DISCUSS CHARITIES

State Conference to Open in This City Next Thursday Afternoon.

OUTLINE OF INTERESTING PROGRAM

Dr. Hart, Secretary National Conference of Charities and Corrections, and Chancellor Andrews Among the Speakers.

The Nebraska Conference of Charities and Corrections will be in session in this city on Thursday and Friday of this week. A large number of delegates, representing various charitable and correctional institutions, will be in attendance.

Among the subjects to be considered will be organized charity work in cities and towns, child-saving work, county poor houses and hospitals, jails and prison life and reformatory work. There will be four sessions and all will be held at the Young Men's Christian association hall, excepting that of Thursday evening, which will convene at the Kountze Memorial church.

Thursday the Opening Day. The conference will open Thursday afternoon with an address by the president, Guy C. Barton, after which the delegates will be welcomed to the city by Mayor Moores. H. H. Hart, general secretary of the National conference, will then explain the benefits of state conferences. Thomas Kilpatrick will follow with an address on "Local Charity" and papers will be read by C. E. Prevey of Lincoln on 'Advantages of Organized Charity" and by Rev. Dr. C. S. Sargent on "The Better-ment of Jail and Prison Life." Rev. T. V. Moore and Chief of Police Donahue will participate in the discussions of the

Thursday evening, at Kountze Memorial church, addresses will be delivered by H. H. Hart and Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of the State university.

HIS SERVICES TO SOLDIERS

What George D. Meiklejohn is Doing and Has Done for the Nebranka Volunteers.

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 31 .- To the Editor of The Bee-Dear Sir: A careful perusal of the letterr by Major F. A. Williams in this morning's Bee brings to mind a letter received a few weeks ago and signed by Sergeant August Tylee of the Third Nebrasks. I enclose a copy of the same,

Curiosity and a desire for information impels me to ask for a little light upon the subject. In both letters we find a statement referring to Meiklejohn which reads as follows:

"We all know that he was and is the bes friend to the Nebraska soldier boys. During the war he did much for them and no chance to forward their interests was neglected and no request slighted."

How do we know that he was and is the best friend to the Nebraska soldier boys? and poured kerosene into the stove. The ments that was not done for the other members of the volunteer army? Does Mr. Meiklejohn, through his literary bureau. mean to claim that he discriminated against the members of other organizations and in favor of the Nebraska regiments? If he does I think I can safely say (speaking for the First Nebraska) that the impression intended to convey is entirely false and

When Mr. Meikleichn stated to Mr. Hav ward, when Hayward was a candidate for governor, that he (Meiklejohn) would, in case of Hayward's election, immediately request Colonel Stotsenburg's resignation as colonel of the First Nebraska and order him back to his own regiment, so that another who had more influence in the state might be appointed colonel, I suppose he thought that he was doing the "extremely graceful" to the Nebraska boys.

The only blot upon the record of the First regiment today is that self-same huliabaloo kicked up by a few malcontents against Colonel Stotsenburg, one of the bravest of men and truest of soldiers that ever lived, and there is not a member of the First Neand there is not a member of the First Nebraska regiment who had the honor of serving under Colonel Stotsenburg in the Philippine campaigns but has a bitterness of heart against those who maligned him and sought to depose him. The members of the "fighting First" would give worlds. and sought to depose him. The members of the "fighting First" would give worlds to wipe out that blot and bring to life again the gallant colonel, who, although hounded to distraction and smarting under the sting of the unjust charges against him, rushed by train from Manila one bright Sunday in April that he might join his regiment in action and who gave his life in the same days. His other courses, education and who gave his life in the same days. His other courses, education and society (Pol. Econ. 25), remains at the same hour, 5 o'clock Tuesday and Triday.

If Mr. Meiklejohn had a hand in the fight against Colonel Stotsenburg he can never hope to have the support of the boys of the First Nebraska regiment, for too many of their comrades fill graves today as a result of political gerrymandering. Possibly a few of the members, who were enabled to secure their discharges when the regiment got into active service, as the price of the political influence of parents or friends, may be able to explain just what Meiklejohn did for the regiment, but if there are any others who can recall any special occasion of friendship or favoritism they have failed to make them-

LINCOLN, Dec. 29 .- Dear Sir and Comrade: I want to write to you at this time to extend the compliments of the season and at the same time to call your attention to an important matter.

One of the candidates in the present senatorial struggle is Assistant Secretary of War G. D. Meiklejohn. I feel that I would be a graceful act for all the veterans of the Spanish-American war to pull of their coats and do their level best for Methletohn. We all know that he was, and is, the best and most influential friend of the Nebraska soldier boys. During the war he did much for them. No chance to forward their interests was neglected and no request was slighted. I know that he is heartily in favor of the bill now before the senate known as the "Veteran Preferment Bill" and that he will vote for it We need more votes. We ought to do all we can for him now.

Let me know what you think about this and what you will do to influence the republican volunteers and public sentiment in favor of Meiklejohn. It seems to me that now is the time for us to pull together. Let me hear from you by return mail. Yours fraternally. The chemistry department is crowded for room and has again made application to the regents for greater accommodations for the storage of chemicals and supplies. It has been the wish and the need of the department for some time that more space be allowed them. Plans for the construction of a small room or vault on the east side of the laboratory, and connecting with the building proper, have been drawn up for some time. The idea is to have a place where the most dangerous chemicals can be stored as well as other supplies which are now stowed away in the halls and in two rooms in the basement of the main building. Within the last few years some dangerous and disastrous fires have occurred in chemical laboratories and drug houses handling such inflammable and explosive materials as are now used and stored in the chemical laboratory. Should a fire start in the building at the present condition of the storage room the effects would be diffcuit to estimate. On the other hand, if this explosive matter could be separated and kept apart from the building proper much less damage in case of fire would be done.

The first hundred copies of the Analytic Geometry of Prof. A. L. Candy of the building proper much less damage in case of fire would be done.

The first hundred copies of the Analytic Geometry of Prof. A. L. Candy of the University of Nebraska were received from the printer December 20, 1900. These were nearly all taken at once by students in the university, who had been using the book in the form of "advance sheets" since October 1. The book was not ready for general distribution until January 1 and no copies were sent out for examination before that date. The first outside order was given January 15. This was an order for fifty copies from the University of California. This is indeed a high testimonial. Prof. Irving Stringham, head of the department of mathematics, is a man with a national reputation. His prompt endorsement of Prof. Candy's work will place it at once in the front rank of text books on this subject. One of the chief features of this new book is the "correlation" of algebra, trigonometry, analytic geometry and calculus. This is the subject that was so admirably presented before the last Nebraska State Teachers' association by Dr. Florian Cajori of Colorado college. This idea has never before been elaborated in any text book of this grade. If this plan meets with the approval of teachers this work will mark the beginning of a new era in mathematical text books. It is believed by those who are most competent to judge that this method of presenting the subject is sure to prevail.

globe have come innumerable telegrams describing how Saturday was kept. Wherever a few British were gathered together their ordinary labors were abandoned for religious services and their thoughts were turned toward the bier of Victoria. Throughout India the natives have given unmistakable proofs of their veneration for the queen and their sorrow in her death. Emperor Francis Josef and members of the royal family attended memorial service in Vienna.

The morning papers are filled with reports of these tributes and are wholly given up to elaborate pictorial and literary descriptions of Saturday's scenes. It is said that Emperor William will remain for the reading of Queen Victoria's will, which is in her own handwriting and is a most voluminous document, including every detail of the funeral pageantry, as she die at Osborne house. The kaiser will then go direct to Kronberg to give his mother. Empress Dowager Frederick, a full account of the funeral.

Sportsmen of Omaha are to attend a meeting at Goodley Brucker's this morning at 10 o'clock to consider the drafting of a game and fish law to be substituted for the J. H. All local sportamen, with their own interests in view, will attend this meeting, and it is expected that a vigorous protest will be entered against the Ager law, which accords sportsmen the privileges that are accorded their brethren in all the surrounding states. GIVES HIS REASON NASH Ohio Governor Says Jeffiries-Rublin Affair is Purely an Illegal Prize Fight.

COLUMBUS, O.. Feb. 3.—Governor Nash today made the first public statement of his position with regard to the proposed Jeffries-Ruhlin fight at Cincinnati and the grounds upon which his determination to prevent the fight taking place in Ohlo is based. The statement is contained in a letter prepared and mailed this afternoon in reply to a petition from the John C. E. reply to a petition from the John C. E. Roth Packing company and 1,000 other citizens of Cincinnati protesting against inter-ference with the fight. Governor Nash says in his letter that he fears the peti-tioners have been misled by erroneous legal advice. He quotes the law relating to prize fighting and boxing contests and says:

prize highling says:

"The provise upon which you rely reads as follows: Provided, that nothing in the foregoing shall apply to any public gymnasium or athletic club or any of the exercises therein, if written permission for the class therein, if written permission for the class therein. cises therein. If written permission for the specific purpose shall first have been obtained from the sheriff of the county, or, if the exercises or exhibition are held within the limits of a municipal corporation, of the mayor of the corporation. "The proviso only covers exercise among the members of the clubs or exhibit tions in which members on the clubs of exhibi-tions in which members only take part Even if my interpretation is too strict i does not authorize the bringing together o noted fighters and the offering of a larg prize to the one who prevails over the other.

"Again, the Saengerfest Association com-pany of Cincinnati and the exhibit which it proposes to give is not such an association and not such a contest as is contemplated by section 6890. and not such a contest as is contemplated by section 6890.

As I understand it the contest between Jeffries and Ruhlin was arranged for by a lawyer by the name of Witte before the association even had a legal existence. It has no gymnasium or hall for athletic purposes, no distinct membership and none of the paraphernalla of an athletic club. It was organized simply for the purpose of dodging the law and bringing off a contest between the two fighters. The law cannot and will not be trifled with in this manner. I earnestly ask you to look at the law as I have explained it and I think you you will conclude with me that you have been misled. As I have already said to you in a telegram I am firmly convinced that this affair, if it comes off, will be a prize light."

Stating his reasons for believing that th stating his reasons for believing that the alleged glove contest is to be a prize fight the governor refers to the moving picture contract, which states that the profits to be derived from these pictures shall be di-vided equally between the association and the "fighter or fighters."
