

BULL FEELING CONTINUES

Wall Street Still Under Influence of the Army of Optimists.

RISE IN PRICE OF SHARES GOES FORWARD

Small Selling for Profits Does Not Check the Movement Which is Carried on with Confidence.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Henry Clegg, head of the banking house of Henry Clegg & Co., writes of the situation in Wall Street.

The stock market appears to have reached the first stage of the great reaction since the late summer. It has been a steady decline, and the figures about equal to the highest touched within the last two years, and the large volume has been maintained during the period of three weeks.

Viewed as an experiment, this reaction movement has been successful. Those who were doubtful of the continuance of the advance have been proved wrong. Those who had hoped to shake prices and get in again at lower figures have found their hopes dashed.

Who is Behind It? It is not fully realized to what an extent the present movement is due to the reaction of the market.

It is not fully realized to what an extent the present movement is due to the reaction of the market. The extent to which rich men and great financial institutions have put their money in a position to face the future results of the election of Bryan has not been generally appreciated.

At This Point a Large and Indignant woman broke into the conversation. Why, you inquiring fellow, the exclamation was, "Don't you suppose I'm worth as much as he is every day in the week? Do you think I'm a trunk or a baby to be bundled in for half price? Well, I guess not."

Honest Young Man. Chicago Post: "I will not deceive you, sir," replied the honest young man. "I think they are reasonably good."

From Reichbank officials it is ascertained that the bank now looks forward to entering upon the new year with the assistance of 10,000,000 marks.

"Considerable interest has been created by the beginning of prosecution of Mayor Kelly for bribery and official corruption. If all of the threatened rumors are made good, some interesting and sensational revolutions may be looked for.

Members of the local labor unions mean business in regard to the erection of a temple to be used by the labor organization alone. With this end in view a permanent committee was appointed a week or so ago.

The king asked: "And what was one of the great kings of the world?" The child tried to think, blushed, burst into tears, and replied: "I don't know of any."

The anecdote is characteristic of the man whose personality alone has held the dual monarchy together.

Gold and rough currencies are numerous, but the one that leads all others in merit is the one that is used by the labor organization.
