REDS WIN LONG STRUGGLE

Defent St. Louis Visitors Four to Three in Eleventh Innings.

CINCINNATI, May 7.-With the bases full in the eleventh inning and one man out, Irwin hit a little fly to short left, which Wallace muffed. Quick as a flash bethrew to the plate. Ryan caught the ball on the fly and threw to third and a double play apparently had been made, but Ryan was standing fully three feet from the home plate when he caught the ball and Umpire Emslie allowed the run to score, giving Cincinnati the game. Protests from the St. Louis players followed. The crowd floated out on the field and some one struck Jesse Burkett in the back. The latter turned around and struck Clyde Watson, a spectator. In a moment men and boys were climbing over each other in an effort to reach Burkett, but the police interfered and prevented a serious clash. McFadden pitched a superb game. Crawford's throwing was the feature. Attendance, 1,800. Score:

Not only was the audience larger, but it was also fashionable and a representative one. This is a splendid tribute to Miss Irwin's ability as an entertainer, when it is called to mind that many prominent theatrical personages of the day have appeared here this season. It shows the high regard in which she is held by the

The matter of amateur owners who troited their horses to wagon at matinee, races of which there is no charge for admission and no money prizes offered, and the claim that they should not have their horses penalized on the records they make at these events, was taken up. The case in point was that of the horse John A. Mc-Kerron, owned by H. K. Devereaux of the Gentlemen's Driving clab of Cleveland. O.
