

OWNERSHIP OF BURLINGTON

General Manager G. W. Holdrege Talks of Impending Changes. MANAGEMENT WILL REMAIN THE SAME. Directors of the Road Are Expected to Take Some Definite Action at a Meeting to Be Held in Boston.

G. W. Holdrege, general manager of the Burlington & Missouri River railroad, has returned from Chicago, where he was called Friday for consultation on railroad matters, one of which was the relation between the present owners of the Burlington and the Hill-Morgan syndicate which has been negotiating for the purchase of the Burlington.

"I know nothing of this beyond what has been in the papers," said Mr. Holdrege in reply to questions, "but I understand the directors are to have a meeting in Boston this week, probably Thursday, at which time the matter of the transfer of the ownership will be talked over. If that deal goes through, there will be no change in the management of the road, as I understand the situation. There may be some change in the board of directors, but the executive and operating departments of the road will remain the same and the business will be conducted just as it has been, so far as the public is concerned.

"The Burlington will remain an independent road, will retain its own identity and will pursue the same policy. No change in any of the officials is anticipated, though the new interests will probably have representation on the board of directors. It is my understanding that the proposition of the Hill-Morgan syndicate is for the exchange of stock for new 2 1/2 per cent bonds, but I do not know at what figure the stock is to be exchanged.

"E. H. Harriman, as I understand the deal, has nothing to do with it, but the proposition comes from other interests. The recall of the surveyors from Wyoming is of no significance, for their work is about completed there. Two parties have been called in and a third is remaining behind to complete the lines which have been run from Guernsey to Salt Lake and Ogden. We have not abandoned that work nor has the decision been reached that the extension will be made. No word has come from the higher authorities concerning this and the proposed deal has nothing to do with the recall of the surveyors.

"I don't know what Mr. Hill would think of building that extension should be secured the control of the Burlington, though I cannot see how it will interfere with any of his or other Burlington lines." Mr. Holdrege says the greater part of last week in the west, going first to Deadwood and then to Denver. He arrived home Friday evening and took the next train for Chicago. He spent a few hours in this city Sunday, returning to Chicago in the evening. It was common talk among the railroad men that the movements of the general manager signified important business on hand. In his talk he admitted that he had some conference on the subject of the transfer of the control of the road while in Chicago, and said that this was the outline of the situation according to his best understanding.

Another official who is in close touch with the management of the Burlington pointed out that the consummation of this deal for the transfer of the control of the Burlington to the Hill-Morgan syndicate will have little effect locally. "You will find," said this official, "that the deal is practically completed now. It was when J. J. Hill left New York for the west last week. All that remains now is the arrangement of the details of the transfer and the official sanction on the part of the Burlington.

"But you will see no difference in the real operation of the Burlington. The same officials will continue to direct its affairs. Locally there will be nothing to show that any change has occurred, for Mr. Holdrege will remain general manager, and the same corps of officers under him will carry on the business of the B. & M. along the same lines as heretofore.

"The same will be true of the officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the backbone of the Burlington system. There may be some changes, some consolidations of the officials in the east, and possibly some others may be dispensed with, but the transfer of the control will have no effect locally.

Harriman is Not the Head. "This deal is being worked along different lines than that of the purchase of Southern Pacific stock for the Union Pacific. E. H. Harriman was at the head of that movement, while it is understood he has not the control in this transaction. The Burlington has been assigned to Hill and Morgan in the sphere of influence division of the country. They will direct the financial affairs of the Burlington under the new arrangement in harmony with the affairs of the Great Northern. The result will be a saving of interest and a financial gain for the stockholders of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. That stock paid 6 per cent last year, while it is said that the B. & M. paid but 5. The proposition of Hill is to guarantee a revenue of more than 7 per cent, in fact nearly 8 per cent, and it is believed that the deal will go through.

Good for Rheumatism. Last fall I was taken with a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatic cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South Jerseyman. After two applications of this remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle, was completely cured. -Sallis Harris, Salem, N. J.

HEARNE UNABLE TO APPEAR

"Sag Harbor" Will Be Presented Here Without the Aid of Its Author. When The Bee announced on Sunday that James A. Hearne was coming to the Boyd this week in his own beautiful play "Sag Harbor" it was on the assurance of the representative of Mr. Hearne's manager that he would surely be with the company here. When the report from Chicago that Mr. Hearne had broken down was mentioned, the agent said it was only temporary. Stuart Robson, who was in Omaha Saturday night, said he had spoken to Mr. Hearne in Chicago just before the author-actor started for the east. Mr. Robson said Mr. Hearne's voice had given out and that he would not be able to appear again for weeks. A telegram received by The Bee from the Broadway theatre, New York, Monday night, confirms the story that Mr. Hearne has left the "Sag Harbor" company.

When Manager Burgess of the Boyd was spoken to on the subject he said: "I regret very much that Mr. Hearne is not advertised as with the company. I do not wish to be a party to any deception of the public and do not want people to buy tickets expecting that they are going to see Mr. Hearne. The agent of the managers under whose direction 'Sag Harbor' is being presented insisted on making the announcement, which I have since found is not warranted by the facts. My Wednesday night word from Kansas City, where the company is playing this week, that the piece is beautifully put on and is running very smoothly. Still, I want people to know that Mr. Hearne is not in the cast, so they will not be disappointed on coming to the theater."

LOOKS FOR ABUNDANT CROPS

Gothenburg Farmer Says Condition of Ground Is Favorable for Record Breaking.

W. D. Giffen of Gothenburg was in the city Tuesday and tells of excellent prospects for the crops. "Conditions have not been better in twelve years," he said. "The ground has not been so soaked since 1891 and it appears as though nothing can keep back the largest crops we have had since that year. The farmers want to get in their crops, which the continuation of the rain and snow is preventing. They are in good humor about it, however, and believe that it will clear up in time. First came the heavy snows, which melted slowly, and the moisture soaked into the earth. These were followed by the rains and the ground is full of moisture. The hot winds cannot develop while the ground is in its present wet condition and if we have a few good showers along in the summer the crops will be tremendous."

Mr. Giffen brought in nineteen applications for quarter sections of land in his part of Nebraska and was closing the deals at the Union Pacific land office. C. E. Landland is also in the city after an extended trip through Colorado and Wyoming and reports that conditions were never better.

NASH SEES THE WORLD

Representative of Omaha Smelter Returns from a Long Tour.

F. A. Nash, Jr., has arrived home from a trip around the world and tells of a delightful and profitable time. He has been an extended trip through Colorado and Wyoming and reports that conditions were never better. He visited the principal countries. His object was partly pleasure, but more especially business connected with the mining interests of the smelter company. Going west from here he visited Honolulu, the Sandwich Islands, New Zealand, Australia, India, Arabia, Egypt and then up through Europe along the regular tourists routes. In Australia he spent three months examining the mining properties and allied interests. Speaking of the continent there, Mr. Nash said that everything appeared to be prosperous and the properties were paying well but the country is comparatively new. "There is only one country for me and that is the United States. None of the countries that I have visited compares with ours and I am glad to get back home. My trip has been a delightful one. I have enjoyed it and at the same time it has been a profitable one from a business standpoint."

V. B. Conklin, Bowersville, O., says: "I received more benefit from Foley's Kidney Cure than from months of treatment by physicians."

BUILDINGS TO BE PERMANENT

Uncle Sam Decides to Build No More Temporary Military Structures.

Bids will be opened at the headquarters of the Department of the Missouri April 30 for the building of a brick hospital at Fort Robinson, Neb., and May 15 for the erection of two artillery stables and a hospital stable at Fort Riley. All of these structures will be of brick.

The War department is not putting up any more temporary buildings these days, said an officer in connection with the quartermaster's department, "and a fort that receives attention from the architect now may be considered as permanently located."

B. Presson, Pressonville, Kan., writes: "Nothing like Foley's Honey and Tar" is the universal verdict of all who have used it. Especially has this been true of coughs accompanying a gripe. Not a single bottle failed to give relief.

RASMUSSEN RUNS AT LARGE

Barkeeper Resists Arrest and is Clubbed into Submission by Police.

The alacrity with which John H. Rasmussen a policeman, clubbed Mike Rasmussen into submission Monday night when the latter was resisting arrest probably saved him from being shot. Rasmussen is a bartender in a lower Farnam street saloon. Monday night he started out on a rampage after having consumed any quantity of red liquor. He was having things all his own way when Officer Russell interposed an objection and placed him under arrest. Rasmussen was obstinate. He disputed the officer's authority and reached for his coat pocket, when Russell swatted him over the head with his club. At the station a search revealed the fact that Rasmussen carried a big revolver, with every chamber loaded. In the pocket of his coat and also a pair of brass knuckles. He was fined in police court yesterday for disorderly conduct.

SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN.

A Preparation that Will Destroy the Dandruff of Greasy Hair. Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite that digs into the scalp and saps the vitality of hair at the root, causing falling hair and baldness, biologists set to work to discover some preparation that will kill that germ. After a year's labor in one laboratory the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered, and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, which besides curing itching humors, kills dandruff and permanently eradicates dandruff. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

Easter is not the stopping point for Millinery exhibits at Hayden's. The scene is continually changing here. New productions coming from our workrooms each morning to replace those shown on the previous day. There are replica turbans with rolling brims—becoming, charming effects; hats with side trimmings and many others; all showing that dainty artistic touch of our competent milliners that makes our trimmed hats so stylish, popular and becoming. The best of materials and an almost endless variety to choose from. Dainty chiffon hats—the choicest. The offering tomorrow will be especially interesting as it includes some very new original ideas in keeping with the advancing season. Special exhibit of misses and children's hats at 50c and up. Special showing of an elaborate line of hats at $1.08, $2.98 and $3.98 in black and colors.
