South Comains councilmen to the city paymg for state cases, and the commissioners agreed that the deduction was allowable. Further, the commissioners agreed that the city was entitled to charge the county for the service of state papers and also conveying such prisoners to the county jatt. A request was made by the South Omaha contingent to bring the bill down to January 1, 1901, and when this is done notification will be given and an opportunity will be given the local authorities to check over he items. When the checking is done and comparisons with the police docket made another meeting will be held.

Major Cramer Here.

Major C. P. Cramer, one of the supervising architects of the Treasury department. was in the city yesterday for a few hours. The major superintended the construction in visiting the postoffice was to arrange for some repairs and alterations. Since leaving here Major Cramer superintended the construction of the postoffice building at Canton, O., and later on made some alterations to the Marine hospital in Cleveland. He is now enroute to the Pacific coast, where he will inspect some of the work now being done on public buildings.

Some of the officers on the police force are tagusted at the action of Special Officer voice in allowing prisoners to escape. On Veduesday Wolfe went to the rock pile with three prisoners, two with ball and chain on, while the other was not ironed. While the officer was taking a little sleep for himself the prisoners in irons loosened their chains and escaped, while the one who was free to go if he so desired remained and woke Wolfe
