RACING PRAIRIE FIRES

Fierce Conflagrations Sweep Northward Over Cherry County Ranches.

FLAMES ARE DRIVEN BY HEAVY WIND

Details Mesager—One Ranch Loses Buildings and Only Early Rain Can Save Others—Weather Bureau is Hopeful.

VALENTINE, Neb., April 26.—(Special Telegram.)—Word received from the southwestern part of this (Cherry) county, is to the effect that disastrous prairie fires are raging there, that the buildings of one cattle ranch have been entirely wiped out, and that other ranches are threatened. Details are very meager, and it is impossible to learn the name of the ranch which has suffered the loss of its buildings, which is about sixty miles in length. The report says that the fires started about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and at 10 o'clock last night were still raging. They are traveling rapidly northward under three separate heads, four miles apart.

A high wind from the south is prevailing at the present writing, and this, in connection with the fact that the prairie grass is heavy and dry throughout the southern parts of the county, make a gloomy outlook for ranchmen. It is understood that farmers and cattlemen have turned out in large numbers in the threatened sections and are engaged in back-firing, but the scope of the fire is so great that human agencies can avail little. A good, drenching rain is the only hope of the ranchmen whose property lies in the path of the conflagration. The weather bureau reports

TRIPLE LINK CELEBRATION

Odd Fellows Observe Eighty-Second Anniversary of the Order.

MANY OUT-OF-TOWN VISITORS ARE HERE

Parade is One of the Most Important Features of the Event—Public Meeting at Creighton Hall Tonight.

The celebration of the eighty-second anniversary of the foundation of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was celebrated in Omaha yesterday afternoon, and last night at Creighton hall the celebration was closed with a public meeting at which the grand master of the state, Mayor Moore and other dignitaries delivered addresses.

Early morning trains brought members of the order from Fremont, Beatrice, Tecumseh, Tekamah, Blair and other towns in Nebraska, from Red Oak, Council Bluffs and other Iowa towns, making a grand total of approximately 1,200 persons who are taking part in the festivities.

The parade, which was a principal feature of the day, formed at the corner of Fourteenth and Dodge streets at 2 o'clock. The first division consisted of the Patriarchs Militant, under the leadership of Canton Ezra Millard, followed by Canton Gustavus Adolphus, both of Omaha, Canton Fremont of Fremont, Beatrice of Beatrice, Potawatamie of Council Bluffs, and Hesperian encampment of Omaha. The second division was composed of the subordinate lodges of Omaha, South Omaha, Council Bluffs and those in the towns immediately adjoining. The third division consisted of subordinate lodges from more distant parts of the state and the rest given over to the members of the Rebekah degree in carriages.

From the point of formation the parade moved west on Dodge to Fifteenth street, south on Fifteenth to Douglas street, east on Douglas to Eleventh street, south on Eleventh to Farnam street, west on Farnam to Sixteenth street, north on Sixteenth to Cass street, countermarching on Sixteenth to Douglas street, east on Douglas to Fifteenth street, south on Fifteenth to Harney street, where the parade disbanded and the members went to Creighton hall, where the afternoon program was carried out.

Evening Session.

At the meeting at Creighton hall at 8 o'clock Colonel John W. Nichols, head of the Patriarchs Militant of the state, presided. On the platform were seated Mayor Moore, Colonel Louis Heimrod, Chevaliers John H. Cooper and F. B. Bryant, Lieutenant George L. Edwards, Post Grand Masters John Evans and Charles A. Peterson, Grand Master Porter C. Johnson of Homesville, Neb.; Mrs. C. Talbot of South Omaha, president of the Rebekah assembly of the state; Ed P. Smith and other dignitaries.

Colonel Nichols opened the meeting by introducing Mayor Moore, who bade the visiting Odd Fellows welcome to Omaha. The mayor congratulated the membership on the success of the order since its institution and predicted a glowing future for it.

The principal speaker of the evening was Ed P. Smith. Mr. Smith said he had prepared a paper to be delivered on the occasion, but after its preparation had attended services at a church, where the preacher had denounced secret societies of all sorts and that he had then resolved to alter the character of his address. He said in part:

"In the eighty-two years of the existence of Oddfellowship in America the mode of life of the people of the world has undergone a revolution. The map of the world has been changed. Countries which were once deserts have become fertile and countries which were weak and struggling for existence have become powerful, because they were founded upon a correct principle. In this time Oddfellowship has proved its right to existence by its growth and the progress it has made in all material development. The 1,000,000 of members in this country, the 10,000 in the state of Nebraska and the 1,200 in Douglas county proclaim that Oddfellowship has kept pace with the advance of the human race. Oddfellowship does not enter the political field in any partisan sense. It realizes that no country and no city is better than the level of the morals of its citizens and attempts to elevate the country by raising the standard of manhood. Oddfellowship is not a religion. It has no creed or religious practice, while it teaches a reverence for the Creator. It strives to uphold the churches of every denomination, recognizing the fact that if the Catholic churches were destroyed the entire world would have to be doubtless, that if the Protestant churches were wiped out of existence the criminal court rooms would have to be increased. The churches do a good and necessary work, but I venture to say that since the sermon on the

EXAMINE THEM.

The "Coffee-Never-Hurt-Me" People.

Some famous brain workers have made a welcome discovery along the line of recovery of health by the proper selection of food. Several of us have to be doubtless, "hurt-me" kind, but, as an experiment, tried leaving it off for ten days, and the use of Postum Cereal Food Coffee in its place. A definite and decided improvement in health is practically certain to attend such a change.

Look carefully into the state of health of the individual who knows that "coffee don't hurt me," and you are almost sure to find some form of physical ail or functional disturbance—perhaps bodily complexion, or weak eyes, impatient heart failure, kidney trouble, liver or bowal disorders, or some form of weakness that shows plainly enough by the cry for relief set up from some organ of the body.

Why does the dismissal of coffee and the use of Postum bring help? Experiments in artificial digestion show clearly to the scientific investigator that coffee arrests digestion, and according to one authority, allows only 61 per cent of the food to be digested. That strikes at the very keystone of health. It fails to give the system the means lack of good blood, and therefore a lack of food for the nerve centers. As the nerves control the organs of the entire body, one can readily understand that a disorganized nervous system may show effect in any part of the body. Therefore a removal of the cause will allow nature to right herself. A powerful assistant to nature is Postum Cereal Food Coffee, composed of the albumen, phosphates, gluten, etc., from which nature builds in the delicate tissues of the nerves.

Postum aids digestion without dragging and furnishes a concentrated liquid food, as well as a most delicious morning coffee.

If the reader has ever failed to make Postum satisfactorily, he will be found that to allow it to boil 15 minutes after boiling commences will solve the problem, as it must be so boiled to extract taste, color and food value. It is the only original Postum Coffee with a pleasant coffee flavor.

Many imitations of Postum are now upon the market. The only palatable ones thus far tested prove to be made of a low grade of coffee and some other articles, notwithstanding the loud claims that they are "pure."

State Grand Master Speaks.

Following the address of Mr. Smith the venerable P. C. Johnson, grand master of the order of the state, delivered an impromptu address, in which he, as a minister of the gospel, defended the order from attacks from the pulpit and referred to the work of the order in the countries where it has been established.

The address of the grand master ended the program and the floor was cleared for the ball which followed.

OLD GRADS STAND SPONSORS

High School Cadets Circumvent the Board of Education and Annual Hop is Enjoyed.

The youthful spirits of the Omaha High school cadets fowed on unchecked last night in spite of the solemn ban laid upon them by a staid and unsympathetic Board of Education. The board had decreed that the annual hop of the officers must pass forever from the annals of the school as a thing tending to produce cliques and class and neglected copybooks. The young undergraduates were respectful and obedient and accordingly helpless.

It was not beyond their power to suggest, however, and by their cunning to circumvent the conservatism of those whose youth was passed. This was announced that the ex-officers, "old grads" of several years' standing, should stand sponsors for the hop. The young officers forewore all responsibility, except in their interest as guests. It was an outside affair, with which the board has no concern, and the following were in charge: Frank Hughes, '99; Otis Alvison, '99; Fred Sweeley, '99; and George Walden, '99.

Metropolitan hall was profusely decorated with purple and white, the colors of the school and the battalion. The orchestra was screened behind a mass of palms and bright organidies and white duck uniforms led gaily to the scene. The dance program only paused at the twenty-fifth number, with as many encores in between.

TRAVELERS' ANNUAL MEETING

Chairman Stacy of Railroad Committee Will Address Gathering of Commercial Men.

J. D. Stacy, chairman of the national railroad committee of the American Travelers' association, will arrive in Omaha this forenoon and will speak at the annual meeting at 1 o'clock at the Commercial club rooms. This is an unlooked for event, as was expected of Mr. Stacy could not be present. A telegram to R. F. Hodges announces his approach.

Scientific Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around, but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not use this liniment and get well? It is for sale by all druggists.

OFFICIAL EYE TO SCAN GRAIN

Inspection Needed of a Standard to Satisfy World Markets.

CEREALS ARE NOW IMMUNE FROM SCRUTINY

Nebraska Dealers, However, Desire Their Wares to Pass Muster in All Markets, and Steps Will Be Taken Accordingly.

Nebraska grain dealers recognize the need of a more adequate inspection in Omaha in order that an approval here may be endorsed in the large markets of the world. The grain committee of the Board of Trade prepared a recommendation at its meeting Thursday night which will be submitted to the directors on May 12. One committee member pointed out that there is no inspection whatever in the state at present, the law creating a state office for that purpose having been declared unconstitutional in February.

"At the last meeting of the legislature," he said, "a bill was introduced to establish inspection, but in the closing hours it failed of passage. Dealers do not generally lament the bill's fate, as Illinois is the only state of importance where a similar measure is in force and the plan of giving the inspector's appointment to the governor is not approved in the larger cities. In Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other points of export the inspection is made under superintendence of the boards of trade. These inspections are recognized internationally as standard. What we want is an Omaha inspection upon which grain may be sold without question in Liverpool or any other market. The office of inspector would be better served, we believe, if it is separated from politics."

In accordance with this view the committee will recommend that the directors appoint both an inspector and weigher.

EVANGELIST AND SINGER

They Will Conduct a Series of Revival Meetings in First Christian Church.

The revival meetings to begin in the First Christian church Sunday are attracting considerable attention from the members and a large attendance is expected. Rev. Mr. Scoville of Chicago, who will conduct them, besides being an ardent evangelist and an able orator, has a strong, thoroughly Christian-like personality that inspires large audiences and many conversions wherever he goes.

Another feature of the revival will be a series of songs, conducted by Prof. DeLosa Smith, a person of undisputed ability in conducting evangelistic singing. Altogether the conditions for a great religious awakening are regarded as more favorable than they have been for years and it is expected immeasurable good to the church will result from the meetings.

A Burning, Boiling Flood

Washed down a telegraph line which Charles C. Ellis of Lincoln, Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes, "I gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. For sale by Kuhn & Co. Price, 50c and $1.

INQUEST OVER OWEN H. LITTLE

Coroner Swanson Will Look Into the Electrification Case Monday.

An inquest in the case of Owen H. Little, who was killed by an electric wire at Twenty-fourth and Dodge streets early Friday morning while assisting in moving a building, will be conducted by Coroner Swanson Monday. A report in circulation during the day that his employer, H. W. Barnum, the houseowner, had been arrested, proved unfounded. No action has been taken in the matter and none will be until the finding of the coroner's jury is made. Employees of the electric light company replaced the wire which caused the killing with a new wire Friday afternoon.
