

OMAHA GIRLS ARE WINNERS

Defeat Lincoln High School at Basket Ball Seventeen to Sixteen.

SUPERIOR TEAM WORK; SKILL AT GUARD

In Spite of Terrific and Telling Sports of Their Opponents They Have the Advantage Throughout the Lively Game.

LINCOLN, Feb. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Before 3,000 persons in the Auditorium tonight the Lincoln High school girls' basket ball team went down before a team of muscular and skillful opponents from the Omaha High school, the score being 17 to 15.

Superior team work and excellence in guarding gave the victors an advantage throughout, but the terrific and telling sports of the locals left the result in doubt until time was called at the end of the game.

The attendance far exceeded expectations. In the audience were many members of the faculty of the two schools and of the university.

A feature was the spectacular playing of Mildred Stebbins, the plucky Omaha forward, who retired with a sprained knee during the latter part of the game. She was succeeded by Lorraine Comstock.

Fifteen-minute halves were played, the score being 8 to 0 in favor of Lincoln at the end of the first half. The second half was replete with brilliant plays, Omaha making the final and winning goal less than one minute before time was called.

A preliminary the faculty teams of the two schools were pitted against each other, Lincoln winning 7 to 6. Lincoln.

OMAHA. LINCOLN. Alice Towne, Center. Inez Everett Millicent Stebbins, Forward. Ethel Anna Joy Keck, Guard. Edith Burlingame, Forward.

Substitutes: Lucia Wolkovitch and Lorraine Comstock.

CLOSE GAME OF BOWLING

Match Contest Between Two South Omaha Teams Results in Tie Score.

The teams of the Union Stock Yards National bank met in a match game of bowling at Clark's alleys yesterday. The score made was:

UNION STOCK YARDS NATIONAL. Innings. French 3 5 2-13. Artzell 3 5 2-13. Record 3 5 2-13. Forbes 3 5 2-13. Malone 3 5 2-13.

Total 15 25 15-62. SOUTH OMAHA NATIONAL. Innings. Miller 3 5 2-13. Brown 3 5 2-13. Getty 3 5 2-13. Owen 3 5 2-13. McMill 3 5 2-13.

Total 15 25 15-62. In playing of the tie the South Omaha Nationals won by making four points to three for their opponents.

Defeated the Westerns. The Paxton & Gallagher bowling team defeated the Westerns last evening at Clark's alleys by 25 pins. Following was the score:

WESTERNS. Gausson 114 108 140 202. Mock 119 119 136 452. Tomlin 119 119 136 452. Solleck 153 143 143 439. Reynolds 149 135 138 422.

Totals 675 721 691 2,068. PAXTON-GALLAGHERS. Pickard 104 123 132 360. Stabenhorst 119 119 142 480. Gellus 118 141 159 418. Newcomb 149 138 148 435. Inches 137 117 154 408.

Totals 747 767 766 2,284. CANNOT BE FOUGHT IN OHIO. Governor Nash Says Finally That He Will Not Permit Jeffries-Rublin Match.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2.—Governor Nash has telegraphed to the directors of the Eschscholtz Athletic Club that he will not permit the Rublin-Jeffries fight cannot be held in Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 2.—Although the mayor of Cincinnati has issued a permit for a ten-round bout between Childs and Martin, a twenty-round bout between Jeffries and Rublin in this city on February 15 is evident from the fact that the permit was pulled off without coming in conflict with the whole power of the state, as well as with the ongoing championship fight.

Mayor Fleishman has persistently refused permits for local fights or boxing contests of any kind, but in Cincinnati the mayor's word notwithstanding the strenuous opposition. It is not believed that Mayor Fleishman will grant the permit, but he has some in issuing the permit. He will not use

A CAUSE OF HEADACHE.

Headache is a symptom, an indication of derangement or disease in some organ, and the cause of the headache is difficult to locate because so many diseases have headache as a prominent symptom; derangement of the stomach and liver, heart trouble, kidney disease, lung trouble, eye strain or ill fitting glasses all produce headaches and if we could always locate the organ which is at fault the cure of obstinate headaches would be a much simpler matter.

However, for that form of headache called frontal headache, pain back of the eyes and in forehead, the cause is now known to be catarrh of the head and throat; when the headache is located in back of head and neck it is often caused from catarrh of the stomach or liver.

At any rate catarrh is the most common cause of such headaches and the cure of the catarrh causes a prompt disappearance of the headaches.

There is at present no treatment for catarrh so convenient and effective as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, a new internal remedy in tablet form, composed of antiseptics like Eucalypti, Guaiac and Blood Root which act upon the blood and cause the elimination of the catarrhal poison from the system through the natural channels.

Miss Cora Atsley, a prominent school teacher in one of our normal schools, speaks of her experience with catarrhal headaches and eulogizes Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as a cure for them. She says: "I suffered daily from severe frontal headache and pain in back of the eyes, at times so intensely as to incapacitate me in my daily duties. I had suffered from catarrh, more or less for years, but never thought it was the cause of my headaches, but finally became convinced that such was the case because the headaches were always worse whenever I had a cold or fresh attack of catarrh."

"Stuart's Catarrh Tablets were highly recommended to me as a safe and pleasant catarrh cure and after using a few fifty cent boxes which I procured from my druggists I was surprised and delighted to find that both the catarrh and headaches had gone for good."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at fifty cents per package, under the guarantee of the proprietor that they contain absolutely no cocaine (found in so many cheap cures) no opium, (so common in cheap cough cures) nor any harmful drug. They contain simply the wholesome antiseptics necessary to destroy and drive from the system the germs of catarrhal disease.

MEET IN SECRET SESSION

Ball Players Issue a Manifesto Giving Permission to American League Men to Sign.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—For five or six hours today the delegates to the Players Protective association were in secret session at the base ball players' association to make upon the National league magnates for the coming season. The players have several points which they wish a conference with the National league people and hope to carry out as an important item at the coming annual meeting in New York, probably next month.

The declaration of the players is made in the following statement: "First—The cases of all the members refused to have violated any of the rules of the association have been referred to a committee for investigation. Second—The association has at present no knowledge as to any improper conduct on the part of any officers of the association.

Third—The association is in excellent financial condition and in other respects. Fourth—Members who last year played in the American league are authorized to sign for the coming season at that league only if a new contract agreed upon between said league and the association. However, all such members are advised to send their contracts to the association at once for inspection before signing.

Fifth—No member shall sign a contract with the National league unless he is a member of the American association until further instructions. Sixth—No member who last season did not finish with an American league club shall sign for the coming season in the American league until further instructions.

C. H. ZIMMER, President. C. C. GRIFFITH, Vice President. WILLIAM F. CLARKE, Treasurer. HUGH JENNINGS, Secretary.

The American league has granted practically all the demands of the players giving them much encouragement and a good feeling will result from the treatment from the National league, the players claiming that their demands are fair treatment in the matter of transfers of players from one club to another.

The meeting was over about 1 o'clock this evening and the delegates to the association and visiting players are going to their homes tonight.

The players tonight tonight a boycott against the National league is the result of the Protective Players' association being so intimidated that it is not likely to be maintained at the meeting, but from the resolution adopted it is evident that a distinct understanding between the players' association and that league exists and that the National league will attempt to recognize the players' association or fight to a finish.

DUKE EATS HIS HUMBLE PIE

Orleans is Unwilling to Be Frozen Out of Such an Important Gathering of Royalty.

CORNYLIUS, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Feb. 2.—(New York World Calligraph—Special Telegram.)—Following the squandering of such an important gathering of royalties, the duke of Orleans went to Queen Victoria's funeral, having first eaten humble pie.

On the day following Victoria's death the countess of Paris, the duke's mother, wrote a beautiful letter of sympathy to King Edward and Queen Alexandra, expressing the profound affection of all her family for Victoria. Next day one of the king's eunuchs called at the Wickham and thanked the countess. The latter showed the eunuch a telegram just received from King Edward. "Italy. In it the duke reiterated the deep love he always bore the queen, called her his 'second mother' and said his heart was grieved profoundly on account of the entanglement between him and the queen's family which prevented his coming to England to pay a last tribute of affection to a 'peerless sovereign and glorious woman.'"

"This," said the countess, "shows my son's devotion to her majesty, which has been unswerving all his life but which has been misrepresented by the newspapers ascribing to him praise for the villainous caricatures of the queen. Tell their royal highnesses and the dukes that my son's sorrow is doubly keen because he knows he forfeited her majesty's love through the changeous human falsehoods, which he was too high-spirited to deny."

The eunuch carried the message to Osborne house and the countess of Paris was unremitting in her efforts to have the British royal family offer the olive branch. Through Queen Alexandra she finally obtained consent for the duke to attend the funeral.

Orleans meanwhile hurried to Brussels, whence he communicated telegraphically with his mother. He also telegraphed to the king his heartfelt sympathy. Finally, receiving word that he might attend the funeral, he hastened to London. The king being at Osborne house, the duke hurried to Aldershot, where he had an interview with the duke of Connaught. The latter received the Frenchman cordially. Orleans stayed at the Wickham, running up to London twice in hopes of securing an interview with the sovereign. The king thrice succeeded in evading the duke. He only met him once briefly and coldly exchanged a handshake. He cut Orleans short when the latter tried to refer to the caricatures of Victoria.

This story is related here by a prominent royalist leader, who entertains a great personal dislike of the duke. He says none of Orleans' suite accompanied him to Brussels or London, showing that the duke was unceremonious as to his movements.

UNCERTAIN MORE AGAINST BOERS.

PRETORIA, Feb. 2.—General Dewet and 3,000 in his command crossed the Taba N'Chu line going southward. The Boers have collected in force in the eastern Transvaal in order to facilitate their escape.

The horse sickness now prevails in several districts and is making communication more difficult.

Organized attacks have been made along the eastern line and a large combined movement has been arranged against those taking part in them, with the intention of clearing the whole region of the Boers and of supplies. Columns commanded by Smith, from Wonderfontein; Campbell, from Middelburg; Alderson, from Eerstepan; Knox, from Koofontein; Alouby, from Zuurfontein; Dartnell, from Spring, and Colville, from Greylingstad, all in touch with each other, are moving in an easterly direction.

Relief for Norwegian Storm Sufferers.

CHRISTIANA, Norway, Feb. 2.—The Premier will ask the Storting to vote 20,000 kron for the storm-ravaged districts in Norway.

Bodies Will Be Brought Home.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—It is the intention of the War department to have the corps of undertakers now in the United States disinter and send to the United States during the present winter, if practicable, the bodies of all officers and soldiers now buried in those islands.

Porto Ricans Oppose Tax Bill.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 2.—The Chamber of Commerce, the banks and the leagues of proprietors are opposed to the tax bill. It is considered by them as ruinous to the island and formal protests may be presented by the president of the board.

PRESENT AMERICANS AGAIN

Appearance Before Queen Does Not Entitle to Court Privileges During Edward's Reign.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, Feb. 2.—(New York World Calligraph—Special Telegram.)—All Americans presented at court here during Victoria's reign must be presented again to the king, if they desire, as the former presentation lapsed with the death of the sovereign.

Queen Alexandra favored issuing an order that all presentations to Victoria still held good, as she draws the strain of a long series of big drawing rooms, but the king absolutely vetoed the suggestion.

Already King Edward is beset with difficulties in selecting his personal suite. In the ordinary course Sir Francis Knollys, as usual royal private secretary, would become private secretary to the king, whom he so invariably served as prince of Wales. But Sir Arthur Biske, whose qualities are even higher because of his unique experience with a monarch's state, has been recommended, and stands in the way. It is believed the king will solve the difficulty by retaining both.

The beautiful and talented young duchess of Sutherland, a half-sister of the countess of Warwick, will probably be the new mistress of robes instead of the duchess of Barchin.

The king is being subjected to strong pressure to provide places at court for some of his boon companions of the Marlborough house set, but he has firmly refused, though he will probably exercise his prerogative of conferring such places on his friends like Reuben Sassoon, Alfred Rothschild and Hon. Sidney Greville, who have no political claims for inclusion in the premier's list.

Henry Labouchere entertains high hopes that the new king will retain in the footsteps of his mother as a constitutional ruler. Mr. Labouchere writes:

"I am not a courtier—I somewhat despise courtiers. I regard the entire human race as little animals fussing about the wind of one of the millions on millions of clothes that constitute the fashion of a second or two of eternity and then disappear.

"Artificial distinctions between these little animals have no more significance to me than those between ants in the nest, which the foot of some passerby sweeps out of existence. But if I am not a courtier of flattery—that if I had a vote as to who should be king of these realms, as I understand such kingship, my vote would be given to the gentleman on whom it has devolved by the chance of birth."

Test Cases on Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The subcommittee of the house committee on pensions today favorably reported to the full committee the bill of the secretary of the treasury which provides that the cases covering points in controversy regarding rulings shall be carried to the supreme court of the United States, whose decisions shall govern the future rulings of the department. The bill will go into effect on the bill next Monday. Action upon this bill was taken after the long fight over the Grand Army of the Republic court of appeals bill ended in its defeat.

More Assistant Army Surgeons.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In pursuance of a provision of the army reorganization law the secretary of war this afternoon ordered medical examining boards to convene at Washington, D. C., San Francisco and Manila, P. I. for the examination of candidates for appointment as assistant surgeons in the army. There are about 130 of these appointments, and it is expected that the majority of them will be taken from the present volunteer army.

Chandler's Blow at Corporations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator Chandler today introduced a bill to prohibit corporations chartered or controlled by the United States from making contributions for campaign purposes.

MODERN OCEAN COAL GLUTTONS.

Brought to a Point Where Steamship Companies Desires a Let-Up.

In the last ten years the race for the transatlantic record has been far more eagerly prosecuted than in any other period. It has been in this decade that the great coal burners have been built. It is also the "twin-screw period" of ocean navigation, and with the twin screws have come greater speed, more ample tonnage and corresponding increase of boiler power, which means George E. Walsh, The American Lines Paris and New York were the first to embody the new and radical departures from the old methods of shipbuilding, and in many respects the marked an entirely new era in shipbuilding. They were the first to first brilliant successes in speed and seaworthiness, but they were also responsible for a new era of coal consumption that has at last brought the steamship companies to the point where they are anxiously looking for some let-up. The Paris and New York record from New York to Queenstown, making the trip in much less than six days at an average speed of twenty knots an hour. The Teutonic and Majestic, which followed, though larger in every way, were slower in speed and less economical in operating. With only 18,000 indicated horse power, against the 26,000 of the Paris, the Teutonic consumes only 300 tons of coal a day to develop its nineteen and a half knots.

Two magnificent steamers of the Cunard company—the Lusitania and the Campania, which soon followed the launching of the American liners, establishing new ocean records and new coal-consuming figures. The Campania, with 19,000 tons displacement, had 30,000 horse power and developed a speed of twenty-two knots, with a daily coal consumption of about 475 tons. The modern coal gluttons were in full force by this time, and the steamship companies had to confess that the lowering of the record meant not only larger ships, but heavier coal consumption. The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse of the North German Lloyd Steamship company was built on this line, fully recognized this fact. It is twenty-six feet longer than the Campania, one foot greater in beam and has 1,000 tons more displacement. Her fastest trip was made at an average speed of 22.75 knots, covering in one period of twenty-four hours 550 knots. Nevertheless, its horse power was slightly less than that of the Campania, being 28,000, against the latter's 30,000, and her coal consumption a trifle more, amounting, according to the owner's figures, to 500 tons a day.

The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, the Oceanic and the Deutschland are the three modern steamers that offer the best comparisons and represent the highest effort of the best with the marine architects of the world. Differing somewhat in size, shape and gear, equipment, they nevertheless present features so much alike that valuable lessons can be drawn from them. The Oceanic excels either steamer in the matter of length. She is 275 feet long, with a twenty-five knot horse power as the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, but is much slower than this former record holder. The Deutschland develops 25,000 horse power, against the 28,000 of the other two, and to feed the engine sufficiently to maintain a twenty-five knot speed it requires the greatest amount of coal ever fed to an ocean steamer.

Guide Lines to His Character.

Some of Mr. Armour's characteristic sayings: "I have a little religion, but no politics. I am a plain business man." "No general can fight his battles alone. He must depend upon his lieutenants and

OLMSTED HOLDS HIS JOB

While the Fusion Commissioners Fight Over Naming Successor.

CONNOLLY BLOCKS THE CANON FIGHT. Effort of Hofeldt and Hoctor to Make Vacancy in Sheriff's Office for Olmsted in Unsuccessful.

William H. Olmsted is still the superintendent of the county hospital and poor farm. He handed in his resignation in the heat of passion the other day and has cooled off since. The county commissioners voted yesterday to accept Olmsted's resignation to take effect upon the appointment of his successor.

This action was taken after an unsuccessful attempt to elect a new superintendent. Chairman Connolly introduced a resolution naming Adam J. Shoup for the place and Hofeldt asked for reference, which, under the rules, sent the resolution over to the next meeting. Then Hofeldt put in a resolution to make Daniel W. Canon superintendent and Mrs. Canon matron of the institution and Connolly sent it over also by asking for reference.

Deadlock is On. This a deadlock appears, with Hofeldt and Hoctor playing for Canon's appointment and the consequent creation of a vacancy in the sheriff's office to be filled by Olmsted, and Connolly standing in the way of the deal by clinging to Shoup. The two republican commissioners have their hands off, declaring that the fusionists must agree upon a man among themselves.

CO-OPERATIVE HOME BUILDING.

Coming Convention of United States League—Matters of Interest.

The ninth annual meeting of the United States League of Loan and Building associations will take place at New Orleans February 15 and 16. Heretofore the league meetings were held in July, but in order to meet the wishes of the associations the date for this year's meeting was advanced to February. The time chosen is in the height of the Mardi Gras season and the attractions of that famous festival, with the attendant reduced rates of travel, are expected to bring the attendance of delegates up to the average.

The program for the meeting is notable for the number of papers scheduled and the diversity of topics chosen for discussion. The list comprises seventeen papers, besides the reports of officers and the customary addresses of welcome. Among the speakers are the governor of Louisiana, the mayor of New Orleans, the Roman Catholic bishop of Indianapolis, department officials of California, New York and Michigan and one woman, Mrs. H. S. Twitchell of New Orleans.

The annual meeting of the Massachusetts State league was held in Boston on the 25th ult. The chief feature of the proceedings of outside interest is the unanimous approval of an invitation to the United States league to meet in Boston in the summer of 1902. Several futile attempts have been made in former years to carry the convention to the Hub and it is likely that the will be rewarded this time. J. Warren Bailey and H. Eldridge are the delegates to the Massachusetts convention. The Massachusetts league has a membership of fifty-four associations or co-operative banks. The first of these institutions were started twenty-four years ago. Now they have 72,000 members and assets aggregating $28,000,000.

The McCook (Neb.) co-operative association recently observed the fourteenth anniversary of its organization by starting the twenty-seventh series. In thirteen years the association matured seven series of shares at an average of 119 months each, a net profit of $81 per share.

No Business of His.

Chicago Tribune: "I beg your pardon, sir," said the coachman, a sedate and respectable person who had seen better days, "but horses are a good deal like human beings. They will do their work all the better if you don't swear at them."

"If you don't like the way I talk to my horses," wrathfully responded his employer, "you can take yourself away from here and hunt another situation!"

Which shows the absurdity, not to say the downright foolishness, of a man presuming to have convictions that do not pertain strictly to his job.

White Men Gully of Assault.

AMITE CITY, La., Feb. 2.—Two brutal and senseless attacks were perpetrated near Amite last night, the victims being an old negro named Arthur Nickerson and his 2-year-old daughter. The perpetrators of the outrage were white men. After killing the old man and his child they shot his grown daughter, who was endeavoring to escape, but she was only slightly wounded. After the killing she was taken to a hospital, took her into an adjoining room and assaulted her. The authorities have a clue that may lead to the arrest of the murderers.

PRESENT AMERICANS AGAIN

Appearance Before Queen Does Not Entitle to Court Privileges During Edward's Reign.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, Feb. 2.—(New York World Calligraph—Special Telegram.)—All Americans presented at court here during Victoria's reign must be presented again to the king, if they desire, as the former presentation lapsed with the death of the sovereign.

Queen Alexandra favored issuing an order that all presentations to Victoria still held good, as she draws the strain of a long series of big drawing rooms, but the king absolutely vetoed the suggestion.

Already King Edward is beset with difficulties in selecting his personal suite. In the ordinary course Sir Francis Knollys, as usual royal private secretary, would become private secretary to the king, whom he so invariably served as prince of Wales. But Sir Arthur Biske, whose qualities are even higher because of his unique experience with a monarch's state, has been recommended, and stands in the way. It is believed the king will solve the difficulty by retaining both.

The beautiful and talented young duchess of Sutherland, a half-sister of the countess of Warwick, will probably be the new mistress of robes instead of the duchess of Barchin.

The king is being subjected to strong pressure to provide places at court for some of his boon companions of the Marlborough house set, but he has firmly refused, though he will probably exercise his prerogative of conferring such places on his friends like Reuben Sassoon, Alfred Rothschild and Hon. Sidney Greville, who have no political claims for inclusion in the premier's list.

Henry Labouchere entertains high hopes that the new king will retain in the footsteps of his mother as a constitutional ruler. Mr. Labouchere writes:

"I am not a courtier—I somewhat despise courtiers. I regard the entire human race as little animals fussing about the wind of one of the millions on millions of clothes that constitute the fashion of a second or two of eternity and then disappear.

"Artificial distinctions between these little animals have no more significance to me than those between ants in the nest, which the foot of some passerby sweeps out of existence. But if I am not a courtier of flattery—that if I had a vote as to who should be king of these realms, as I understand such kingship, my vote would be given to the gentleman on whom it has devolved by the chance of birth."

Test Cases on Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The subcommittee of the house committee on pensions today favorably reported to the full committee the bill of the secretary of the treasury which provides that the cases covering points in controversy regarding rulings shall be carried to the supreme court of the United States, whose decisions shall govern the future rulings of the department. The bill will go into effect on the bill next Monday. Action upon this bill was taken after the long fight over the Grand Army of the Republic court of appeals bill ended in its defeat.

More Assistant Army Surgeons.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—In pursuance of a provision of the army reorganization law the secretary of war this afternoon ordered medical examining boards to convene at Washington, D. C., San Francisco and Manila, P. I. for the examination of candidates for appointment as assistant surgeons in the army. There are about 130 of these appointments, and it is expected that the majority of them will be taken from the present volunteer army.

Chandler's Blow at Corporations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator Chandler today introduced a bill to prohibit corporations chartered or controlled by the United States from making contributions for campaign purposes.

MODERN OCEAN COAL GLUTTONS.

Brought to a Point Where Steamship Companies Desires a Let-Up.

In the last ten years the race for the transatlantic record has been far more eagerly prosecuted than in any other period. It has been in this decade that the great coal burners have been built. It is also the "twin-screw period" of ocean navigation, and with the twin screws have come greater speed, more ample tonnage and corresponding increase of boiler power, which means George E. Walsh, The American Lines Paris and New York were the first to embody the new and radical departures from the old methods of shipbuilding, and in many respects the marked an entirely new era in shipbuilding. They were the first to first brilliant successes in speed and seaworthiness, but they were also responsible for a new era of coal consumption that has at last brought the steamship companies to the point where they are anxiously looking for some let-up. The Paris and New York record from New York to Queenstown, making the trip in much less than six days at an average speed of twenty knots an hour. The Teutonic and Majestic, which followed, though larger in every way, were slower in speed and less economical in operating. With only 18,000 indicated horse power, against the 26,000 of the Paris, the Teutonic consumes only 300 tons of coal a day to develop its nineteen and a half knots.

Two magnificent steamers of the Cunard company—the Lusitania and the Campania, which soon followed the launching of the American liners, establishing new ocean records and new coal-consuming figures. The Campania, with 19,000 tons displacement, had 30,000 horse power and developed a speed of twenty-two knots, with a daily coal consumption of about 475 tons. The modern coal gluttons were in full force by this time, and the steamship companies had to confess that the lowering of the record meant not only larger ships, but heavier coal consumption. The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse of the North German Lloyd Steamship company was built on this line, fully recognized this fact. It is twenty-six feet longer than the Campania, one foot greater in beam and has 1,000 tons more displacement. Her fastest trip was made at an average speed of 22.75 knots, covering in one period of twenty-four hours 550 knots. Nevertheless, its horse power was slightly less than that of the Campania, being 28,000, against the latter's 30,000, and her coal consumption a trifle more, amounting, according to the owner's figures, to 500 tons a day.

Guide Lines to His Character.

Some of Mr. Armour's characteristic sayings: "I have a little religion, but no politics. I am a plain business man." "No general can fight his battles alone. He must depend upon his lieutenants and

OLMSTED HOLDS HIS JOB

While the Fusion Commissioners Fight Over Naming Successor.

CONNOLLY BLOCKS THE CANON FIGHT. Effort of Hofeldt and Hoctor to Make Vacancy in Sheriff's Office for Olmsted in Unsuccessful.

William H. Olmsted is still the superintendent of the county hospital and poor farm. He handed in his resignation in the heat of passion the other day and has cooled off since. The county commissioners voted yesterday to accept Olmsted's resignation to take effect upon the appointment of his successor.

This action was taken after an unsuccessful attempt to elect a new superintendent. Chairman Connolly introduced a resolution naming Adam J. Shoup for the place and Hofeldt asked for reference, which, under the rules, sent the resolution over to the next meeting. Then Hofeldt put in a resolution to make Daniel W. Canon superintendent and Mrs. Canon matron of the institution and Connolly sent it over also by asking for reference.

Deadlock is On. This a deadlock appears, with Hofeldt and Hoctor playing for Canon's appointment and the consequent creation of a vacancy in the sheriff's office to be filled by Olmsted, and Connolly standing in the way of the deal by clinging to Shoup. The two republican commissioners have their hands off, declaring that the fusionists must agree upon a man among themselves.

CO-OPERATIVE HOME BUILDING.

Coming Convention of United States League—Matters of Interest.

The ninth annual meeting of the United States League of Loan and Building associations will take place at New Orleans February 15 and 16. Heretofore the league meetings were held in July, but in order to meet the wishes of the associations the date for this year's meeting was advanced to February. The time chosen is in the height of the Mardi Gras season and the attractions of that famous festival, with the attendant reduced rates of travel, are expected to bring the attendance of delegates up to the average.

The program for the meeting is notable for the number of papers scheduled and the diversity of topics chosen for discussion. The list comprises seventeen papers, besides the reports of officers and the customary addresses of welcome. Among the speakers are the governor of Louisiana, the mayor of New Orleans, the Roman Catholic bishop of Indianapolis, department officials of California, New York and Michigan and one woman, Mrs. H. S. Twitchell of New Orleans.

The annual meeting of the Massachusetts State league was held in Boston on the 25th ult. The chief feature of the proceedings of outside interest is the unanimous approval of an invitation to the United States league to meet in Boston in the summer of 1902. Several futile attempts have been made in former years to carry the convention to the Hub and it is likely that the will be rewarded this time. J. Warren Bailey and H. Eldridge are the delegates to the Massachusetts convention. The Massachusetts league has a membership of fifty-four associations or co-operative banks. The first of these institutions were started twenty-four years ago. Now they have 72,000 members and assets aggregating $28,000,000.

No Business of His.

Chicago Tribune: "I beg your pardon, sir," said the coachman, a sedate and respectable person who had seen better days, "but horses are a good deal like human beings. They will do their work all the better if you don't swear at them."

"If you don't like the way I talk to my horses," wrathfully responded his employer, "you can take yourself away from here and hunt another situation!"

Which shows the absurdity, not to say the downright foolishness, of a man presuming to have convictions that do not pertain strictly to his job.

White Men Gully of Assault.