CAPTAIN MARSH IS AT REST

Funeral Services Are Conducted at the Family Residence.

REV. HUBERT C. HERRING OFFICIATES

Out of Respect for the Unostentations Life Led by the Decensed, the Obsegules Are Simple, but None the Less Impressive.

The funeral cervices of the late Captain W. W. Marsh were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 804 Pine street. Rev. Robert C. Herring, pastor of the First Congregational church, conducted the services. Interment was at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Captain Marsh died April 2 at Nassau, Babama islands, where he had gone in search of Lealth. His son Allen was with him at the time of his last sickness and accompanied the remains back to Omaha, arriving here Sunday morning Simplicity marked the funeral ceremonies. During life Captain Marsh was an unostentatious man and the last sad rites held over his remains were in keeping with the life he had led.

The plain black casket was covered with flowers sent by friends and about it were grouped handsome floral pieces given by stockholders and employes of the Omaha Street Railway company, the Union National bank and other companies with which Captain Marsh was connected.

Music by Quartet.

A quartet composed of Miss Grace Northrup, Mrs. Ely, Delmore Cheney and Daniel Wheeler, jr., sang "Abide with Me," "Rock of Ages" and "Heart Be Still." Rev. Herring reviewed the life of Captain Marsh briefly and paid tribute to his character. The following friends of Captain Marsh acted as palibearers: Frank Murphy, W. A. Smith, George A. Lioagland, Herman Kountze, W. V. Morse, George Barker, John D. Creighton and John A. Swobe. At the cemetery the services consisted of a prayer and a few remarks by Rev. Herring.

Captain Marsh is survived by Mrs. Marsh and four sons, Charles, Frank, William and Allen Atwood, all of whom attended the Falls, Me., Mrs. M. L. Tripp of Yankton. S. D., sisters of Mrs. Marsh; Mrs. Stella M. Champlin of Minneapolis, a sister of Captain Marsh, and Merris Pollard of Nehawka, Neb., a cousin of the deceased, were other relatives who attended the Captain Marsh was a native of Vermont, where he was born in 1832. He came to Nebraska in 1856 and settled in Dakota that after July I the tax will be taken from county. Six years later he moved to Omaha and has been prominently identified with this city since that time.

Active in Business Life.

When he first came to Omaha he was in terested in the ferry between Council Bluffs and Omaha and was superintendent of the Union Pacific transfer. After the opening of the bridge across the river in 1871 he acquired an interest in the Omaha Street Railway company. At the time of his death he was treasurer of this company and president of the Union National bank.

Captain Marsh has suffered with tuberculosis of the lungs for several years. Last fall while traveling in the Black Hills he became much worse and went to Wyo- ditionally arranged. It portrays superintendent in charge of the western division, on the condition of the routes in that sternness and self-assumed infallibility satisfactorily and that it is greatly appreciated by the farmers, who are now served betrays some more less innocent country bring the letters and papers to a point not suggestive nor anything that could possibly more than half a mile from the homes of the patrons. He finds that the daily newspapers are the greatest beneficiaries of rural delivery, and that in the counties where the routes are established the increase in daily newspaper circulation among the farmers has been nearly 100 per cent. This has had in a measure a bad effect upon the weekly newspapers, especially those of general circulation, as the dailtes have generally taken their place.

There is one phase of the question not touched upon by the superintendent which is causing the department considerable trouble, and that is the frequency with which the boxes of the rural routes are rifled. Very few packages or letters of value are taken, as the carriers are careful to leave none of them exposed, but frequently postoffice inspectors receive word that letters and papers addressed to paralong free delivery routes are taken by those not entitled to them, and the officers at Omaha have several persons in various parts of the state under observa-

In some cases the complaints are traced down and found to be made through a misunderstanding, a neighbor having taken the mail for delivery to the proper person, and, possibly, having forgotten to deliver it when he arrived at home. This causes friction and some interested party generally reports the case, much to the disgust of both parties to the transaction. When such cases are found the matter is dropped, but where a person wantonly rifles a rural free delivery box prosecution will be rigid. The department realizes that the boxes are exposed to a greater degree than those of any other department of the service and that the greatest care is necessary to protect them. For this reason every complaint is closely investigated and where no prosecution follows the parties are always cautioned by the officers.

The Missouri river is off on a little toot. In the forty-eight hours which ended at 8 o'clock yesterday morning the water works gauge on the big muddy at this point shows a rise of 3.6 feet, 9.9 feet above low water mark.

The crest of the high water passed here last evening, for when the reading was made at Sioux City yesterday morning the gauge was falling, showing a decrease in the forty-eight hours of .3 of a foot. Plattsmouth showed 7 feet, a rise of feet; St. Joseph, 4.6 feet, a rise of 1 foot; Kansas City 14.6 feet, a rise of 1.8 feet. The cause of the rise is assigned to the temporary hot wave which passed over the region in the vicinity of Pierre, S.
