Several Tracks. CHICAGO, April 1.—Stewards of the Western Jockey club, in their executive session here today, amended the outlaw clause of their rules of racing by permit-ting horses outlawed by racing at Little Rock to fulfill all stake engagements made prior to the adoption of the rules. March 5. and further granted such horses the right to race in all purses at such horses the right to race in all purses at such horses the right to race in all purses at such tracks where the stake engagements had been made. This is considered a victory for the Horse-men's Protective association, of which T. P. Hayes is the president. Hayes' associa-tion has been waging a bitter fight against the outlaw clause. The outlaw rule as it now reads will affect only a few selling platers of little or no account. The stewards also accepted the restgma-tion of Robert Aull. former president of the St. Louis Fair association, and removed the St. Louis track from the membership of the new organization. This action was ex-pected because of the actien of recent stockholders of the association, who closed out their stock to a corporation affiliated with the Western Turf congress. The following is the text of the resolution adopted amending the outlaw clause of the rules: "All stake engagements made prior to

Not One of Them Makes Good in the Running. WASHINGTON, April 1.—The card at Bennings today, while interesting, proved an enigma to the talent, not an out-and-out favorite winning in any of the events. The first race went to Invasion, Speedmas, the favorite, finishing second and Revonah, heavily played, coming in last. Tamah Nawis took the second by four lengths, beating Laracor and Nala, equal favorites. With two starters in the third Robert Waddell had it all his own way. Kld Cox, the favorite, breaking and failing to finish. The fourth was the most interesting event. With a big field there were four horses equally played for favorites. Sidell, one of them, winning out by half a length. Beau, an outsider, won the fifth race by four lengths. Irene Lindsay, the favorite finishing in the bunch. In the last race Bill Daly's Belgrade won by a nock in front of Knight of the Garter, the favorite.
