Interview on the subject of the recent Union Pacific-Southern Pacific deal said: "I do not interest myself in the road from the point of view of a banker or broker, because I am fully taken up with the practical, physical side of the property. I know much less about Wall street operations than I do of bridge building and ballasting and grading prairie railroads, consequently I am not conversant with the facts concerning the recently announced transfer of control of the Southern Pacific to Union Pacific interests. If the Speyer-Harrington shares were purchased by the Harrington syndicate they were purchased by people interested in Pacific securities and not by the Union Pacific Railroad company.

"This union of interests, if such a step has been taken, will bring the Union Pacific into even closer harmony with the Central Pacific, whose entire line of stock was acquired by the Southern Pacific in 1899. The Union Pacific will continue to run through trains over the Central Pacific tracks as heretofore. There will be no change in the relations which now exist between the Union Pacific and the Oregon Short Line of 1,480 miles, which it controls, nor will there be any violent disturbance in present traffic arrangements with the Southern Pacific. If the reported deal is really a fact, every one interested will receive a direct benefit thereby. Greater economies, through the elimination of agencies, will be effected, and every mile of the entire system will increase in value in proportion as we are able to put more and more capital into general equipment and improvement of the roadbed.

"It might be well to emphasize at this time that if the two great systems have been brought under one control no attempt will be made to hurt the interests of the thousands of producers who are practically dependent upon our lines for the marketing of their products. The western farmers and wheat men, as well as the mining and cattle interests, may rest assured that the cordial relations which now exist between them and the Union Pacific will not be disturbed. The strength which the company now possesses must necessarily result greatly to the advantage of the country traversed through a fairer and more stable adjustment of transportation rates."

MAY TAKE ONLY THE CENTRAL

Union Pacific Could Acquire an Outlet Without Assuming Whole Southern Pacific System.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Evening Post has the following: Suggestion was made today that further study of the Southern Pacific situation by the interests controlling the Union Pacific might develop a plan by which the Union Pacific would be able to assure absolute and permanent control of the Central Pacific without assuming any liability for the whole Southern Pacific system.

Union Pacific interests freely admitted that the fundamental interest of the company in the Southern Pacific is in its control of the natural and only feasible outlet for the Union Pacific to San Francisco. The Central Pacific and the Union Pacific were conceived as one route and their division into separate companies was unnatural and harmful to the best interests of the companies themselves and interfered with the transportation facilities of the public. The two companies have often worked in opposition in money matters, as regards train service, rates and distribution and movement of freight. The Southern Pacific's other lines are naturally allied with the interests of California and the southwest and from a transportation system complete and valuable in itself, even

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation. To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous. The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time, and Miss Alvina Walter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to cure and keeps the promise. No longer put off treatment. Buy a bottle of Hood's today.

GENERAL URIBE URIBE HERE

Will Not Say He Comes to Buy Arms for Colombian Revolutionists.

DECLARES HIS COUNTRY IS PRIEST-RIDDEN

Sympathy is Felt in Venezuela and Ecuador for His Party, He Says, Because It Represents Liberty and Patriotism.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. General Rafael Uribe-Urbe of the Colombian revolutionary party, accompanied by Colonel Abel Murillo, his private secretary, and General Pablo E. Obregon, adjutant of his staff, arrived in this city today on the steamer Philadelphia. General Uribe talked at length tonight of the affairs of his native republic and those of Venezuela, of whose president, General Castro, he is an ardent friend. "I am made to say," he said, "that my mission to the United States is to purchase arms, ammunition and vessels for the Colombian revolutionists. If I made public such a program I am very indiscreet. It would not be prudent for me to say what my plans are. I propose to do all in my power for the interest of its prosperity, liberty and civilization in fighting the government of Dr. Marroquin. That government is under the heels of the conservatives and priest-ridden. I never resorted to an appeal at arms from selfish motives. I am a revolutionist because I am a liberal. We liberals do not fight because we like to fight, but because we have to fight. The liberal party in Colombia was denied all participation in the government of the police court will have Broglin up on Friday.

Appropriations for the West. In the sundry civil bill, which was reported in the house today by Chairman Cannon from the committee on appropriations, are the following items of interest. The willing hawkeer put up $12 of the $15, and at once started in to cheat death. He had taken but one dose when he became very ill. The family physician was sent for, who told the now thoroughly frightened dispenser of Bismarck cocktails that he must stop taking the stuff and send it to the district health office for analysis. This was done and on the strength of the findings Broglin was arrested for practicing medicine without a permit and, having demanded jury trial, Judge Scott of the police court will have Broglin up on Friday.

Conservatives Are Divided. "At present the conservative party in Colombia is divided. The branch in power is weak and caters to the ignorant classes. The revolutionists are all over the country in guerrilla bands, but they are aghast. The revolution may appear to die out for a time, but it will simply be dormant. The liberals who have revolted lack arms and ammunition. These will be provided. At present the military consists of 10,000 revolutionists in General Vargas Santos, who is now at Curacao. The conservatives have not found a man to replace the late General Pinzon. In regard to revolutionary movements in the near future I can reveal nothing. I do not consider that complications will be brought about by an uprising in Panama.

"Sympathy for the Colombia liberals is felt and expressed in Venezuela and Ecuador because the principle involved is national and liberty. What I fear is that the Colombia conservatives may help the fanatical element in Venezuela. As to the attitude of the liberals it is a common defense. "I have just come from Venezuela and have had opportunity to demonstrate that the present government is a strong one. There is nothing in the revolution to make it strong. The only leader of prominence against Castro was General Hernandez; he is in prison, ill and out of mind. General Andrade, now in Cuba, has no following. I regard the revolution as futile. The real peril in Venezuela lies in Manuel Casbiana, the present Colombian envoy. He was born in Venezuela and it is suspected that he was selected by the Marroquin government to foment a revolution against the present government. From those who are in Venezuela, surreptitiously to the aid of the Venezuelan revolutionists.

Castro's Government Strong. "General Uribe is 40 years of age, and has a large coffee plantation. His appearance as a revolutionist was first in 1876, and he took part in the revolution of 1885 and the present revolution, which began in 1899. He took part in fifty engagements."

THROWN INTO JAIL

Prayer meeting in the police station. She prayed that the work that she had begun in Topeka might be abundantly prospered. While she was praying a drunken man was brought in by a policeman. Mrs. Nation immediately went to the prisoner and informed him that she was his friend at all times, even though the policemen were not. She then delivered a scathing address to members of the police force present. She said they would permit the joints to run in open violation of law all the while, and would then arrest the men who were made drunk by the liquor sold there. Mrs. Nation taunted the police, calling them cowards, afraid to arrest anybody but women and drunken men.

Followed by the crowd. Mrs. Nation then went to the federal building, where she inquired for her mail. She then mounted the steps of the building and made an address to the crowd. She said she would smash all the joints of the city, and would stay there long enough to accomplish this purpose, if it took months. She was not afraid, she said, as she had no reason in the world to be. There were many women in the city who would help her, she said, and they would do so at the proper time.

Mrs. Nation did not intend to begin a joint raid until tomorrow. While she and other women were in a store buying the hatchets which were to be used in the raid there came in a woman, who said her son had spent all of his money in Murphy's place the night before. "Well, let's go and smash it right now," said Mrs. Nation, and the other women agreed.

Some interesting developments are looked for tomorrow. Mrs. Nation declares she will enter the joints and smash them, when the jointists are equally certain that she will not.

The jointists have negroes hired to watch their places of business, and they have orders to shoot down any person, man or woman, who attempts to enter the joint bent on mischief.

PUT TWO OUT OF BUSINESS

Wives of McCune Merchants Send a Pair of Jointists to Jail.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—A special to the Star from St. Louis, Kan., reads: A number of women, wives of prominent citizens, attacked the two joints running at McCune, a small town fifteen miles west of here, today, and destroyed the furniture and fixtures of both places. A large quantity of stock was destroyed and broken bottles and jars littered the floor.

The women held a short prayer service first and then, after arming themselves with hatchets and ball bats, marched on the jointists. The milkkeepers fled, after a short parley, during which they attempted to dissuade the crusaders from their purpose. The damage done will amount to $500.

Feeling runs high, but none of the women have been arrested. The joints are all closed.

S. W. Eccles Resigns. News reached Omaha yesterday of the resignation of S. W. Eccles, freight traffic manager of the Oregon Short Line at Salt Lake, and created considerable interest in local railroad circles. Mr. Eccles will be made freight traffic manager of the American Smelting company, with headquarters at New York, and will command a salary of $20,000 a year.

Mr. Eccles has been prominent in railroad affairs at Salt Lake for nineteen years. He first served as general freight agent of the Denver & Pacific, and later became assistant general freight agent of the Union Pacific. In March, 1897, he was appointed general traffic manager of the Short Line.

Toledo's Masonic Temple. TOLEDO, O., Feb. 4.—The Masonic temple was destroyed by fire tonight, entailing a loss of $150,000, of which $50,000 is on the building. The Masonic records, regalia and paraphernalia were all lost. Armstrong & Co.'s wholesale and retail grocery on the ground floor, Miss Mauck's millinery establishment and one or two smaller shops on the ground floor were gutted. The loss is covered by insurance.

friend's illness. The landlord became frightened, and, having learned that Broglin was skilled in medicine, he suggested that the doctor make an examination. The hair cure man found he had a case of heart disease on his hands, and in tones of great consternation told his saloon friend of his condition. Broglin then prescribed for his friend, charging him $15 for two bottles of some mysterious compound, which was guaranteed to prolong his life for two years. NIGHT SESSIONS OF SENATE

Late Dinners and Midnight Suppers in Interest of the Shipping Subsidy Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Special Telegram.)—Late dinners and midnight suppers will be in order at the capitol after Wednesday. The republicans in the senate have fully determined to continue the shipping bill before the senate for sometime, yet, and in order to convince the democrats that they do not intend to begin a holding night session on Wednesday. The fact that the legislative bill is to be taken up Wednesday has caused opponents of the bill to declare that the latter measure will be withdrawn and that it will not again be heard of this session. From those presumed to know it is learned that the bill is not to be withdrawn but that the republican managers are in earnest in their intention to pass the measure, being anxious to avoid an extra session. The steering committee has concluded to divide the time between the appropriation bills and the shipping bill until the latter is disposed of, and night sessions are necessary to bring this about.

Dr. Broglin Under Arrest. Dr. Frank Broglin, who is well known to the newspaper readers and the police of Omaha, having run a saloon for several years back, has been getting into trouble here. Broglin struck town some weeks ago, ostensibly on a sight-seeing excursion. He met a German friend, who runs a little saloon on Ninth street, and as the friend was feeling ill for some time, Broglin, in the language of the fatherland, asked the reason for his illness. The landlord became frightened, and, having learned that Broglin was skilled in medicine, he suggested that the doctor make an examination. The hair cure man found he had a case of heart disease on his hands, and in tones of great consternation told his saloon friend of his condition. South Omaha News.

Mr. Eads' business session of the council last night and a large amount of routine business was transacted. The roll call showed all members present and President Adkins in the chair. After a few unimportant reports File started the evening's session by recommending the releasing of the 15 per cent reserve held on the N street paving from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-seventh streets. It was asserted that by releasing this reserve at this time the city would save something like $300 in interest, as the reserve fund is drawing the regulation percentage. Trainor wanted the matter to lay over a week, and suggested that the question be referred to the city attorney for a decision to be given later. There was some discussion and Trainor's amendment was lost, and when put to a vote the original motion carried. This pavement has been down six years and appears, so members of the council stated, to be in as good condition as the day it was laid. There is, therefore, no necessity, so it is claimed, for the city to have an interest on a reserve guaranty any longer.

Trainer secured the passage of a motion regarding the payment of a bonus to certain eastern capitalists for the erection of an opera house here. According to the motion the contract is to sustain the labor temple project in reference to the opera house plan.

City Engineer Beal was directed to establish the grade on the alley between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets, between Adams and C streets.

Member Martin registered a protest against the condition of the street at lights. He said that the lights were not placed thirty-five feet above the ground as the ordinance provides. There was some discussion about this matter, as the light company has a bill in for the raising of lights to the limit required by ordinance. Clerk Shirley was instructed to notify the light company to place its lights in accordance with the terms of the existing ordinance.

An ordinance establishing the grade on C street, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-fifth streets, was read the first time and referred to the judiciary committee. Special tax ordinances for sewer districts Nos. 109 and 110 met with the same treatment.

Henry Navin and Manley McCarthy claimed damages for the use of houses owned by them which were taken by the city to house smallpox patients, and Chairman Miller of the charity committee will look after this matter.

Mrs. Talbot, treasurer of the South Omaha Hospital association, requested that the taxes on the property occupied by the hospital be remitted and the request was referred to the finance committee. This has been done in the past and it is presumed that the committee report this year will be the same as formerly.

Property owners and residents in Albright petitioned for an extension of the Albright car line to the county line. At present the "Canaan" car trains stop at Madison street and the people want the track laid four blocks farther south. President Adkins promptly referred this interesting communication to the printing committee.

City Prosecutor Murphy will be instructed to confess judgment in favor of J. St. Tobias for $88, the balance due on the second ward fire hall.

Evidently in anticipation of a change in the charter Johnston offered a motion suggesting that the president appoint a committee of three to redistrict the city, making six wards. Trainor made a fight once on this proposition and said that the people wanted only five wards, with the dividing line on Twenty-third. He recommended that the matter lay over for awhile. Johnston wanted to go ahead and after Johnston had agreed to make it a committee of four the motion carried. This committee on redistricting will consist of Adkins, Johnston, Pitt and Martin. From the talk in the council it is evident that five wards is all the people demand at this time. If this is all the first ward will be cut, presumably at Twenty-third street, leaving the other ward boundaries as they now are.

An 11th and 12th were ordered moved and some crosswalks altered and laid and then the January bills were read. Adjourned until February 18.

School Board Meets. The most important feature of a tedious routine session of the Board of Education last night was the discussion of a motion by Dr. Brown to move the old frame Corrihan school building to Twenty-eighth and Harrison streets. The motion came up upon a petition from the signatures of many people residing in Meila's addition requesting that the old building be moved to lots 16 and 27 of the school district. Superintendent Wolfe suggested that the moving of the building to that location would deprive the new Corrihan school of its full quota of pupils and possibly reduce the attendance at Meila district because of the fact that there would be four rooms with two teachers. The several members of the board who are in favor of the building's location to immediately remove the building under those conditions. Mr. Brown's motion is so that it is dependent upon the decision of the committee on buildings and grounds. The committee with several members of the board, will probably meet Friday afternoon for the purpose of thoroughly investigating the matter.

Dr. Wolfe's monthly report called attention to the splendid examinations, the condition of the schools on the opening of the new semester and the good prospects for a prosperous school year. He stated that there were 248 more pupils now enrolled than at the same time last year.

Architect Davis submitted plans for the new high school building, which were adopted.

Member Roberts complained in submitting the report of the finance committee that a number of the members had authorized expenditures for various purposes which could not be accounted for on the board. This preliminary discussion, during the final agreement was that the rule would be strictly adhered to in the future.

Henry Best, one of the well known Germans of his friends, entertained quite a number of his friends at his residence, Twenty-second and Harrison, Sunday night, the occasion being the forty-fifth anniversary of his birth. A German singing society of Omaha attended in a body, and as a large number of prominent South Omaha Germans. Refreshments were served and the occasion will long be remembered by those who attended.

Janison Reception Tonight. At the First Presbyterian church tonight a reception and offering will be tendered to Rev. A New York Specialist Interviewed by the Bee Correspondent.

His Rules for Avoiding the Grip.

Don't eat too much. Avoid draughts. Keep feet warm and dry. Keep house well ventilated. Don't sit in cold places. Watch your bowels carefully. If constive and constipated keep bowels open with Cascarine.

Special to the Bee. NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—One of the most prominent specialists in this city was interviewed by me to day and makes the following statement. He says: "All the world has the grip. This epidemic has swept over the country causing alarming conditions. Nearly everyone will have it, and those who do not will be exceptions to the rule.

The grip poison, so styled, will cause your back to ache and a headache and aches all over. Your bowels must be kept open at this time or you will become seriously sick. Take a teaspoonful of Cascarine before you go to bed and in the morning you will feel like a new person. Cascarine is prescribed by many physicians, and is used extensively by the world over. It is a gentle laxative prepared with great care for men, women and children. It does not gripe like other laxatives, is pleasant to taste and very pleasing in action. Cascarine is not a tablet or pill but comes in bottles (blue and white wrappers) and is a tonic for the stomach, kidneys and liver and laxative tonic for the bowels. Mothers should not give the children any other laxative but Cascarine, and every housewife should keep a bottle close at hand. Cascarine is the very best laxative and grip preventive. Go to your druggist today and get a bottle, price 25 cents. If he hasn't it, tell him to get it for you or his jobber. Be sure you get Cascarine, and not cheap tablets or pills which are nasty to take and make you sick. Ask for Cascarine, insist on Cascarine, get Cascarine, the great and pleasing laxative tonic. Remember it comes in blue and white wrappers and is never sold in bulk. Ask your druggist for it today.
