chief change in his appearance being in the growth of a full beard, cropped close. He recalled vividly his own senatorial struggle thirty years ago and remarked that as a witness of every fight for the senatorship since Nebraska was admitted into the union nothing particularly new could present itself.

HOUSE WANTS FULL RECORDS

Votes to Have the Daily Journal of its Proceedings Duplicated for Each Member.

LINCOLN, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—After a protracted session of the representatives, aided by enough republicans to constitute a majority, this morning voted to have every member of the house supplied with a daily copy of the record of house proceedings. The duplicate reports will be made by the mimeograph process examined by the chief clerk; they will contain his signature and all essential points will be similar to the official document. By the action this morning the cost of producing the duplicates is limited to $200.

Various propositions relating to the preparation of the record proceedings have been before the house since the opening hours in the debates the fusion members favored only those that provided for the greatest expense, while the republican members invariably favored measures framed on an economical basis. The discussion arose from a motion introduced on the opening day by Armstrong, republican of Nebraska, which provided for the appointment of an additional assistant clerk to prepare daily record of house proceedings for the printer. It was urged that the employment of such an assistant would make it unnecessary for the house to appropriate $1,000 or more at the end of the session for the chief clerk to complete a record. Several fusion members thought a duplicate copy should be prepared for each representative and a debate at once ensued. The whole matter was referred to a special committee, but its report was not satisfactory, and it was then referred to the standing committee on printing.

Committee Reports and Debates. Immediately after roll call this morning, Lowe of Harlan submitted the committee's majority report, which recommended the preparation of five duplicate reports—one for the secretary of state, one for the printer and three for the inspection of members. The committee also presented a minority report recommending the preparation of one copy for each member, and limiting the cost to $200.

Taylor of Custer, fusion, spoke at length in favor of the adoption of the minority report, saying that a permanent retention of the record by each member would be a safeguard against "errors or irregularities that might creep in."

"Gentlemen on this floor are making a great kick," said he, "against an appropriation of $500 for merely preserving the record of our proceedings; I want to say that before this session is over you will see those same men working like beavers for appropriations of hundreds of thousands of dollars for more important things. I see that the last record of the house proceedings was mutilated, and we want to guard against the thing being done again. In the bill fixing the salaries of clerks of the district court, one entire page was actually taken from the record."

"If a man's going to steal anything, does it make any difference to him where, when or how he does it?" asked Mr. Armstrong, and for a minute Mr. Taylor paused.

"Well, that's possible," he admitted, and after making a few further remarks, sat down.

Mockett of Lancaster moved the adoption of the majority report. On roll call the republicans, with the exception of Wenzel of Pawnee and Whitmore of Hamilton, voted aye and the fusionists and the two republican members of the minority falling to carry by a vote of 49 to 45.

Lane of Laheaster asked for a call of the house, but the speaker did not recognize the necessary five representatives as endorsing the request and the call was not ordered. The question then came on the adoption of the minority report. A standing vote was taken, resulting in the adoption of the minority report by a vote of 50 to 41.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES ORDERED.

On motion of Wilkinson of Cass, the speaker was instructed to appoint a committee of three, to select a like committee appointed by the senate, to arrange for printing the governor's message. The speaker was also authorized to appoint a committee of three to draft a resolution expressing regret at the death of Carl Mor-ton.

The remainder of the morning session was devoted to the first reading of bills, which, with the second reading of bills, was again the order of business at the afternoon session. Just before adjournment the house accepted an invitation to attend the exhibit of the Nebraska Art association at the University of Nebraska.

Engrossed copies of the bills appropriating money for the expenses of the legislature were read the second time in the house of representatives today, and under the rules were made a special order of business.

HAPPY WOMEN

Plenty of Them in Omaha and They Have Good Reason for It. "Wouldn't any woman be happy After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distressing troubles, She finds relief and cure? No reason why any Omaha reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this: Mrs. Mabel Tosoney, No. 505 North Twelfth street, says "My back troubled me so severely that I could hardly stand it. I have been at times so bad that I could scarcely move, and to stoop was an utter impossibility. To add to my misery, trouble with the kidney secretions existed and I was constantly trying something to cure me, but a cure never came. My husband got Doan's Kidney Pills for me at Kuhn & Co's drug store, corner Fifteenth and Douglas streets, and after taking them for a more to my surprise and considerably to the surprise of my friends, the troubling troubles disappeared. Send anyone in Omaha to me if they want a personal recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills."

business for tomorrow, when they will be taken up for final consideration.

At 4 o'clock the house adjourned to 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Bills on First Reading.

The following bills were introduced and read the first time in the house of representatives today: H.
