no material decrease. During the first five months of last year Mr. Meserve, the fusion state treasurer. invested $225,338.53 of the permanent school fund. During the same period this year Mr. Stuefer has invested $370,545.05 of peramining caudidates for commissions in the manent school money. This single comparison shows that the investments made by the treasurer this year were $135.296.52 examined are: Captains Quein, Simoydynes, Richards, Kenney and Lieutenants grepter than the investments made by Mr. Fetterman, Garlow, Shultz, Emery, Olson, Meserve last year, just prior to the campaign and when every effort was exerted to make as good a showing as possible.

The decrease in receipts over last year is $298,048.65, and the fact that this item Baidwin. increase in investments exceeds the prompts the fusionists to assert that the investments made by Mr. Stuefer were not as great in proportion to the deposits as were those made by Mr, Meserve. The argument of this is that when the un-invested portion of the fund increases the supply of securities should also increase. or in other words, that it should be much easier to find securities of the kind prescribed by law when the balance of the fund is high then when it is low. This is it is being used with great energy promoting the study of art, history and of his family, who were left in destitute by the fusionists. But the assertions that the uninvested portion of the school fund is larger than $10,000 and the principal incorporators are: a year ago are absolutely false. Yesterday the balance of the school fund was $194.-667.65. On June 4, 1900, under the administration of Mr. Meserve, the balance in the same fund was $224.978.41.

A wandering gypsy band in open rebell on against the one-eyed, bearded individual who poses as their chieftain arrived in the city this morning and has kept the police busy throughout the day. The officers of the law were duly notified of the approach of the band by the report of a small free-for-all which occurred in the outskirts of Havelock yesterday evening. As a result of the fracas, the band was ordered out of town and made its way to Lincoln. As soon as it arrived the officera searched the streets and finally succeeded in rounding up the band on Haymarket square, preparatory to sending it out of town. Two belligerent females precipitated a fight by making for each other with daggers and the whole gang was mixing in the rumpus armed with stones, clubs and knives. The motley gang was quieted before any serious injury was done and was ordered to move on. The feud was engendered by the arbitrary actions of the al-leged chief, who is reported to have sold one of the girls to another member of the party for $300. Objections to the deal on the part of the woman in the case led to her and improve the plant. The consideration mother taking up the quarrel. The gang left the city immediately after dinner.
