Proposed Visit of President of South African Republic Regarded as Sure to Result in Complete Disappointment.

LONDON, Nov. 30 .- Tomorrow the Statist will propose that the government should begin negotiations with Commandant General Botha and General Dewet to bring the war to a close. As the Boer leaders might misunderstand the motive of an overture from the military, it will suggest that the highest civil authority in Capetown should begin the negotiations, if not Sir Alfred Milner, then the chief justice of Cape Colony, or even J. P. Hoffmeyer.

This great financial journal will lead up to its proposal by an analysis of the situation in South Africa and will say:

"We are losing in every way, losing in prestige and losing in life. We are seeing our South African possessions plunged into greater distress and the opinion is gaining ground abroad that we are incapable of bringing the struggle to a satisfactory termination.

Military incompetence will be alleged and the Statist will aver that military barshness should be avoided and the Boers be conciliated.

'If men like Botha and Dewet voluntarily surrender and bind themselves not to act against us in the future," the Statist will say, "is there any good reason why a promise should not be given not to send them out of the country? Mr. J. B. Robinson suggests that Botha and Dewet should be invited to take scats in the legislative council that will be established The suggestion is worthy of approval. The Boers should not be excluded, even from the beginning, from anything which can safely be given them."

The Morning Post hints broadly that the recent demand of Lord Roberts for reinforcements has not been complied with and insists that Lord Kitchener's hands must not be tled by any lack of men or horses. It says:

"If reinforcements are withheld or de layed Lord Kitchener may be paralyzed, is high official authority for the assertion with what consequences to the empire no one can foresee. From 30,000 to 50,000 men are required."

All the editorials dwell with consider able emotion on the nation's debt of gratitude to Lord Roberts, who has "successfully piloted us through one of the dark est hours of our history."

From Capetown come indications of th uneasiness felt. All military posts throughout Cape Colony are being strengthened. Bloemfontein is now prepared for any possible attack. Extra scouts are out and guards watch the streets in the night time. Mines have been laid along the railway. The garrisons on the Orange river drifts are being increased.

At the same time measures are being taken to assist in the restoration of order and prosperity. The Pretoria correspond ent of the Daily Mail announces that "the British are distributing oats and seed potatoes among the surrendered Boer farmers at nominal prices without which the farms would go untilled for another year."

MITCHELL MAIL TESTIMONY Last Witness Leaves the Stand and the Making of Arguments Will -Begin Today.

MITCHELL, S. D., Nov. 30 .- (Special Telegram.)-Teday the defense in the McBride case put their last witness on the stand. At the opening of court this morning the defense did away with reading any more articles from the Mail, as these will be cent to the jury to read in secreey of the jury room. The defense took three witnesses to prove the value of the office destroyed and the estimates ranged from $300 to $350. McBride estimated his material, good will, files, etc., at between $5,000 and $5,000. A large number of the defendants were put on the stand to support the claim that Dr. Warne notified them on the day of destruction that he was the owner of the office and that no clothing or bedding were taken from McBride's private rooms.
