Commission houses sold heavily and during the first half hour the market was pounded to 75\(\frac{1}{2}\)ft. Token the market was pounded to 75\(\frac{1}{2}\)ft. Token to market became dull and under local toying, much of it covering by shorts, reacted to 75\(\frac{1}{2}\)ft. A report that some wheat had been sold direct to Hamburg heiged the market it his time. Meanwhile, there was some activity in July wheat which decreased its dissecunt under May to $\frac{1}{2}\)ft. During the torenson the pronounced weakness of corn and ears and the discourt discount under May to Sayte.

During the torensen the pronounced weakness of corn and outs and the discouraging expert situation awake bears to the possibility of the situation and the market declined with some celerity to Do and closed weak, 1,2% to lower at 750775 to 15x porters reported eighteen loads taken. Semboard clearances in wheat and flour were equal to 28,000 bu, while primary receipts were 25,000 bu, compared with 60,000 hushers to 15x porters, against 22 hast week and 624 a year aga. Local receipts were forty-lines cars, three of contract grade.

Corn opened weak on freer country offerings, theral receipts and a stack shipping demand. An estimate placing the amount of corn in farmer's lunds at $50,000,000 bushels at the corresponding time a year aga, was also depressing, although it was nothing more serious than a grees. The proclams strength exerted itself in behalf of the failing market and accomplished some recovery, but the care week and accomplished some re-more serious than a gress. The provisions a strength exerted itself in behalf of the failing market and accomplished some recovery, but the oats weakness under this and corn slumped off sharply to the provision the reported engagement of ally-seven loads for export. May sold between $5\c\cent{c} and $40\cup$_$\scrt{c}$ Receipts were $5\c\cup$ cars, one of contract grade.

As was the case yesterday, the oats market led in the weakness of the grain markets. Heavy lots of long oats from holders tred of the featureless market formed the bulk of the offerings, but on the decline bears nut out some fair short lines. The market steadled and recovered fractionally near the close on profit-taking by shorts. May sold between $2\cup$_$\scrt{c}$_$\sc

MOVEMENTS IN STOCKS AND BONDS Stock Market Makes Quite Vigorous Resistance Against Bear Drive.

Resistance Against Bear Drive.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The market made quite a vigorous resistance this morning to an early bear drive. By means of the sustaining influence of individual stocks early losses were largely wiped out and the level of prices generally carried over last night, but during the latter part of the day the market succumbed to depression and speculative liquidation came into force. The result is a predominance of net losses on the day. A few stocks maintained a marked net gain, but they were rather, palpably under manipulation for their sustaining influence on the rest of the market while profit-laking was going on. The narrowing supply of available credits and the calling of loans by some of the longs was the most important influence in the reaction in addition the reaction had grown strong under the influence of the manipulative roots and the selling to take profits by this class of operators in a market where the public is not taking a large part had the effect of turning prices downward.

There has grown up some feeling that the public is not taking a large part had the ef-rect of turning prices downward.

There has grown up some feeling that the recent case of the money market has been in some sort due to artificial causes prompted by the desire of large capitalists to insure smooth salling for some of the im-portant financial operations recently set affort. Such artificial case must necessarily be limited in duration, the natural course of portant financial operations recently set affort. Such artificial case must necessarily be limited in duration, the natural course of events having their inevitable results in due time. Besides the absorption of over $3.500, 1000 by the subtreasury from the money market and the seasonable turn in the tide of the interior movement to New York, the money market has felt the effect this week of the payment by the Union Pacific of half the purchase price of its controlling interest in Southern Pacific. The Pennsylvania railroad is also reported to have paid over several million dollars on account of the Long Island railroad purchase.

Money rates have consequently closed and some of the holders of the stocks on margin have been prompted to liquidate. This selling was particularly marked today in Pennsylvania. Union Pacific and Burlington, which were made the subject of joint operations for a rise during the last few days. An effort was made to continue pool operations for the advance by a revival of reports of the absorption by Great Northern and Northern Pacific interests. This had the effect of lifting St. Paul 14. An advance in Chesapeake & Ohlo of 15. on talk of large carnings and an increased dividend was a strengthening factor and there was quite an active speculation for the rise in People's Gas and Sugar. With the exception of Chesapeake & Ohlo, which saved a net gain of 1%, these stocks lost practically all their gains and the selling movement carried the principal active railroad stocks from 1 to 2 points under yesterday.

Among the less important stocks which principal active railroad stocks from 1 to 2 points under yesterday.

Among the less important stocks which were pushed up at times during the afternoon were: Brooklyn Union and Consolidated, with advances of 6 and 6½; Puliman, 6½; General Electric, 2, and a number of others from 1 to 2. There was a turn against the shorts in some steel stocks not included in the United States Steel corporation which resulted in advances from 2¼ to 6% in the Republic Steel stocks, Colorado Fuel and Tennessee Coal. All of these stocks fell back after the demand from the shorts had been satisfied. The pressure shorts had been satisfied. The pressure against Amalgamated Copper carried it off at one time 1% and it closed with a net loss transaction in these certificates except in American Sheet Steel certificates, which stock has not heretofore been traded in on the Stock exchange. Some confusion was caused by ill-informed announcements that provision had been made for trading in certificates of the stocks of the United Steel corporation. Options in these securities are still confined to the curb, in the shape of contracts to deliver when issued.

The bond market was quite and irregular today. Sales, par value, $5,400,000, United States refunding 2s declined 1s per cent on the last call.

States refunding 2s declined is per cent on the last call.

The new Frankfort municipal bond, issued in the recent 15,000,000 marks loan, will be listed shortly on the New York Stock exchange. This statement was authorized by Speyer & Co., who have already placed nearly the entire issue in this country. The bonds yield about 3's per cent interest. They are to be prepared in denominations of 4,000 marks each, or, approximately, $1,000. Application probably will be made to list other foreign government loans on the New York Stock exchange before long, since financiers agree that such arrangements would do more to secure a permanent market for such offerings in New York than anything else.

Totals2,087 5,422 5,886 CAITLE—There was another light run of cattle here today and the demand being quite liberal the market ruled active and steady to strong all around. Beef steers of good quality were picked up early this morning at prices that looked strong as compared with yesterday. Where the cattle just suited them they paid perhaps a little higher prices, but as a rule the situation could best be described by calling it a strong, active market. As high as $5.40 was paid for a bunch of steers, which is the highest price paid in some time. The less desirable cattle, of course, were not in as 1 good demand, but owing to the light supply of the choicer grades they moved quite readily at good steady prices.

The cow market was also active and fully steady with yesterday. Mediumweight heirers or cows of good quality were ready sellers and in some cases brought a little stronger prices today. The ordinary run of cow stuff sold fully steady, particularly early in the morning. Some of the late trains that arrived did not fare quite as well, as packers had filled their more urgent orders and sellers did not find the buyers agust as anxious for supplies. SHEEP—There was just a fair run sheep here today and the demand was good shape, so that the market ruled acti and steady to strong all around. The fee ing seemed to be a little better on shee though, than it was on lambs. We he sold as high as $1.55, which looked given as compared with vesterday and or as as compared with yesterday, and othe bunches brought $4.50. There were no light bunches brought $4.50. There were no light-weight yearlings on saie. Colorado lambs sold at $5.05. but they were lighter than the $5.00 lambs of yesterday, so that the market today looked about steady.
