

HOLIDAY SPIRIT IS ABROAD

Society Unbends Its Brow and Indulges in Various Good Times.

EVEN COUNTRY CLUB HAS INHABITED LOOK

Families Are United in Thanksgiving Home-Comings and Many Young People Choose This Time for Wedding Ceremonies.

Social Calendar.

MONDAY—Miss Jeanne Brown's tea for Miss Clark. Peck entertains Daughters of American Revolution. Mrs. Charles Urquhart entertains Bon Ton Club.

TUESDAY—Mrs. J. M. Curry entertains South Side Whist club. Thurston Rifles hop. WEDNESDAY—Miss Mae Hillier entertains for Misses Jacoby and Showman.

Some varied have been the diversions in social circles during the last week that nearly every variety of entertainment has been included. New fads have been introduced and old favorites have been revived.

The Country club, which has been a rather lonely place since the close of the golf season, has figured prominently as a resort for merry-makers.

A fashionable wedding, with all the attendant occasions, cotillions and card parties, luncheons and receptions, have kept society in a perfect whirl of gaiety.

This week promises nearly as much, in fact, the time until the holidays has been planned full of affairs for the smart set, and some have even been scheduled for January.

Some people are always playing in luck. Here is Dick Berlin taking a raffle on a chair at a recent church fair and scooping in the prize, only to find the young woman who sold him the ticket. Uncle Richard is sure to be in greater demand than ever now.

Holzman-Levy. The marriage of Miss Mildred Levy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levy, and Mr. William Holzman of New York City, which occurred at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, 2027 Dodge street, was one of the prettiest home weddings of the year.

The house was splendidly decorated for the occasion, festoons of smilax and asparagus ferns hung from the stairway, white tall palms and stately chrysanthemums dressed the hall and drawing room.

Preceding the bridal party came "Little Dorette Levy scattering roses from the fairy basket she carried. Little Rosalie Schmeucker followed, bearing the wedding ring on a white satin cushion. The groom and his mother came next, followed by the mother and grandfather of the bride. Miss Josephine Levy, maid of honor, preceded the bride and her father.

Her gown was of white embroidered net, over white taffeta, and she carried chrysanthemums. The bride's train was a handsome white satin duchesse with tulle and trimmings of point d'escluse lace. The tulle veil was caught to place by a diamond snuffbox. She carried a shower of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Ralph Holzman, brother of the groom, met the party in the bow window of the drawing room, where, under a canopy of smilax, from which was suspended a ball of white chrysanthemums, Rabbi Simon read the marriage service.

The wedding and supper which followed were witnessed only by relatives and a few friends. Between 7 and 11 o'clock a reception was held, which was attended by about 200 guests.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Holzman, Miss Holzman, Mr. Ralph Holzman, Mrs. David Korne, Mr. Ralph Korne, Mr. Louis Tobias, Mrs. Mark Schmeucker and daughters, Mr. Schmeucker of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Levy of Lincoln and Mr. Askanan of Kansas City.

After a trip through the east, Mr. and Mrs. Holzman will make their home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levy entertained at a formal dinner on Tuesday evening the bridal party of their daughter, Miss Mildred. Pink carnations were used in decoration.

Dr. and Mrs. Conner entertained a party of twenty-six friends at dinner Wednesday evening. The courses were served from small tables with dainty decorations of carnations and roses and tall rose shaded candelsticks.

Mrs. Arthur Brandeis entertained at dinner Thanksgiving evening for the guests of the KNOWS NO DISTINCTION. Rich and Poor Alike Suffer from Catarrh in This Climate. All observant physicians have noticed the enormous increase in catarrhal diseases in recent years and the most liberal and enlightened have cheerfully given their approval to the new internal remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as the most successful and by far the safest remedy for catarrh yet produced.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Levy. Covers were laid for twelve, the decorations being in white and green.

In honor of Miss Mildred Levy and Mr. William Holzman, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cohn gave one of the most elaborate dinners of the season on Monday evening, eighteen guests being present. Garlands of roses hung from the ceiling to the corners of the table and a large heart, constructed of American flags, formed the deep window piece. The same design was carried out in rose colored plate cards and several other ways in the serving of the dinner.

Wedding Anniversary Observed. In honor of the twenty-seventh anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Knox gave a card party to about 125 guests on Monday evening at the North Omaha Hotel. The tables were arranged in the large dining room, the ceiling of which was festooned with ropes of smilax extending from the chandelier to the central column of the room. Large vases of chrysanthemums occupied the deep window ledges and were effectively arranged in other places.

High five was the game. After playing fourteen games, an elaborate supper was served, the number "27" marking the congratulations and toasts. A mandolin orchestra accompanied the evening. The prizes were won by Messames C. L. Bos, J. J. Dinning and Clayton Goodrich, and Messrs. George Cockrell, W. J. Burgess and L. H. Korty.

The party consisted of Misses Ruth Wilson, Olive Utz, Bertha Phillippi, Florence Templeton and Fritchard, Mrs. M. Morris, Estabrook, Slater and Comstock.

The November party of the Winter club held at Metropolitan club Thanksgiving night surpassed in success all of the former parties given by this club. Special arrangements had been made for the party because of its being held on the festive night and a large number of invited guests shared the enjoyment of the occasion. The hall was handsomely decorated for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Pearce and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Foster gave a pretty dancing party to about 200 guests at Metropolitan hall on Friday evening. The hall was beautifully decorated with an effective arrangement of palms and foliage, while the musicians were entirely screened by the bank of foliage on the stage. After dancing a long program refreshments were served downstairs from tables prettily decorated with smilax and roses.

Mrs. Jared J. Smith and Mrs. Charles Mullin gave a reception from 3 to 6 on Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Guy Barton French at the home of Mrs. Smith, 2808 Ames avenue. Symptoms of Kidney Disease.....

We are frequently asked what the symptoms of Kidney disease are. Kidney disease may long exist before it is recognized, it at first having no distinctive symptoms of its own.

If you have any of the above symptoms there is a cure for you—It's Cramer's Kidney and Liver Cure.

Hundreds of Women's Letters. ALBANY, April 6, 1897. I have used Cramer's Kidney and Liver Cure and found it to be the best medicine I ever took; it was weak and could not do my housework. After reading about Cramer's Kidney Cure, I bought a bottle and before I finished it, I felt better than I had in a long time. I certainly think there is no medicine so good for women. It has done so much for me that I advise all women who are not strong to use it. MRS. FRED DEGAN, 239 Central Ave.
