

LINCOLN LOOKS FOR A MAYOR

Begins Early to Speculate on Probable Successor to Winnett.

INCUMBENT LIKELY TO RUN HIMSELF

Has Made No Announcement, but the General Impression is that He Will Be Out with a Strong Following.

LINCOLN, Dec. 2.—(Special).—Republicans in this city are beginning to wonder who will be the next mayor of Lincoln. Dr. H. J. Winnett is now serving his first term as the chief executive officer of the city and although he has not yet declared his intention of becoming a candidate for re-election it is generally believed that he will enter the field with a strong following as soon as the spring campaign opens. A nomination in the next municipal campaign will be equivalent to election and therefore it will be at the primaries. Councilman W. H. Woodward and ex-City Clerk Bowers are being mentioned as probable candidates. The entire situation, however, depends upon whether or not Mayor Winnett will seek re-election. He was elected to his first term by an overwhelming majority and no particular opposition has developed against him for a second term.

Because of the failure of the officials of the two railroads to agree on plans it is believed that work on the proposed joint freight depot at the Missouri Pacific and the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroads will not be started until next spring. It is said that the building will cost upwards of $50,000 and will equal in size the largest freight depot in the city. It will be constructed on a site of about 100,000 square feet at Eighth and G streets. The new building will be a valuable addition to the railroad facilities of the city. The two railroads receive an average of thirty-five cars of freight daily, a third of which is handled through a small shed not over forty-five feet long and half as wide. The expense of building the depot will be borne equally by the two railroads, but the work of construction will be under the supervision of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road.

Governor Poynter departed for Denver this morning, expecting to be gone about one week. He will visit Creighton College before returning to Lincoln. Lieutenant Governor Gilbert will preside in the executive department until Governor Poynter returns.

The Lincoln Young Men's Republican club will meet in the Liedahl hotel Wednesday evening to elect officers and appoint committees. This is the largest and oldest political organization in the city. Pursuant to the order of the district court City Treasurer Aitken has transferred all unexpected money in his hands to the occupation tax ordinance from the police fund to the school fund. The court recently held that this ordinance was unconstitutional and directed the treasurer to return all money collected under the ordinance. The various railroads leading into Lincoln have decided to extend the return limit of tickets purchased by delegates to the State Teachers' association meeting to December 31, or three days after the meeting adjourns. The general assembly will be held on December 28, 27 and 28. The general assembly meetings will be held in the Auditorium.

Charles Gant, the colored man who assaulted Marjell D. Howe during the Grand Army reunion, was arrested Sunday before Judge Frost in the district court and was sentenced to thirty days in jail. Gant narrowly escaped lynching at the time of the assault. A crowd of infuriated citizens gathered about the broken safe, preventing from hanging him by the united efforts of nearly the entire Lincoln police force and a score of colored men who were on guard. The injury inflicted in the assault was serious and for a time Howe was not expected to live.

Prisoners Held for Trial. Two of the five men who were arrested at McCool and have been confined in county jail here for the last month were held for trial in the district court, charged with carrying concealed weapons and burglar tools. These are the parties to a robbery of the Blue River bank at McCool, which occurred about forty days ago. It is believed that they obtained information that the bank had not purchased a new safe, but was using the broken safe, when they made an easy matter to finish cracking the safe. In the box car in which they stayed at McCool were found skeleton keys, and on their persons who were searched were found steel saws used in the lining of their clothing. Burlington Detective Franklin of Lincoln came here four or five days after their arrest and identified them, and thinking that the broken safe was searched thoroughly had them searched again, and to the surprise of Sheriff Lancaster and the jailer one of the prisoners had a large revolver under his arm, held there by a cord tied around neck and shoulder and the other prisoner had a larger revolver on the inside of his pant leg, suspended by a cord tied around his waist.

New Beed Contract. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—The beet raisers of this vicinity are quite satisfied, if not enthusiastic, over the new contract under which they will raise beets next season. The contracts are now in the hands of the agents and are being called for freely. It is expected that there will be from 4,000 to 5,000 acres of beets for the local factory next fall and if this result should obtain there is some promise for the factory in this vicinity which will be enlarged by the addition of the Steffens process. Mr. Robert Oxnard, not long since, stated that such an addition would be made if the cultivation of beets in the vicinity would be such as to promise a profitable and uninterrupted operation of the factory in the successive seasons.

"Cuban Trick" at Grand Island. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—As a result of a meeting of the physicians of the city in conjunction with the Board of Health the physicians visited the Occidental hotel, a 41-a-day house in this city, and examined the cases of what is commonly termed an itch. The physicians, or rather ten of them, over their signatures reported to the mayor "that we find the

AFTER LOAVES AND FISHES

Republicans of South Dakota Move on the Pie Counter in Mass.

CANDIDATES FOR APPOINTIVE POSITIONS

Some of the Prominent Men Who Are Looking for Places Now Held by the Cohorts of Populism.

SIOUX FALLS, Dec. 2.—(Special).—A number of additional candidates for state and legislative positions have, during the past two weeks, applied for places now held by the cohorts of Populism.

The avowed candidates are those who are mentioned for the place are: Albert G. Somers of Grant county, who is speaker of the last house; A. W. Wilmar of Lead, H. P. Packard of Spink, W. E. Benedict of Custer and Titus Price of Yankton.

In the case of H. P. Packard, if he fails to land the speakership plum, he will doubtless strive to secure the chairmanship of the committee on charitable institutions in order to aid in obtaining a good appropriation for the newly-established State Asylum for the Feeble Minded at Redfield, his home town.

Titus Price of Yankton, while he is not an avowed candidate for the speakership, would accept the place did his acceptance not interfere with the candidacy of his townsman, Congressman Robert J. Gamble, for the United States senate. Rather than interfere in the slightest degree with Mr. Gamble's candidacy Mr. Price will refuse to permit his name to be brought forward when the speakership contest comes up for settlement.

W. E. Benedict of Custer is in much the same position. The Black Hills republicans were pleased at obtaining a congressman at the recent election and do not feel like antagonizing the plans of the republicans in eastern South Dakota. Mr. Benedict, when seen in reference to his candidacy for the speakership, stated that the mention of his name in this connection was very complimentary and greatly appreciated and that if such a consummation would not be inimical to the protection of the interests of the Black Hills and the candidacy should be approved by the members from that part of the state he would not decline to be a candidate.

However, no suggestion of personal promotion would be considered if it would operate to limit his opportunity to work for the interests of the entire Black Hills. Mr. Benedict served two years ago in the senate from Custer and Fall River counties. It has always been customary for the senatorial nomination between the two counties. This year it was Fall River's turn for the senatorship, so Mr. Benedict stepped down and ran in his own county for the lower house.

The first to announce himself in the race is between J. W. Cone of Minnehaha county and Willis C. Bower of Lawrence. This is one of the most interesting contests now in progress. For several terms Mr. Cone filled the position with credit to himself and to the credit of the republicans of the state. He is a man of high character and also made a good record for competency and faithful attention to the duties of the position. Mr. Cone's candidacy will be materially aided by the fact that the seven republicans elected to the legislature from Minnehaha county, as the result of a meeting just held, endorsed Mr. Cone's candidacy.

Secretary of the Senate. For the secretaryship of the state senate Doane Robinson of Minnehaha and John H. Scribner of Davison are the chief competitors. Both are men of high character and also made a good record for competency and faithful attention to the duties of the position. Mr. Scribner's candidacy will be materially aided by the fact that the seven republicans elected to the legislature from Minnehaha county, as the result of a meeting just held, endorsed Mr. Scribner's candidacy.

For the secretaryship of the state senate Doane Robinson of Minnehaha and John H. Scribner of Davison are the chief competitors. Both are men of high character and also made a good record for competency and faithful attention to the duties of the position. Mr. Scribner's candidacy will be materially aided by the fact that the seven republicans elected to the legislature from Minnehaha county, as the result of a meeting just held, endorsed Mr. Scribner's candidacy.

Four Want This Job. Four candidates have announced themselves for the position of state insurance commissioner. They are: H. E. Cutting of Hughes county, H. C. Shober of Ham N. B. Reed of Sanborn and Prof. C. B. Holmes of Minnehaha. The first named has for years been prominent in Hughes county political circles. Mr. Shober is the editor of the Highland and has been state county auditor of Hand county. He is influential in that part of the state.

Mr. Reed is the editor of the Woonsocket Herald and has done valiant work for the cause of republicanism in that region. Prof. Holmes is well known in his part of the state. In addition to being mentioned in connection with the state insurance commission, his name has also been put forward for a United States consularship at some point in Germany. He is a graduate of Harvard, is a linguist of distinction and would make an excellent consul should he fail to secure the office of insurance commissioner and care to strive for a consularship. The Republican Editorial association of the state may decide to endorse one of the candidates for insurance commissioner.

Judge S. J. Conklin of Clark county, who has been active in working for the republican cause in every campaign since he came to Dakota in 1876, and who has been asked for an office at the hands of his party, is a candidate for appointment as adjutant general of South Dakota. He is said to have a large number of very strong endorsements for the position. P. H. Detzer of Mitchell county is making a canvass of the republican membership of the legislature in behalf of his candidacy for the position of sergeant-at-arms of the house.

For commandant of the South Dakota Soldiers' Home at Hot Springs there are three active candidates in the field. They are: Colonel C. A. B. Fox of Minnehaha county, General George A. Ludlow of Bon Homme and C. J. Jackson of Roberts. All have good records both as citizens and as soldiers, and as each will secure strong support from the old veterans of the state it would be a difficult matter to pick the winner at this time.

Ensl Brauch of Turner county, who was

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Grants Admits That He is About to Roll His Hidden Fortune.

COLORADO PEOPLE PUSHING PROMOTION

New Companies Are Hurrying Along the Development of Their Properties and Greatly Enhance the General Activity.

LEAD, S. D., Dec. 2.—(Special).—Otto P. Th. Grant, the owner of the great and hidden Fortune mine, north of this city one mile, has returned home from Denver, where he went last week with two carloads of rich ore. He states that his mine has been banded to a Chicago mining expert and that a deal for the entire North Lead hill, taking in several well known gold mines, has practically been made. Four years ago John Pierce of Sioux City, Ia., had 200 acres of mining ground banded in this same district which the nearly place with the consolidated banks of London. Since that time very rich strikes of gold ore have been made on several mining claims on ground held in the Pierce bond and now embraced in the bond held by the Chicago expert. It is estimated that Grant has cleaned up $250,000 in the past twelve months from his hidden Fortune mine, some of the ore running as high as $60.00 per ton gold.

Wolfrumite, a very valuable mineral also discovered at the mine, has been found in the bond held by the Chicago expert. It is estimated that Grant has cleaned up $250,000 in the past twelve months from his hidden Fortune mine, some of the ore running as high as $60.00 per ton gold. Wolfrumite, a very valuable mineral also discovered at the mine, has been found in the bond held by the Chicago expert.

Grant confirms the report that a big mining deal has been made in the Little Blaine mining district, east of this city nine miles. Three Frenchmen with titles have visited the Dakota Maid mine on several occasions and Grants states that a deal has been struck for the purchase of the mine. The foreigners will put $400,000 into the property in the way of ore reduction plants and hoists. The French promoters also state that they intend to float the organization second to none in the Black Hills will be the result. A contract has already been let at the mine to do certain preliminary work in opening up the great ore body.

Colorado Companies Are Active. The prospective work of the Belt Extension company of Colorado Springs, Colo., in the shaft south of this city on the Homestead ore lode, the bonding of the ground north of this city and the Dakota Maid mine, has set things alive in a mining way in the Black Hills.

Plans are now made for the new Grand Island mine to be erected in the lower part of Deadwood by the Imperial Mining company. The plant will contain both the cyanide and chlorinating processes and will have a capacity of about 100 tons of ore per day. The company was recently organized by W. S. Elder of this city, who owned the American Express group of claims in the Blackhill district west of this city. The plant and mine will give employment to about 100 men. Pennsylvania capitalists have become interested in the Spearfish Mining company of Colorado Springs has made final payment on the Hermitage group of claims, which is one of the several groups purchased in the Ragged Top district, twelve miles west of this city. The company now has a lease on about 340 acres of mining ground and a 200-ton cyanide plant is nearly completed.

Five Colorado Springs mining men are officers of the company. It is estimated that there is a solid blanket of ore 600 feet wide and 1,000 feet thick over the ground purchased, which will run from $10 to $200 per ton of gold. The cyanide process is especially adapted to the ore. Moose Kaufman of Sioux Falls has been in Deadwood looking after the East End group of claims. The company has recently purchased the ground in the Lost Camp gulch near Galena. The claims will be patented.

The Titanic Mining company has commenced sinking on their shaft to reach quartzite. The company has patented 715 acres of ground in the heart of the Carbonate district. It is reported that a new strike of coal has been made on ground belonging to the estate of the late Fred M. Barrett, located in the Hay Creek district. The coal is superior quality and the ledge is thick and has a good roof. A mine will be opened. It is known that a big sale is contemplated in the Blackhill district, the mine being the Deadwood mine owned by H. M. Cheney of this city. Colorado capitalists have been negotiating for the property for several weeks. There is a ledge of cement free milling ore over 200 feet wide and forty feet thick that will average $10 per ton gold. The mine is now being worked in ore being run through stamps and then immersed in a cyanide solution. It is stated that the deal will call for about $150,000.

Good Copper Proposition. Friends of copper mining in the Black Hills are pleased over the discovery of the large vein of copper ore found by the Copper Butte Mining company, which is operating on Spring creek, in Custer county. The company ran a trench 100 feet across the vein and found the ore in place all that distance. A shaft will be sunk immediately into the vein. The company is offered by prominent capitalists of New York, Chicago and the Twin Cities. The officers of the Black Hills Copper company, who visited that company's copper mine west of Rochford, took with them to Chicago on their way home to Benton Harbor, Mich., three samples of ore with which they had assayed. They got assays from 13.1 to 21.5 per cent copper. The company is sinking a deep shaft on a ledge of copper and gold ore. At the Blue Lead copper mine, which is being developed by the Maloney Blue Lead Copper company, copper ore is being mined at the top of the main ledge and work is still going on at the long tunnel, which is to tap the main copper ledge at the water level. The Victorian Mining company has started up work again on the Gold Coin mine near Custer, which is a copper proposition.

What Shall We Have for Dessert? This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it to-day. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! no baking! add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. 10 cts.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

Secret of Its Foliage Changing Color When Rain Falls

"Among the many wonders of those strange swamps there is nothing more surprising than the blushing tree," said Albert P. Dewey of Punta Gorda, Fla., who has recently passed a month in the Everglades of Florida, to a Denver Post man.

"The blushing tree," continued Mr. Dewey, "is by no means common. It is found only in the densest thickets of those interminable marshes, whose luxuriant vegetation is a revelation to explorers. It is called the blushing tree by those who know it because it actually blushes when the rain falls upon it. This phenomenon is apparently incomprehensible. It never fails to astound those who see it for the first time. The mysterious and beautiful glow of color which it assumes in a rain-storm is a beautiful phenomenon. The Seminole Indians, who once ruled Florida, have always known of the tree, and in their mystical language, now fast disappearing, have words which mean 'the maiden tree which reddens at the coming of her lover, the rain.'

"I accompanied a tourist Indian guide I journeyed forty miles to see this marvelous bit of vegetable life. I could scarcely believe the story he told me, yet curiously at length overcame incredulity and went forth one morning in a small canoe. We started early in the morning and poling our way over the winding waters in the afternoon of the third day I began to wonder if he had only been deceiving me for the sake of the boat hire and the tip which he had asked me to float the boat. I was not long in coming to a realization of the truth. The tree was indeed real. I followed him ashore and through the underbrush. Beneath great cypress trees, hazy with gray hanging moss, and past immense bay trees we wended our way until we reached the edge of a little open space he stopped and with silent pride pointed toward the center. Gracefully a tree, with broad banana-like leaves, reared itself aloft. Its spreading branches hung down, slightly drooping, and the green leaves were the emerald hue which was the most beautiful I had ever beheld. It rose to a height of twenty feet and its thick, substantial trunk indicated many years of existence. This, the Seminole informed me, was 'the blushing tree.'

"I told him to prepare to camp here until it rained, regardless of time. We unrolled our blankets, stretched our mosquito bars, without which one cannot sleep in the warm tropics, and lay down on our blankets for the night. That night, our blankets and the next night passed without rain. "I began to think it would never rain, when about noon a cloud darkened the sky and a shower of rain fell on our heads. My shoulders and fixed my eyes on the green and pretty tree a dozen yards away. It was covered with a greenish insect the size of a large woodtick, which intensified its color. The insect was not a tick, but a beetle, a custom in that region. Beside me, grinning confidently with a pipe in his mouth, stood the Seminole. "As the cool water drenched the tree I was amazed to note a changing of color. The emerald green of the leaves turned to a wonderful red. The tree was blushing at the rain. "In a few minutes the green had faded from sight. Only in a few half-hidden spots was the green to be seen. The tree was still a shade of green to be seen. The tree was as pink as the cheek of a healthy girl. "After an hour or more the shower passed over and the sun shone with no less interest in the wonderful tree. I assume its familiar green once more. As it was changing back to emerald I suddenly realized the secret of the phenomenon. The tiny insects and not the tree itself changed color. Those that were on the tree were the greenest. The power of chameleons. In the bright warm sunshine they are green as the tree on which they live, but when the chilly rain falls upon them they contract their little backs and become red. The color of the tree. They are found only upon one species of trees, which grow in certain parts of the Everglades."

BLASTING THE PALISADES. Within a Year the Rate of Destruction Has Increased Fourfold. All Americans with a taste for the wonders of the world are interested in the work of the Palisades in the Hudson, regarding them as a national possession, like Niagara Falls, the Mammoth Cave, the Natural Bridge and the great objects of interest in the far west. The destruction of the Palisades, however, which within a year the rate of destruction has increased fourfold; that of destruction using powder, as formerly, the blasters now use large charges of dynamite with tremendous results. The commission has done absolutely nothing so far, the members explaining that they have had no time to devote to the business. Already the Palisades have been robbed of much of their beauty, and it will require but a few years at the present rate of destruction to make their ruin complete.

It has been a great mistake in America not to reserve to the public the banks of all rivers and lakes. There are many cities in which the right of private ownership has marred the beauty of the river. In the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

Don't You Think It's Your Move?

Just look around your office! Are your windows clean? Is the gas light dim? Do you come up in a dinkey, crowded little elevator that doesn't run nights or Sundays, and is run by a fresh elevator boy who jars your breakfast every time you ride? If so your office is not in ..The Bee Building..

But it ought to be. There is no janitor service like theirs. You have electric light, steam heat and perfect elevator service. There are no undesirable offices in the building. We'll take pleasure in showing you them.

R. G. PETERS & CO., Rental Agents

Ground Floor, Bee Building.

Memorial Services.

TABLE ROCK, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—Memorial exercises were held here this morning in the Presbyterian church in memory of Mrs. Christina Baker-Taylor and Miss Minnie Baker, who met with such a tragic death by drowning in Alaskan waters on November 9.

The exercises were conducted by Rev. J. E. McAfee, pastor of the church. Mrs. McAfee was a classmate of the late Mrs. Taylor and graduated in the same class. The exercises were very impressive.

License Heats Telegram. PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—County Judge J. E. Douglas issued a marriage license yesterday to Hugh Anderson and Miss Agnes Keyser. Later in the day he received a message from H. Keyser of Weeping Water requesting him to refuse to issue a marriage license to the parties named above.

Albert Fickler and Miss Adah Draper, two prominent young Cass county people, were announced in marriage in St. John's Catholic church yesterday by Rev. Father Nugent.

Former Names Clerk. SUPERIOR, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—Dr. Folmer, land commissioner-elect, has appointed as one of the clerks in his office at Lincoln F. A. Hollingsworth, editor of the Oak News.

$1,000 Worth of Good. A. H. Thurness of Willis Creek Coal Co., Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. Other medicine only gave relief. After taking Foley's Kidney Cure the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust, like fine stones, etc., and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. Foley's Kidney Cure has done me $1,000 worth of good." Take no substitute. Myers-Dillon Drug Co., Omaha; Dillion's drug store, South Omaha.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES. Albert Chase, one of two brothers from Ellkhorn, died yesterday morning at the School for the Deaf of meningitis. He was 76 years of age and had been sick several weeks. His mother was with him during his sickness. The body was taken to his home at Ellkhorn.

Charles Brown, Harry Howard and C. H. Coles were arrested Sunday by Detectives Johnson, Herford, Savage and Dunn and locked up, charged with the burglary November 24 of Mike's complete station in Council Bluffs. Among the plunder secured were two gold watches, both of which have been found in an Omaha pawnshop.

Do you need a hired girl? A Bee want ad will bring you one.

Reveries of Ing Chasers. TEGUMEN, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—Johnson county farmers are suffering more extensively and more generally from the ravages of hog cholera at the present time than at any other time perhaps in the history of the county. Among the victims are Dr. A. Galsler, pure-bred Poles and Chinas, forty head; D. S. Warner, pure-bred Poles, forty-five head; Jacob Finzer, eighty head; Jacob Zimmast, fifty head; George Farries, seventy head, and lesser numbers among other breeders.

Grand Island's Population. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Dec. 2.—(Special).—Some exception is being made to a statement appearing in the Bee in connection with the comment on the census figures. This city was classed with others of its size in the state which admittedly padded the returns of 1890. Grand Island in that census returned only 7,574. It is Here's Where We Shine— At $2.00 Drexel L. Shoeman sells a heavy three-sole mechanics' shoe—made with plump kip uppers and wide round toes—that give great comfort to the feet—and at the same time have style with them—usually $2.00 shoes are great, clumsy affairs—regular brogans—not so with these—they are made with as much style as the higher priced shoes—We guarantee every pair of these shoes to outwear two pairs of soles—You've never seen a shoe that could show half the value for $2.00.

New Catalogue Ready—Sent Free for the Asking. Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House, 1410 FARNAM STREET.

The Self Playing "Apollo"—The latest and best in piano attachments is SELLING AT SIGHT. WHY? Because it is so vastly superior in every way to any of its competitors—it requires just one-half the expenditure of physical force to run it—Come in to our piano rooms when passing and try it yourself—you will be delighted at once.—Owing to the enormous number being produced it sells cheaper than any other.

What Shall We Have for Dessert? This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it to-day. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! no baking! add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers to-day. 10 cts.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay for the property than to have this famous wall of solid rock blown to pieces.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Allen R. Julian, Jr. of Evanston, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. Julian, who is in the city to attend to the sale of the property to the railroads and the laying of tracks along water fronts which should belong to the people. Long ago the state of New Jersey should have condemned the site of the Palisades for park purposes. As it is New York can much better afford to pay