

THE CENTURY AT HALF PRICE

THE BEE does not always do things by halves, but in one sense of the word, here is an exception, and it's a case where Bee readers are the gainers. Not all of them of course, but those who are quickest. The Bee has secured control of a limited edition of the Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia and Atlas, very latest edition, and the sets are now offered at half publishers prices, with the additional privilege of small monthly payments. Usually, when books are sold on the instalment plan, regular prices are charged and the volumes are delivered one at a time as paid for. Then comes the aggravation of wanting to look up some subjects only to find that it's in a volume yet to be delivered. Not so with this offer. The entire work is sent to your home, or office, upon an insignificant first payment and there are no bothersome collectors to cause you annoyance. You remit by mail, monthly. An ideal way to make your home a "Century Home." A home nowadays without its Century, is like the play of "Hamlet without a Hamlet," as an enthusiastic owner of the work remarked.

The Bee extends a general invitation to any and all who read this announcement, no matter where they may reside, to send for specimen pages and full particulars, via corner coupon above. This is the simplest way, and it puts you under no obligation whatever. The specimen book is made up of pages and maps from the volumes themselves, and, as it may be had for the asking, we will only emphasize the worth of the Century, by pointing below to a few of those in Omaha and elsewhere, who own and use it. The specimen book will tell more than it is possible for us in this announcement

Our Guarantee: The Bee guarantees that each subscriber to The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia and Atlas through this offer will receive the latest edition of this work, and the same books in every particular—paper, printing, binding, etc.—that cost double when ordered direct. There is only one Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia and Atlas, and this is it. This offer is genuine.

Hon. DAVID J. BREWER,
Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.
There is nothing in our language to equal The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia and Atlas. In this day of busy activity, when men have little time to investigate and yet must be certain as to the meaning of words they use and the accuracy of facts they state, there is nothing in our language which will so fully satisfy the demand for information, accurate, full and complete, as this work.
DAVID J. BREWER.

Rev. T. DE WITT TALMAGE.
Instead of wandering through libraries to find or miss some important fact, or discovery, or discussion, or controversy, all you have to do is to recall the first two or three letters of the subject you are elaborating, and put your hand on the volume that contains all you want to know. For all the hurried and hard-worked thinkers of the country The Century Dictionary and Cyclopaedia and Atlas is a respite and a reinforcement.
T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

HAD THE CENTURY been printed on the same size pages and on the same plan as the ordinary encyclopedia, the information contained in these large, handsome volumes, would have required forty volumes. This is not a hasty statement, but based upon exact computation.

The imprint of The Century Co. is a guarantee that the volumes are as nearly perfect, as modern machinery and expert bookbinders can make them. No matter how many books a library may possess, there's a big vacancy if The Century is not among them.

INFORMATION CONCERNING THE CENTURY AND OUR OFFER WILL BE FURNISHED FOR THE ASKING BY . . . THE OMAHA BEE
