were dainty hand-painted novelties. The evening was devoted to cards, Mesdames English, Fleming, Root, Weller, and Messrs. Kahn, Bailey, Weller and Purvis carrying off the prizes.

In honor of Mrs. Christiany, Mrs. Arthur Remington was hostess at a very pretty but informal violet luncheon on Monday. Her guests were Mesdames W. Rogers, Charles Dawson, Harry McCormick, W. B. Millard, A. L. Reed and Will Redick.

Mrs. John Withnell entertained informally at cards one evening last week for Mrs. Blanche Williams of Boston and Mrs. Samuel S. Cadwell of St. Louis. The prizes were won by Mesdames G. W. Todd, Dick Withnell and Messrs. Johannes and Crowley.

About twenty-five women, the majority of whom have played what together frequently during the winter, were entertained at a violet luncheon on Thursday by Mrs. J. W. Gannett. The luncheon was served on six small tables, which were prettily decorated in bridesmaid's roses. The afternoon was spent at what.

For Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jerrins of Chicago, who are her guests, Miss Webster entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening. It was an elaborate affair, the table trimmings being entirely of red and green. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jerrins, Mr. and Mrs. Keayon, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wheeler, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze, Mr. Joseph Baldrige and Dr. Crummer.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pritchett entertained the large dinner party of the winter on Wednesday evening, about eighty guests being seated at twenty small tables. Red roses were used in the dining room, while Lawson pinks were used on the table in the other rooms. The dinner was followed by a supper party, at which Mrs. Yates, Mrs. Barkalow and General Manderson won the prizes.

Though not as largely attended as the two previous, Thursday night's cotillon was decidedly the jolliest of the winter. It was in the hands of the youngest set and the figures were original and of a mirth-provoking character. The favors were especially pretty and appropriate. The cotillon was led by Messrs. Dwight Swobe, Sam Burns, Frank Haskell and Will Burns and participated in by about eighty people.

Mrs. Edward Minor Fairfield held the second of her post-nuptial receptions from 3 until 6 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, during which time about 100 women called. She was assisted by Miss Emily Wakley, the Misses Dierfeldt, Miss Dewey and Mrs. D. H. Wheeler, Jr. In the dining room Mrs. Chase and Mrs. McCormick poured coffee and tea at the table, which was prettily decorated with red carnations and lilacs of the valley.

In honor of her guest, Mrs. Arthur Jerrins of Chicago, Miss Webster entertained at 5 o'clock tea on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Luther Kountze and Miss Balcomb presided in the dining room, pouring coffee and tea at the prettily decorated table, above which hung a beautiful arrangement of red and green flowers. Mrs. Harry McCormick served the ice and Miss Webster was further assisted by Mesdames Kenyon, H. Wilkins, W. Redick, D. H. Wheeler, Jr., Welch, Misses Jeanne Brown, Lillian and Bue. There were about 200 guests present.

Mrs. J. Cameron Anderson entertained at an elaborate luncheon on Tuesday, at which her mother, Mrs. Sheldon, was guest of honor. The six-course repast was served from a number of small tables, with covers of red and green, and the table was in color with the flowers used, which were different on each table. The luncheon was followed by six-handed euchre.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cudahy was the scene of a brilliant dancing party from 5 until 6 o'clock on Friday evening. The occasion being the 12th birthday of their daughter, Miss Jean, and in her honor about eighty of her young friends assembled to enjoy an evening of unalloyed pleasure. In the reception room Mrs. Cudahy, Miss Jean and her younger sister presided at the table, and the floor was carpeted with the young dancers. After the dancing was over, supper was served in the dining room, which was handsomely decorated in pink.

In honor of their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Faxton gave the largest and one of the most elaborate dancing parties of the winter on Wednesday evening.

The plan of the art department of the Woman's club for raising funds to furnish the children's department of the public library has met with the approval of the Board of Education in all but one particular, that of having the school children sell the tickets, but the women have substituted what they believe will be an equally effective method of distributing the tickets and the plans have been committed to the Board of Education on February 5, which will continue four or five days.

The opening will consist of a reception, at which the women of the art department will be hostesses. There will also be music and light refreshments and for this opening day an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged and for the other days it will be 10 cents. The tickets will be for sale by all of the school teachers and the children encouraged to buy from them. Members of the department will also have tickets to dispose of.

In addition to the splendid collection of Brown photographs there will also be a number of casts of the feet of Alexander and his hosts 2415 feet. These letters to be retained for use in the juvenile department.

The department members and the teachers of the schools will spare no pains to make the exhibit a success and earnestly ask the co-operation of the citizens in their effort.

For the complexion there is nothing equal to the new Reanstrom treatment at The Bathery. For ladies only. Rooms 216 to 220, Bee building.

Danger of Excessive Perspiration.

To combat a prejudice which has been handed from generation to generation that stopping the excessive perspiration is injurious to the health is a very difficult matter to impress upon the minds of people not versed in the study of medicine, that the excessive perspiration of the axilla, hands and feet is a disease, often resulting in a chronic condition of hyperhidrosis and complicated with a tendency to inflammation, causing much pain and possibly confining the patient to bed.

The condition is apparently easy to treat. Advise the daily use of Re-No-May Powder, manufactured by A. Maye Co., Bee building.

Chiropractors and manicurists have become specialists in this line, to the damage of their clients, and in his article Dyer of the Current Medical Literature directs attention to what we call the commoner affections of the hands and feet, viz., corns, bunions, warts and diseases due to the sweat glands. He speaks in condemnation of the commoner practice of letting chiropractors work on the feet with a knife that is always unclean, helping only to promote disease and the practice of the operator. Re-No-May Powder informed and prescribed by leading physicians.

Finest and most effective treatment ever known for corns or stubborn cases of in stripes at The Bathery. Ladies only. Bee building, second floor.
