Every Effort Being Made to Hurl the Consideration of the Document That It May Be Forwarded to Congress at Washington.

HAVANA, Jan. 24.—The Cuban constitutional convention began the draft of the constitution recently submitted by the central committee. It was decided to accept the draft as a whole and then to discuss it article by article.

Senor Cisneros moved to strike out a clause in the preamble invoking the favor of God. He said he had not religion himself and took no exception to the religious beliefs of others, but that the constitution recognized no religion and that in his opinion there was no reason for invoking the deity.

Senor Maria supported Senor Cisneros. General Sangui said: "If I do not invoke God, whom do I invoke? An invocation of some kind is customary."

Senor Lorente strenuously opposed the motion of Senor Cisneros, declaring that all constitutions contained such a clause. The convention rejected the proposal of Senor Cisneros.

The first two articles, constituting the republic and describing the territory of Cuba, were adopted without discussion. Senor de Castro moved to amend the article calling for the division of Cuban territory into provinces in such a way that there would be seven provinces instead of six, his suggestion being that Santiago should be divided in two. The motion was defeated and then the entire article was rejected, but the adherents of the provincial form of government claimed that the latter vote was based upon a misunderstanding of the question before the assembly and a motion to reconsider was passed just before adjournment.

A large majority of the delegates favors the provincial form and this will undoubtedly be approved tomorrow. Interest is keen in pushing the constitution to a completion before the adjournment of the United States congress and it is probable that night sessions will be held next week.

CUBANS HAVE THEIR REVENGE

Great Cane Fields of Spanish Sympathizer Blackened by Incendiary Fire.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Jan. 24.—Fifteen hundred acres of sugarcane burned yesterday as the result of political friction, on Joseph Rigney's plantation, Colibahaca, near Manzanillo, the richest plantation in the island.

During the war at the Cuban insurgents against Spain Mr. Rigney refused to pay tribute to the Cubans. For two years he supported a Spanish garrison, but ultimately the Cubans destroyed the property with the exception of the mill, valued at $100,000.

This year the plantation was equipped to produce sugar. Mr. Rigney's loss is about $100,000, but it will not seriously cripple the business. A considerable quantity of cane from the fields is still valuable and can be used unless rain falls in a few days. Mr. Rigney's daughter, Lillian, was recently married to Lieutenant Whitehead, son of General Whitehead.

The plantations at Guantanamo have lost heavily during the week from similar fire. Burning cane is a popular method of getting revenge among the Cubans.

FILIPINOS ASK FOR A DELAY

Island Real Estate Owners Wish to Be Partially Exempt from Taxation Two Years.

MANILA, Jan. 24.—The hearing on the municipal government bill today developed an attempt on the part of prominent Filipinos to secure a delay of two years before taxing land where the owners are unable to make an account of the dangerous situation in the fighting territory. The bill originally deferred taxation for one year.

The commissioners adopted an amendment providing that land owners who are not implicated in the insurrection after March 31, 1901, shall be exempt from taxation for two years. The unincorporated territory working out a plan of taxation for the second year.

The situation in the island of Samar since the capture of Zamboanga has been quiet. Lubnan's forces are hiding in the mountains. Captures, arrests and seizures of arms continue in the unoccupied districts of the island of Luzon.

The police are at work on both cases.

Lincoln, Jan. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—The feature of today's senatorial ballot was the gain shown by Meiklejohn, which sent his column up to 31, only four behind that of Thompson, which total at 26. Meiklejohn made this showing only by exerting his utmost pressure to bring in those on his reserve list and in his score are to be counted most of those known as the handwaggon men, who have been with the leaders at every stage of the game. The gain of Meiklejohn came from McCarthy of Dixon, who had been previously voting for John R. Hays, from Sandall of York, who had voted for him at the start, and from Johnson of Phelps, who has been voting for Rosewater. Except for the transfer of Johnson, the Rosewater strength stood unchanged. The continued absence of Haidinger leaves Mr. Rosewater short one vote that belongs to him, while the absence of Andrews and Marshall sent one vote away from Thompson, Crouse, Hiltshaw and Currie.

The attempt to hold a caucus tonight under the 48th session nomination call is a complete failure, and it is not so light that the meeting was declared off by general consent. It is the prevailing impression that the effort to secure a caucus under the nomination call will have to be abandoned.

Another caucus call was put in circulation tonight calling for an attendance of sixty-seven members with a vote of fifty to rule.
