WU TING FANG AT GENERAL GRANT'S GRAVE

Chinese Minister Pollows Li Hung Chang's Instructions to Place Floral Offering on the Coffin -Imposing Parade.

NEW YORK, May 30 .- Although there were threatening signs of rain throughout the early part of today the Memorial day exercises in this city were carried out with more than the usual interest. The important events on the day's program were the military parade, which was reviewed at Silleck Dunn and F. Wiley Dunn. Madison Square Garden by Governor Odell and Mayor VanWyck; the exercises at of Mechanical Engineers, represented by Grant's tomb, where Wu Ting Fang made Prof. Robert H. Thurston. an address, and the dedication of the Hall of Fame at the New York university, at of Naturalists, represented by William T. which Senator Chauncey M. Depew delivered an pration

The parade included the Old Guard, acting as an escort to Governor Odell; several detachments of United States regulars, a number of militia organizations, a battalion of United States marines and all of the local posts of the Grand Army of the Republic. In all there were about 15,-000 men in line. A feature of the parade was the firing of a salute by the Naval post opposite the statue of Farragut in C. J. Baxter, F. A. Hill and St. J. Mc-Madison Square.

At Grant's tomb Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, in accordance with instructionr given by Li Hung Chang some years ago, placed an offering of flowers Schenck. on the stone coffin containing the general's remains. Mr. Wu also delivered an ad-

While the exercises at Grant's tomb were in progress General Fred D. Grant, accompan'ed by his wife, came through the throng to the platform. He was recognized and compelled by repeated calls to come to the

"This is most unexpected. I am not a speechmaker and do not know what to say. I am overcome with emotion and can only say that I have agreed to accept the invitation of Grant post of Brooklyn and address them soon. I shall tell them all I know about the Philippines and I want to say right now that your boys who have been fighting over there are worthy sons and equal to their fathers."

At the Hall of Fame.

The ceremontes at the dedication of the Hall of Fame were opened by prayer by Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis. Senator Chauncey M. Depew then delivered the oration. Senator Depew said:

There has been the broadest catholicity of judgment and no passions or prejudices of sectarians, parties or creeds among the judges. The action of the tribunni is a remarkable exhibit of the disappearance of the bitterness of the civil war. Though a large majority of the electors were from the north, General Lee is placed beside General Grant, and Lincoln received every your from the south save one. yesterday at the First Presbyterian church.

General Grant, and Lincoln received every vote from the south save one.

The gentlemen upon whom was devolved the first selection have found in the wide field open to their choice only twenty-nine whom a majority thought fit to fill the panels of this hall. There may be disappointment and mortification that after 300 years of settlement in our country and 100 of national life the harvest should be so small. But our situation was unique and original. We were not a conquering people, absorbing and adopting the civilization, arts and accumulations of a subject mation.

arts and accumulations of a subject nation.

If the Viking could come from his valibalia, the arcopagito from beneath the tempies of Athens, the arbiter elegantiae from the ruins of Rome, the mediaeval knight from his armor, Frederick from Potsdam, or Napoleon from Invalides to view these heroes, they would have only contempt for this development of democracy. The inventor of the application of steam to navigation, of the electric telegraph and of the cotton gin, the artisans who were in their time and in their world the herd or mass, born to hear the burdens and work for the luxuries of their masters, are here crowned with the fadeless laurels which encircle the brows of the conquerors and rulers of the world.

The emancipation of labor has been followed by its recognition and the dignity of its function in human affairs, and now a pathway is opened up to the difficult ascent of Parnassus. The triumphs of industrial genius have created conditions by which millions can live in comfort and hope where thousands dwelt in poverty and despair. They have made possible gigantic fortunes, which are the wonder our day.

Changes Wrought by Time.

But the material revolution and its rich tesuits which are thus emphasized have diverted the mind, culture and ambition of ingenous youth to paths of gain rather than fame, unless, under a new code, gain in large measure be fame. The dollar, or its eager pursuit, weighs down the wings of genius and prevents its flight to the lofty heights where congregate the Homers and Shakespeares, Miltons and Byrons, the Michel Angelos and the Raphaels and their peers. Our time does not produce their equals. equals.
We have no Tennysons, nor Longfellows,

We have no Tennysons, nor Longfellows, nor Hawthornes, nor Emersons. Perhaps it is because our Michael Angelos are planning tunnels under rivers and through mountains for the connection of vast systems of railways and our Raphaels are devising some novel method for the use of electrical power; our Shakespeares are forming gigantic combinations of corporate bodies, our Tennysons are giving rein to fancies and imagination in wild speculations in stocks, and our Hawthornes and Emersons have abandoned the communings with and revelations of the spirit and soul which lift their readers to a vision of the higher life and the joy of its inspiration to exploit mines and factories.

When this period of evolution is over and nations and communities have become adjusted to normal conditions, the fever and the passion of the race for quick wealth and enormous riches will be over. Then the grove, the academy and the study will again become tenanted with philosophers, poets, historians and the interpreters of God in man. Unless this shall happen, then let the luxuries and opportunities, evanescent earthly pleasure and the disappearance after death, which comes from leadership in business, be the rewards of the successful; but reserve the temple of fame for those only whose deeds and thoughts are the inheritrance, education, inspiration and aspiration of endless generations.

CATTLE—Although the Chicago market was quoted slow today the trade at this point ruled active and strong. The supply McVittle superintended the exercises. Addresses were made by Beth Hancock, Gus Boyden, Wilbur Christensen, Avis Roberts and Mrs. F. F. Carruthers. Ralph Smith, Jessie Smith and Lois Wallace gave recitations.

Arthur Chase presided at the evening meeting, which was given over to the intermediate and young peoples' societies. The exercises opened with scripture reading by Rev. T. A. Williams of Park Vale Congregational Church. Rev. Sumner T. Martin of the First Christian church offered prayer. Greeting was extended to the young people by Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks of the First Presbyterian church.

"Endeavor Literature" was the subject of an address by Miss Alice C. Hunter. Mrs. F. F. Carruthers, state superintendent of the junior work, spoke on the responsibility of young people's societies to the juniors and urged that more attention be paid to the children.

Rev. H. H. Harmon of David City, president of the Nebraska Convention to be held in Jonaha in 1901, and Miss Amy Clark of Be.

Lutheran Synod Has Proposition to Shift African Missionaries to Interior.

WEST COAST CONSIDERED UNHEALTHY

Movement on Foot to Adopt Graded Sunday School Lessons-Eighty Thousand Dollars for Foreign Missionary Work.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, May 30 .- (Special.) - The first business session of the general Lutheran synod convened this morning with 250 delegates present and several clergymen from Europe, Africa and India. Foreign missions were discussed this afternoon, addresses being delivered by Rev. Luther M. Kuhlman of Frederick, Md.; Rev. Dr. B. J. Aberly of Guntur, India; Rev. George J. Albrecht of Rentachintala, Blanad, India, and Rev. Dr. J. H. Harpster of Guntur,

The principal matters of discussion be fore the fortieth synod are three. First, the movement to change the missionary field from the African coast, and particularly Liberia, to the interior, for climatic and hygenic reasons. Second, the establishment of an official paper or organ which shall represent the spirit of the general assembly and promote and uphold all of its interests. Third, a movement to adopt a graded course of lessons in the Sunday schools, and to this extent modify the international lesson course.

Election of Officers.

The first important business of the session was the election of officers for the synod, to hold for the next biennial period. Rev. D. W. S. Freas of Baltimore chosen president; Rev. Dr. W. E. Fisher of Shamokin, Pa., secretary, and Dr. Louis Manns of Cincinnati O. treasurer.

The day was spent chiefly in listening to important reports, chief among them being the report of the Foreign Mission board presented by the secretary. Most impor and in the report were the resolutions appended by the committee after detailing the work of the past. Among other things, these resolutions provided for was the expenditure of $80,000 in foreign missionary work during the next two years. The resolutions as at first prepared were all adopted and with them two other resolutions, one giving thanks to the Christian Herald for its donation of $15,000 for missionary work and Indian famine relief during the last two years. The other one provided for the appointment of a committee to define the relations existing between the Foreign Missionary board of the general synod and the Women's Foreign Missionary society.

Changes in African Field. Next to the resolutions the most import ant part of the report dealt with the proposed changes in the African field, the plan being to move the operations from the coast to the interior. The board recommended: 1. The restriction of the work to Muhlen berg station, but with a more vigorous prosecution along all lines. 2. The continuation of the work to Mublenberg station as the chief training center and the inauguration of a new work, at some point in the interior, to be carried on along present lines. 3. The transfer of that work to others and our withdrawal from the west coast

The report showed that the receipts from all sources during the biennium were $96,366 and the total expenditures $97,253. April 30, 1901, there was a balance of $2,573 in the treasury. The indebtedness at the close of the biennium was $8,715, to which the balance was applied, leaving a net indebtedness of $6,144. The board also received for the India relief fund $23.888, of board gave in detail its work in India and Africa since the last session of the general synod. In India there was, at the end of 1900 a total anrolled baptized membership of 20,486, an increase of 15 per cent in two years. No statistical exhibit of school and church work of the African mission was received in time for exhibit in the report

This evening the auniversary exercises of foreign missionary work were held. Rev Dr. W. S. Frease presiding. Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. A. Snigmaster of the faculty of the Theological seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., and Rev. John Aberly and Rev. J. R. Harrinter of Gunter, Ind.

POWELL ON HILL'S RECORD

Father of the Second Wife Expresses Sympathy for the Husband in His Trouble.

FLORENCE, Neb., May 27. To the Editor of The Bee: Persons in Omaha and Flor-ence have talked to me as to my opinion ence have talked to me as to my opinion of Mr. Hill's letter in The Bee last week. It would not be proper for me to say much. as his case is before the court, but I should like, through your excellent paper, to say that we are all in sympathy with him. I have known him well for nearly six years 8 and his conduct has ever been that of a gentleman. I was very sorry that Judge O Baxter had been wrongly informed when be said at the trial that I paid for the cable to bring the English witness. The true fact was that Rev. Young of Blair wished to send the measure and as I owed him money for church fees he asked me if I would pay it to him, which I did, and he then sent the cable, paying for it from that money after I paid him my debt. This was all I had to do with it. Mr. Hill's conduct as to my daughter has always been excellent and I am sure that when he said that he felt this affair most of all for the sake of her and their baby this was quite true. I have every confidence that as room as he is able he will do all that is fair and right for them both. Respectfully
