MARSHAL MAKES A REQUEST

Bennett Wires Attorney General for Authority to Use $800.

INDIAN TROUBLE AN UNUSUAL DIFFICULTY

Reports that There is Actual Resistance of Federal Authority and that He Seeks the Money with Which to Enforce It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The attorney general has received the following telegram dated Muskogee, I. T., January 25, and signed by Bennett, United States marshal:

"Respectfully and earnestly request authority to expend not exceeding $800 operating under section 846 to meet unusual difficulty attending execution of process; actual defiance of federal authority and disturbance of extraordinary character."

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 25.—A special to the Star from Muskogee, I. T., says: The Creek uprising continues dangerous, troops having as yet failed to arrive. United States Marshal Bennett has captured the 17-year-old son of Chief Snake and has notified the father that the boy would be held as a hostage in the Indian surrender. The Indians have so far refused to surrender and today are holding two councils, one near Bristow and one at Rush Hill, I. T. A dispatch from Bristow this morning states that the threatened attack on that town had not yet begun, but that the citizens were continuing to arm themselves and prepare for an emergency. Marshal Bennett expresses fear of bloodshed if the troops ordered from Fort Reno do not arrive soon. They were expected this morning.

Marshal Bennett returned from Eufaula this morning after a visit with five deputies to the home of Chief Snake. When he first entered Snake's home there were but three people there. In less than twenty minutes time fifty light horsemen, Indians of Snake's band, gathered. They were all heavily armed, but offered no bodily harm to the officers. The Indians had been picketed roundabout evidently to protect their chief or to give warning of an attack. Snake was not to be found and Bennett left word for him to come to Muskogee or Eufaula for a conference.

A special from Eufaula, I. T., says: Disaffected bands are assembling in large numbers at Eufaula Square, seven miles west of Eufaula today. The insurrectionary chief and Crazy Snake are there. Enlistees of Choctaw insurrectionists are also present. The troops enroute from Fort Reno are probably at Henrietta and will likely reach Eufaula by night. It is believed they will immediately attempt to corral Snake and his followers.

The authority asked for was granted. Immediate Action Necessary.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25.—A. B. Donaldson of Newbo, Mo., who has mining interests in South McAlester, I. T., and who arrived here today direct from the seat of the threatened Indian troubles in stopping at the Planters hotel. He said to a representative of the Dispatch:

"The government does not act promptly and send a large body of troops to the disaffected nations within the next twenty-four hours there will certainly be trouble with probably much loss of life and property."

An immediate show of force is absolutely necessary to awe the spirit of rebellion that is rampant. Hesitation will be interpreted by the hostile tribes to mean fear and they will proceed to make war on all civilization that is accessible to them. The nations that are threatening trouble are the Creeks, Chickasaws and Choctaws. Of these the rebellion is to be taken seriously among the Creeks and Choctaws. The Chickasaws are Choctaws who got in the field unless the fighting becomes general.

"When I left South McAlester, Wednesday I saw many Indians around the station who had put aside all evidence of civilization in their garb and had come back to the feathered head-dresses, blankets, moccasins and leggings of their ancestors. They were not openly hostile."

Railroads Venomously Hated.

"The railroads are venomously hated by the Indians. They are regarded as the chief instruments of civilization and are threatened with the first blow."

"The thing most to be feared now, next to the failure of the government to act with speed, is the introduction of liquor among the hostiles. If the leaders can get their sympathizers drunk wholesale massacres of the whites will follow. Many persons recognize this and the settlers are flocking to the towns. I saw many people on the train on my way to St. Louis who were fleeing from a possible outbreak, although they were trying to conceal their fears. Traveling men have suspended their visits to the country for fear of violence. The Indians are holding dances and are working themselves up to a state of excitement."

Sheriff Asks for Militia.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Jan. 25.—Matters seemed to have quieted down yesterday morning in the Indian scare along the eastern border, but at noon the following telegram was received by the governor:

"Situation along our border serious. I cannot be responsible for the safety of our people unless militia is ordered out at once."

(Signed) "WILLIAM TILGHMAN, Sheriff."

Governor Barnes today ordered a company of militia each at Chanley and Hawley, Okla., to be in readiness to start any moment for the Indian Territory line. Adjutant General Orger got the necessary supplies for the troops ready for shipment this afternoon. Three thousand rounds of ammunition were provided for each company. Governor Barnes received many messages today from citizens of Stroud and Chandler, which are situated near the Creek nation, asking that militia be sent at once to protect life and property by patrolling the line. There is a general fear of the Indians, but there is danger that outlaws who infest the Creek country will raid banks and stores in Oklahoma under the guise of Indians. Governor Barnes will not send the troops unless the situation becomes more threatening than at present.

INFLUENZA PLAYS HAVOC

But in Spite of Difficulties Clin Gordon Celebrates Robert Burns' Anniversary.

Influenza played havoc with the Robert Burns anniversary celebration of Clin Gordon last night. An excellent program was had arranged by the entertainment committee, but every person on the program who was to deliver an address was sick. Thomas Kilpatrick, whose address was to be on the subject of "Traits of Scottish and American Character," is confined to his bed and an attack of grip kept Rev. Edward H. Jenks from the meeting. Jules Lombard, who was to sing "Oh, Aye Ve Sleepin', Maggie," was called out of town, and Mrs. S. A. Campbell, whose "Maid of Dundee" was the subject of pleasant anticipation, was so ill that she could not be present. As a result the program was badly mutilated and was ended at an early hour.

The numbers presented, however, were exceptionally good. Chief W. R. Adams made a short address of welcome and introduced John Wilson Stevenson, who sang "Roto Wha, Ha," in an acceptable manner, responding to an encore with "A Noble Cause." Mrs. Henry C. Hartie recited "The Tay Bridge of Carleton" in a pleasing manner, her Scotch dialect being particularly good. J. C. Lindsay's characterization of a tramp, in which he played familiar Scotch airs on a penny whistle, was one of the hits of the evening. The soprano solo, "The Gipsy of Seville," by Miss Lena Elsworth, was good, and her response was calculated to show the development of her voice in a great degree. F. V. P. Rowell's recitation of a violin solo, "A Polish Dance," by Wlaski, accented by, although his response, "Annie Lann," pleased the audience a great deal better, and the simple air was better fitted to the evening. Two recitative selections by Alex. McLary were well received, as was the instrumental duet of Innes brothers.

Without making comparisons, the feature of the evening was the song of Mrs. S. D. Lera, "Rowan Tree." On account of the absence of so many artists whose names appeared upon the program, the Scotch feature of the evening had suffered up to this

RABBI SIMON IS GRATIFIED

Tells His Congregation That the Harney Gathering in Cincinnati is Cause for Congratulation.

Rabbi Abram Simon addressed his congregation in the Harney street temple Friday night on the subject of the recent trip to Cincinnati to attend the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Hebrew Union college of that city.

"It was a characteristic gathering of Jewish people," he said, "a large enthusiastic assemblage including some of the brightest minds of the race, the purpose of which was the betterment of religious conditions throughout the country. But the most gratifying fact of the occasion was—they met. Time was within the memory of some of us here tonight when such a gathering would have been impossible, as it would be charged that they assembled to conspire against the welfare of society."

Rabbi Simon spoke at length upon the lessons of the meeting, dilating especially upon the religious fervor which prevailed.
