles around. At Narrows Creek, three miles east of here, on the Low Grade division of the Pennsylvania, the water was so high it washed out about noon, taking up freight traffic and necessitating transfer of all passengers. At Sabula there is danger should the water rise but little more of an immense dam breaking, which would cause vast damage to property and possible loss of life. At Winterburn it was necessary to release some of the water in a large dam by breaking a hole in it with dynamite. The breaking of the dam would have caused dire disaster to the homes of many citizens who live on the lowlands. Bennett's branch of the Sionemahoning river is overflowing its banks from its source to Driftwood. Tonight the weather is cooler and reports say the water is receding slowly.

Beuck has suffered for three weeks with spinal meningitis, due to a fall backwards from a chair a short time ago. In his two years in the university he was a promising high jumper and his physicians believe that this disease was a remote cause of the disease. President Schurman ordered a special service in Sage chapel at 7:30 this evening. Members of the senior class in civil engineering attended in a body.

Broke a Glass Door.

Coveting either the stock of jewelry or Peterson Bros' assortment of chrysanthemums two men attempted to enter the store on the corner of 15th and 16th streets this morning. They were frightened away by the approach of two late-hour pedestrians and ran east through the adjoining alley, leaving a broken glass door in their path. The only evidence left is a ragged hole through the glass in the door, made, it appears, with the toe of a shoe.

ROCK OF CHICKAMAUGA

Work of Establishing National Military Park Progressing Favorably.

BOYNOTON'S COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT

Interesting Details of What Has Been Done Towards Marking with Enduring Monuments Spots of Historic Interest.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—General H. V. Boynton, chairman of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military Park commission, has submitted his annual report to the secretary of war. The report says:

The work of establishing the park and its maintenance has continued uninterrupted during the year ending September 30, 1900. The plan for dividing the lands appropriated by the act of August 1, 1895, into the park and the monument has been approved. It appears from the engineers' report that there now have sixty-seven miles of roads, which cost an average of $2,500 per mile, about four and one-half miles of which were constructed during the last year; that $15,120 has been expended in that time in road construction and betterment.

There are now erected on the Chickamauga monument grounds, in accordance with the plan for dividing the lands appropriated by the act of August 1, 1895, into the park and the monument, four field guns, similarly mounted, marking Confederate battery positions. Of these, three are mounted on the monument grounds, and one on the park grounds. The monument grounds are now being cleared and the monument is being erected. The monument is being erected on the site of the Confederate battery position, and the park is being established on the site of the Union battery position.

The balance on hand October 1, 1899, was $1,000,000. The total amount appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, including a special appropriation of $1,000,000, was $2,000,000. These two other small items, aggregating $1,000,000, were included in the year ending September 30, 1900, for a total of $3,000,000. The total expenditures for the year ending September 30, 1900, were $1,512,000. The total expenditures for the year ending October 1, 1900, were $1,512,000.

General Inspection by Veterans.

Recent Boynton calls attention to the inspection by the veterans of the historical work which has been completed in the park with a view to the correction of such errors as might have been made in inscriptions upon tablets, monuments and location of battle lines.

The results of the inspection, participated in by prominent members of the armies which fought the battle, are being reported to the commissioners from the states whose troops were engaged, were of the most satisfactory character.

Of the 228 monuments, only two were claimed to be out of position. One of these was the claim as to one of these were not aware that after most exhaustive study of the claim the present location of the monument was the correct one.

Of the 680 historical tablets erected at the time of the late war, only one was found to be out of position. The error claimed by the veterans as to the exact hour of the movements to which the text relates.

Of the inscriptions on the 228 monuments, a few errors of wrong initials and a few errors of wrong initials were pointed out and also a few instances where the monuments were not stated with exactness.

All of these claims to error will be carefully investigated and corrections made in every case where necessary. Further inquiry should be made where necessary.

Avoiding and Correcting Errors.

Hereafter inspection blanks will be furnished to the railroads, railroad and electric car stations in the park, park headquarters and at the livey stables in order that all visitors to the park may make full and free reports upon everything that may appear to be erroneous.

In view of the sensational reports current during the occupation of the park by the troops of the Spanish-American war that the park was an unhealthy region, the commission calls special attention to the reports of the engineers and the reports with the last annual report, that the entire absence of fever or any general sickness in the park force has continued from the time it began to clear up the park, after the troops left, to the present time.

Supervising Architect Not Altogether Pleased with Competitive System in His Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The annual report of John Knox Taylor, the supervising architect of the government, shows that one year ago the office had under its control 319 completed public buildings, inclusive of marine hospitals and quarantine stations. During the last year eight completed buildings have been added to the list. During the same period, says the report, the competitive system authorized by the act approved February 20, 1893, has had a practical test in its application to three cases and the results attained have been satisfactory so far as designs and the preparation of working drawings and specifications are concerned, but in the matter of actual construction and superintendence of the works so favorable a statement cannot be made. It is, therefore, suggested with a view to improving the conduct of business under the act referred to, that the department should secure all the advantages contemplated by that legislation and cure the practical defects before mentioned, that the department, if legally warranted, should limit the services supplied by the architects under the competition to the preparation of designs and specifications, full size details and specifications.

FOOD IN NEW YORK.

An Experienced Physician's Work.

Dr. Hyland MacGrath, in experimenting on the result of food on his own body, says: "After eating four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts, a little cream, I had occasion to walk about fourteen miles and was surprised at my feeling of strength and buoyancy. On other occasions, when I have taken careful note of my feelings and sensations, I have discovered that I feel better and am comparatively easy when using Grape-Nuts at each meal."

"Of course I understand that the theory regarding Grape-Nuts is practically perfect. That is, the food contains elements that are well known, and furnished in a concentrated and quite delicious form. It is reasonable to expect results, but the physical demonstration of these results is more satisfactory, always, than the mere statement of theory."

LACEMAKERS CAN COME IN

Treasury Department Holds that Dowie's Immigrants from Nottingham Should be Admitted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Treasury department today decided to admit the lace workers and their families who were brought to this country by Dr. J. A. Dowie, the "divine healer," and the founder of Zion City, Ill., to teach others the art of lace making. This is a reversal of the action of the Philadelphia immigration officials, who had decided that the lacemakers should not be admitted to this country.

Commissioner General Powderly, in his letter to the commissioner of immigration at Philadelphia, directing that the lacemakers be admitted, said:

It appears that it is the purpose of Dr. John A. Dowie, who had arranged with the applicants to come over with the purpose of teaching their services to the lacemakers, not only of lace, but also of the art of lace making. It is the purpose of the lacemakers to import the thread used in such establishments.

The department is of the opinion that said industry is a new one not established in this country, and that the lacemakers are representatives of the Lacemakers' union that labor could have been obtained in this country to produce the lace. It is, therefore, the practice to import the thread used in such establishments.
