WILLIAM M'KINLEY IN OMAHA

The President Will Include Omaha in His Itinerary and Spend a Day Here.

THE PREPARATIONS IN PROGRESS

Indicate the Purpose of Our People to Give Him a Genuine Western Welcome When He Comes.

Wm. McKinley is no stranger in Omaha. He has partaken of Omaha hospitality on at least three occasions. Perhaps his visit to the Transmississippi Exposition was the most memorable visit of the three. All our people will recall with pleasure that great day and its incidents.

The President's Flag

floated over the Omaha club and the presidential party occupied handsome apartments within its walls. His stay when he next visits this city cannot be so prolonged and in many ways it will be less notable, but to any distinguished guest is never wanting in cordiality or taste. It therefore goes without saying that the day fixed for the visit will be made the important episode of the year's municipal history. When President McKinley's train arrives within the city limits will notify all good citizens to prepare for the reception of the honored guest. While he remains within the realm of King Ak-Sar-Ben, he and those accompanying him will be given to understand that Omaha for one day will forget her partisan politics and put aside political predilections, uniting as one man to extend to the chief executive of the United States the hospitality becoming his station and due from loyal Americans.

The Siren Whistle

President B. H. Robinson.

of the Bankers Reserve Life Association will decorate the office of the Bankers Reserve Life with national colors. If the president of the United States cares for the information, he will be able to learn that Nebraska's most vigorous and successful life company is having its share of McKinley prosperity. He will learn also that this McKinley state stands by home enterprise and that the Bankers Reserve Life Association will double its business in the McKinley year of 1901, and that its policies are not excelled in the world. Every loyal citizen is invited to examine its policies and investigate its superior plans.

THE WASTE BASKET

is the grave of tons of advertising matter sent out by would-be advertisers to get business for themselves. Printing that is not sufficiently attractive to escape the waste basket is terribly expensive, no matter how small its first cost may have been. Our imprint on a job of work means Anti-Waste-Basket.

Editors Who Flourish

weekly in this territory. O. E. Hull conducts the Leon Reporter, democratic, and it is in the same class as its competitor. Mr. Hull is a young man of high abilities and has made his business a success from the time he took hold of it a few years ago. The Reporter is a very old paper, founded in 1864.

Printer of Mormondom.

But it is Joseph Smith the Younger of Lamoni, Decatur county, who does the biggest publishing business in southwest Iowa. Mr. Smith is the head of a printing concern big enough to hold all the other newspaper offices in the Eighth congressional district. He is something less than 100 years old, with a beard like the beard of Aaron. For he is the head of the Mormon church of America. He is the son of the original Joseph Smith, prophet and author of the book of Mormon. Joseph Smith the Younger never saw Salt Lake, but he is the real head of the church of Latter Day Saints. The supreme court of the United States has said so. Decatur county is populated largely by Mormons. They are not polygamists, but otherwise accept substantially all that the Utah Mormons do. Their prophet is Joseph Smith, patriarch of Lamoni. They conduct a really immense printing house, one of the largest in Iowa, not even excepting the cities. They give titles after the manner of scripture; the product supports Graceland college, a Mormon institution, a splendid home for aged of the faith, and the big printing concern, whose bibles, song books, Sunday school lesson leaves and dozens of other products are sold all over the world.

A. D. Egan is now the proprietor of the Atlantic Telegraph, the paper founded by Lafe Young. Mr. Egan has continued to give the people of Atlantic a good afternoon daily. Gardner & Sons conduct the Cass County Democrat, weekly, at Anita; Sherm Myers runs the Tribune (republican). Mr. Myers has taken a prominent part in Ninth district politics and is widely known throughout the state. W. W. Waite conducts the democratic Herald. J. M. Briggs is the veteran of the Anita newspaper men, running the Republican.

James M. Gow's Greenfield Transcript was for years the home organ of Congressman Hager when he was in congress. The Transcript and Democrat, by E. J. Sidey, are both strong papers. W. H. McClure conducts one of the handsomest little papers, typographically, in the Fontanelle Observer. It is as interesting and sprightly as it is handsome. Mr. McClure believes the appearance of a paper is a large part of its attractiveness and he never permits carelessness in this regard. J. C. W. Meeting of the Association.

A Noted Divine Who Is chaplain of a Wisconsin regiment, in speaking on the question of abolishing the Army Canteen, says: "Good beer is better than bad water." A quotation coming from such a source should deserve more than a passing thought. The Omaha Brewing Association wishes to state that in the manufacture of their beers they use artesian water and the best of hops, thus forming a combination of all that is the best—artesian water, imported hops and "Blue Ribbon Bottled Beer." Have a limited number of cases of our celebrated Bock Bottled Beer, so get your order in at once and be up to date.
