Liberal Receipts and Discouraging Cables Impose on Wheat's Weakness.

WEATHER CUTS A FIGURE IN CORN

Data Market Narrow and Devoid of Speculative Interest - Provisions Has Day of Ups and Downs, but Close Stendy.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.-Wheat was weak today and declined on weak cables and the neavy movement, May closing 1/2 1/4c lower Corn and oats closed to down and pro-visions 25/25c to 75c higher.

May wheat opened 3se lower at 77567714c under the discouragement of weak Liverpool cables and liberal northwest receipts sagged to 76%c. On the theory that a reaction was about due there was some buying on the decilne and prices slowly climbed over the 77c mark and later, moved thereto by a decrease of 35.000 bushels in the world's supply, touched 77% 077% or The heavy primary receipts—35,000 bushels, compared with 354,000 bushels a year ago and lack of outside support caused a reaction and the close was weak, May 1500% down at 77c. New York reported 15 loads taken for export. Scaboard clearances in wheat and flour were equal to 210.0 0 bushels, Local receipts were 108 cars, 2 of contract grade Minneafolis and Duluth re-ported 338 acrs, against 373 last week and bushess. Local receipts were and contract grades. Minneafolis and Dulut's reported 326 acrs, against 573 last week and 195 a year ago.

Corn was dull, but fairly steady, although the crowd kept a close eye on wheat and ran at small losses. Uncertainty over the weather, which at present is not favorable to the movement, had a steadying effect, although it was reported that country holders were preparing to rush large quantities to market, the car supply having become more nearly adequate. The grade of corn being received shows no improvement. Of today's receipts, 550 cars, but I car was graded contract. May sold between 385c and 384c, and closed is lower at 285c. There was a narrow market for oats and the trade was bare of features in a spenial thands continued liberal, but destrain grades were hard to get. Receipts were 472 cars. May sold between 50 and 218c and closed is lower at 248c.

Providens were quiet and steady. The opening was higher in sympathy with higher prices at the stock yards. This was followed by a buige on the good cash demand. Prices reacted from the top on realizing by scalbers, but the close was steady. May pork sold between 34.55 and 31.275, and closed 25c higher at 31.175, and stated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 55 Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 56 Estimated receipts tomorrow:

The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram says: The markets here were moderately active and generally cheerful today. The market is expecting American gold shipments and also views the Cape situation more favorably. Americans opened heavy and idle, but soon rallied on the purchase of large blocks of Eries on rumors attributed to the Morgans. Later New York seemed disposed to be weak all around, the demand for Eries continued and the belief was expressed that Erie firsts would soon pay dividends, thus facilitating putting forth the collateral bonds for payment of the Pennsylvania company. The bank lost £50,000 gold to India. Berlin cheque was weaker at 20.46.

Prominent Steel Magnate's Projects

Sets Stocks All A-Flutter.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—There was a very confusing sentiment on the stock market today. The steel stocks proved the sensations were convincing evidence of the dissected frame of mind among the steel interiors. There was some early weakness in the group in spite of an opening rise of $354 in National Tube and of 2 points in Timplate but the whole group became strong laster and rose on an average between 1 and 2 points over last night. For some inscrutisable reason the decharation of an 8 per cent. LONDON. Jan. 15.—WOOL—The first series of the 1901 wool auction sales opened today. There was a large attendance and competition was brisk. New York Dry Goods Market. New York Bry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The general market conditions are without change. There is more business doing than a week ago, maintaining the improvement noted yesterday, but the market is still quiet. Shipments of heavy brown goods to China out of previous purchases considerable. No change in prices noted in any direction, either staples or fancy cotton goods. Print cloths inactive.

MANCHESTER, Jan. 15.—Buyers asking concessions. Yarns dull. Last of the Modocs.

Another good Indian has been made by the death of a Modoc brave, and now the bucks of the tribe have been reduced to the fatal thirteen in number. Thus have dwindled the fighters of the most warlike tribe of men that ever arrayed themselves against an enemy. They have been the Ishmachites of the Pacific slope, and therefore they were called "Modocs" by the other tribes, for "modoc" means "enemy."

The entire tribe has dwindled to seventy-seven members, all wretched beings, with no thirst for war, but an ambittenless, indoent and dull set of beings that have cast aside every virtue that they ever possessed and have taken on every vice that civilization has affected. This remnent, mostly women and diseased children, that has dwindled from a fighting power worthy of United States opposition to the very verge of extinction, is now quartered on a small reservation in the Quapaw country. small reservation in the Quapaw country.

These last of the Modocs are prisoners of war, held by the government, but allowed great freedom, for they are not likely to wander from the supplies they are provided with, for if they should they would starve to death.

Only one among them shows Only one among them shows any of the spirit that once actuated the tribe. He is Sam Boll, about 100 years old, and he is willing to take the warpath again.
