SNOW BLOCKADE IS RAISED advertisement: "Omaha is No Longer Cut Off from the West. EASTBOUND TRAINS BREAK THE DRIFTS. First to Arrive Are Loaded to the Limit with Heavy Passengers and Belated Mail-Regulator Order Expected Today. The snow blockade which has cut off Omaha from the west since Saturday was raised yesterday afternoon. The first eastbound train on the Union Pacific to arrive here since 7:30 p. m. Saturday pulled in between 2:30 and 3:30 this morning. The trains consisted of seven sections of No. 2 and were loaded to the limit with heavy passengers, while the mail cars were piled high with belated postal matter. Seven westbound trains which had been tied up at various points by the blockade were also released. Train No. 4, the Chicago special, was scheduled to arrive here on time at 6:50 a. m. It is expected that train service will be resumed today on something like regular time. The Burlington and Rock Island were not in such bad shape, though traffic has been seriously interrupted. Burlington trains No. 4 and 2, due here at 8:45 a. m. and 3 to Plattsmouth by the south route, thereby gaining some time. A stub train was made up at Lincoln, which came through on No. 2's time. The Rock Island made up a train at Fairbury which came through here in place of No. 8, the Colorado train. The Denver line of the Rock Island was effectively blocked Sunday, so No. 8 came through on the southern division of the Union Pacific and went on east by way of St. Joseph. Trains from the northwest on the Billings line of the Burlington and on the Elkhorn, were in bad shape. Thirty inches of snow was piled up at Deadwood Sunday, but the expectation was that this would be cleared away from the tracks during Monday. Apparently the Burlington's Deadwood train of yesterday morning has been abandoned. Stub trains were the order of the day yesterday. The Union Pacific made up a stub train at North Platte, also a No. 8. The former had a freight car to carry express and baggage, a passenger car and a chair car. Similar tactics prevailed during the day on the other roads. The people along the lines who wanted to come east took the train for the through train. The North-western steam trains east from here on schedule time, taking the place of the through trains with stubs made up here. President Hays and the party of officials were west of the blockade, on their way home from the Salt Lake City meeting. The storm first caught them at Sherman and Sunday night the track had been opened as far as Sidney, where they were held by the big blockade until last evening. PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. F. L. WOMAN'S WORK in Club and Charity advertisement: "Though lightly attended, Monday's meeting of the political and social science department of the Woman's club made up in interest what it lacked in numbers. A review of the previous meeting on 'Origin of the Social Settlement,' by the secretary, led up to an interesting paper on 'The Settlements of New York,' by Miss McGarry. She gave a brief sketch of the Boston college settlement, Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathrop's work and the work of J. G. Phelps-Stokes, with one story of their origin, and concluded with reading an article on the work written by Theodore Roosevelt. Mrs. Damon read a general review of the social settlements of the United States with their characteristics and special aims. The list included Hull House, Chicago Commons, 'The Mansie,' in Oakland, Cal., Lawrence house, Baltimore, Boston college settlement, 'Elizabeth Peabody,' Andover and the 'Willing V' of Boston, 'Prospect Union,' Cambridge, Berean settlement, Detroit, Whittier house, in New Jersey; the log cabin settlement in North Carolina, and Redside at Des Moines. She also spoke of the settlement recently organized in Japan and of the work of the missionaries in the heathen countries. Mrs. Lohinger took the chair and business was discussed. Mrs. Andrews represented the Woman's Christian Temperance Union the invitation to join it in the children's industrial work and to appoint two members to an advisory board. The department referred to in the committee now standing to look after that work. Mrs. Horn led the drill of the parliamentary practice department of the Woman's club Monday. This included a general application of all of the year's work on motions and was carried on creditably. At the conclusion of the drill Mrs. W. P. Harford took charge and there was discussion of the proposed plan of the club's taking up some special work. In the opinion of several the club is doing all that it can successfully carry on, most of the departments working along lines in which they are particularly interested and that they would scarcely care to give up, while with the heavy running expenses of the club its income for the coming year will scarcely admit of any extensive work in addition to what it is doing. There was a difference of opinion, but no suggestion was offered by the department. Miss McCormick, state secretary of the Young Woman's Christian associations of Nebraska, passed Monday in Omaha on her way back after the election of J. J. Fitzgerald, the democratic nominee for tax commissioner. According to the testimony adduced at the hearing before the city clerk Saturday, the fact was brought out that Fitzgerald was the person who filed the remonstrance against the name of Shields being placed on the ticket. As soon as this fact became known among the laboring world the feeling became intense and it is doubtful if he receives even as many votes as Shields will. These same people now virtually concede the election of Bennett, the republican nominee, and many who formerly proposed to vote for Fitzgerald, will vote for Bennett or Shields. The Shields vote cannot elect, and therefore Bennett will be in all probability the first tax commissioner South Omaha ever had. A special meeting of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange was held yesterday afternoon and a committee consisting of Frank Hittner and E. J. Powell and E. J. Harrell was appointed to look after the arrangements for the funeral of George S. Brown, who died yesterday at his home, Eighteenth and Farnam streets, Omaha. Suitable resolutions were passed by the exchange and the committee was authorized to spread upon the records of the exchange and a copy will be sent to the family. Last week 3,985 head of stockers and feeders were shipped to the country from this market. Of this number 2,415 head went to Nebraska feed lots, 1,187 to Iowa and the balance to Kansas, Colorado, Missouri and South Dakota. The large number of feeders being sent to Nebraska points shows where the money in the banks is going. Farmers are drawing on their surplus funds and are buying young stock here to take to their farms to feed. All of the cattle shipped out last week will return to this market in a mature condition within the next ninety days. The board of registration are being notified by letters signed by the city clerk that they will be expected to report for duty on Saturday of this week. Appointments of registrars are made for the coming year and the late appointments made by the county judge last fall hold good for the spring election. In case vacancies occur the places will be filled by appointment in the customary manner. The German-American club has indorsed the entire democratic ticket for the school election all women must register. The Schlitz brewing company is preparing to erect a two-story building at Thirty-sixth and U streets. A warrant is out for the arrest of New Orleans, La., on a charge of illegitimacy preferred by his father. Joseph Miller and Norme Geise are to be tried in police court for disturbing a religious meeting in Albright. Miss Louise Jensen, a niece of Henry Hittner, will sing tonight at the Metropolitan club in Omaha. Heavy stock receipts are looked for at the stock yards on account of the storm of Sunday and Monday. The council failed of a quorum last night, so the next regular meeting will be held on the first Monday in April. Summer uniforms for the mail carriers were received yesterday. The carriers expect to don these uniforms on Easter Sunday. The funeral of Ephraim Compton will be held at the residence of Mrs. Daniel Banner, 234 G street, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. A rally of republicans will be held at Kells hall Wednesday night. H. C. Murdock, chairman, and a number of speakers will be present. A social will be held at the Young Men's Christian association on Wednesday evening. There will be a program and several other interesting features. Dave Melle, a mid-time vagrant, is now serving fifteen days on the rock pile because he did not leave the city when he promised to do so. The annual meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, which is to be held last night, will be postponed for one week on account of the weather. R. F. Moss of Graham, Mo., and Frances Dunn of Omaha were married last evening by Rev. R. L. Wheeler, pastor of the First Baptist church, at the residence of Daniel Robb. The annual meeting of the North Omaha Improvement club took the form of a special gathering, at which the members and their families with a few invited guests were present. The business session was closed early and the meeting then turned over to the amusements committee, which presented a literary and musical program, which was continued until about 10 o'clock. Vocal solos were rendered by M. Montgomery, Miss Dorsey, Charles Gruening, W. J. C. Putnam, H. A. Wilson and Mr. Vandercook, duet by Mrs. C. H. Gratton and Mrs. F. C. Craig, piano numbers by Mrs. Craig, Miss Hansen and S. Reed Spencer and recitations by Miss Grace Brown and Mrs. Martin Piotts. The mandolin quartet furnished music in addition to the set numbers. At 10 o'clock the hall was cleared and dancing was indulged in until midnight. PAVING TAX PROVISION Ordinances are introduced at a special meeting of the city council. A special meeting of the city council was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of introducing ordinances, which will make proper provision for the issuance of the $25,000 worth of paving bonds and the $75,000 worth of sewer bonds voted upon last fall. Ordinances were introduced some time ago, which provided for the issuance of all these bonds in 1901. The proposition submitted to the voters stipulated that the bonds were to be issued in 1901 and 1902. That this provision may be complied with $74,000 worth of paving bonds and $74,000 worth of sewer bonds will be issued this year and the remaining $2,000 will be issued in 1902. A HORRIBLE OUTBREAK of large areas on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head. I was cured by the use of Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her.
