EDDIE GORDON DOES GREAT WORK

Interesting Contest in Which the Locals Carry Of Victory by a Score of Two to

"Hurrah for-Gordon!" "Who's Gordon?" "He's the boy." Thus the slogans thrilled by many an approving fan went up from the bleachers at Vinton park yesterday after the little collegian had pitched the prett est game of the sesson in Omaha, as it was declared by popular vote of the habitues of the tier seats. Two to one was the final the Minncapolis team, and Eddle Gordon, Omaha's first season slinger, fresh from Gordon won, and strictly on merit. Swormsted struck out one more man than he and allowed two less bases on balls. but in other ways he didn't equal the university lad, and the race between the two was watched with intense interest and overflowing enthusiasm of the spontaneous typ". Just four hits were made off each man, the Millers not finding Gordon till the fifth. and then never for more than one hit an inning. Moreover, Gordon made no errors in three clean assis s, while Swormsted executed two costly blunders. Again, Gordon's strike-outs were always on hand just when | gram.) - The following order was issued to they were necessary. For instance, in the sinth and crucial inning, with a man on second base and only a hit from the batter necessary to tie the score, Gordon dropped his man with case, first leading him inside wide swing and then above a sudden drop. Several times during the game Eddie pitched six and seven straight strikes in succession and in the third inning first three men up went out without touching the ball, except for one foul,

Goes the Whole Journey.

It was a try-out game for Gordon and Papa Stewart let the youngster go the whole journey, anxiously watching from his post near second base his cub twir-ler's work. Everyone, spectators and players and like seemed to have a premonition of alike seemed to have a premonition of what Gordon would do, for as soon as he entered the box the cheering was impulsively bestowed, while his mates of the diamond coached and jolleyed him from the first in a most helpful and steadying man-He proved that his reputed coolness and headlines were facts and on those largely he won. His one chief fault, too. quickly came out and that is losing control omewhat when there's a man on first. This trick cost him just two bases on bal's and the one run the visitors made.

Aside from the pitchers' battle, the features of the game were the work of Payne. Rourke's new pitcher, in the field and at the bat, the catching of a line fly by Stewart, a double by Stewart, Toman and Calhoun, the fine base throwing of Cockran and Tannehill for the visitors and the catching of runners at second by Gonding and Toman.

It was Payne's first day. He is a pitcher. having fermerly played with the National league, but is also a good sticker and a in the left garden. Two pretty catches stick he showed his form. For the to touch the vaunted Swormsted. In the first he took a base, in the third a two-Payne is, however, a slow runner, which is already a weak point in the team. His pitching trial will come soon, maybe today, and if he throws in line with his other work he will prove a valuable addi-

Day They Play Pase Ball. Yesterday was a great base ball day and the people were kept on edge all the time. When the first three men up in the first inning stopped this side of first base Gordon owned the field. When the same thing happened for four more innings straight the town of Omaha was his. The speciators could hardly draw a breath, and sat on the edges of their sents. Five innings had gone without a run on either side. Then came two for Omaha, and two more rifice shut-outs for Minneapolis. The state of Nebraska was Eddie's at that time.

But the visitor scored in the eighth and Eddie's trick of giving bases when watching a man on first almost brought in another, but it was stopped by a timely double play, in which the shortstop, second baseman and initial bagger figured. The crowd sucked in its breath with a whiatle. and the critical ninth was at hand. Would Gordon hold them down? He did, but after a struggle. The last man up meant run or a victory. Gordon struck him out. Never did a pitcher have better support than Gordon yesterday. The team was aftre with life. Nothing could get through the boys. They didn't make an error the game through. Coming in on the car all the talk that could be heard was of a most hopeful character. People were predicting for Omaha all sorts of things, from first place on the card to third and some forecasted 100 per cent from now on. Anyway, it's ladies' day today and the city will be there en masse to help the locals take the second of the series.

MISTAKE IN THE TIME Jumble in Handicaps Causes Error in Award of Road Race

Prize. Officials of the Omaha Wheel club, in conjunction with those who officiated at the Decoration day ten-mile road race, have discovered an error in the timing of the contestants which resulted in the wrongful holder of the place, his time having been $5:50.

A jumble in handicaps was what led to the error in scoring. Ferron was in the one-minute handicap bunch. Turner having three minutes and a half. All the contestants were lined up and had been checked off when Handicapper Bert Potter suddenly moved Turner back one minute, placing him in the two-and-one-half-minute class. Turner protested, but it was too late, and the race started. The timers were not cognizant of the change, although Potter informed the starter of it.

Thus when the scores were checked up Turner was given a minute the worst of it, so the club has since decided. It was merely a question of whether or not he was entitled to his original position and the club determined that he was and that he could not be pulled back a minute on such short notice. Therefore a minute was clipped from his time as officially announced, making it 35:50 and giving him the time prise above Ferron.

GULLANE, Scotland, June 5.—Play in the open golf championship contests began at Muirfield. The weather was bright and cool. There were 101 entries—the largest list on record—including all the best known professionals, and among the amateurs were Kiltn, Laidiaw and Mure Fergusson. Harry Vardon drove off. He is a big favorite for first honors. There was a large gallery of spectators, including a sprinkling of Americans.

At the conclusion of half of the first round in the golf contests Harry Vardon was leading with a score of 77. Willie Dark, jr., had a score of 78 and J. H. Taylor, the champion, had scored 79.

King and Others of the Victorian Family Remain Away, but Lesser Nobility is Out in Force.

LONDON, June 5.-William C. Whitncy's Volodovoski won the derby in record time, 2:40 3-5, but came very near losing it.

Volodovoski seemed to have the race well in hand and the immense crowd, who alnost to a man had backed the horse, joyfully yelled "Volodovoski wins," when Morney Cannon, on William the Third, came on with a rush, challenged, and for moment seemed to be in front, but Reiff, by the vigorous use of his whip, managed to regain the lead and won by a quarter of a length.

The crowd had too much scare to be enthusiastic and seldom has less cheering been heard for the winner of a derby. Harry Payne Whitney, beaming with delight, led the horse in, alternately patting the animal's neck and looking up at Reiff. saying: "Good boy," "Good boy.

Mr. Whitney subsequently said to a representative of the Associated Press: "Of course I am more than pleased and the only disappointment is owing to my father not being here to enjoy the triumph. But must say I thought the second horse was going to win."

Foxhall Keene's Olympian (Henry) led until a quarter of a mile from home, when Volodyovski drew to the front, followed by William the Third, and won by three-quarters of a length. Four lengths separated the second and third horses. Floriform was fourth. The betting was 5 to 2 against Volodyov-

Although it was clear that the war in South Africa still keeps many habitues away, today's contest for the blue ribbon of the British turf was witnessed by much greater crowds than for some years past. The weather was all that could be wished for. This is the people's picnic. Vehicles first rolled in by twos and threes, and then by dozens and scores, until the white road DAY'S RUNNING AT HAWTHORNE Robert R. Kyd and Miss Gertrude Bradt. leading to the Downs smoked with the dust of the vast, heterogeneous cavalcade and the air was filled with a weird medley from tin trumpets, barrel organs and cornets Prominent Persons Present. The trains brought thousands of people from all directions, and later came the coaches and carriages, dropping their arisocratic occupants at the entrances of the grandstands and Jockey club enclosure until these were filled. Such a display of fashion and bright colors had not been seen in England since the outbreak of the war. Many old and well known patrons of the turf were seen, though such favorites as King Edward and Lord Rosebery were necessarily absent, owing to the official period of mourning for Queen Victoria being still unexpired. Khaki was even more conspicious than last year, when the popular victory of the then prince of Wales' Diamond Jubilee was coincident with Lord Roberts' entry into Johannesburg. Among the prominent persons present were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, who arrived in Leopold Rothschild's coach and viewed the race from the Jockey club stand the earl and countess of Essex, (formerly Miss Beach Grant of New York), and the duchess of Devonshire, the duke and duchess of Portland, the marquis and marchioness of Londonderry, the carl and countess of Derby, Mr. and Mrs. Foxhall Keene of New York, J. L. Emerson of Baltimore, and a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stuyvesant and B. B. Kirkland of New York, Miss Jenkins of Baltimore and Dr. John Cox of St. Louis and Major Edward B. Cassatt, the military attaches of United States embassy at London, and William C. Eustis, the third secretary of the embassy. After a couple of minor events, the second of which Maher won, the way was cleared for the blue ribbon race and the paddock was soon filled with gay groups, scanning their respective favorites. Volodyovski naturally was the center of attraction and a host of admirers surrounded Mr. Whitney's crack colt.

blegram-Special Telegram.)-William C. Whitney's derby will be remembered as one of the hottest and most crowded on record. The American contingent was out in tremendous force in all enclosures and on coaches. The Bradley Martins had a box and their party included General Alger and J. Pierpont Morgan, jr., while First Secretary White, Colonel Ochiltree, Foxhall Keene, W. Eustis, George Porter and Butler Duncan were in the members' stand. There also was Richard Croker, alone, amidthe crowd of New Yorkers. He arrived at o'clock, accompanied by his friend and relative, David Nagle, and his head man and usher from Moat house. These could not accompany him inside the members' stand, which is reserved for owners and those belonging to the Epsom club. Every one in this enclosure always dresses in a frock cost and silk hat and, most of them being society men or titled, were in mourning for the late queen. Mr. Croker was n deepest mourning, but this was for his sister. He had on a black frock coat, a black double-breasted waistcoat, black trousers, black necktle and a mourning band on his silk hat. The only relief to this funercal attire was a pair of tan-colored kid gloves and a large pearl pin. His sleeve links were also of large pearls. In the draw for the place, it was found that the favorite had the middle of the following of the time prize.

DISAPPOINTMENTS AT ST. LOUIS.

Track Too Heavy for One Favorite:
Another is Badly Ridden.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The distinctive features of today's fair grounds card was the disappointing race run by Callear, the favorite in the second race, and the miserable ride given Nobleman, the prohibitive favorite in the fourth event. Callear was unable to untrack himself in the heavy going and ran last the entire distance. Jockey Louden on Nobleman burned up a ton of money by displaying the poorest sort of judgment, bringing in his mount last in a field of three. T. O'Brien carried off the riding honors, piloting three mounts to victory and placing another. No more entries will be received on Celtic Bard, owing to the poor form shown by him in his recent outs. Two favorites, three second choices and one outsider won. Track heavy. Results:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The favorites again went down to defeat at Oakland today, but well-played horses took some of the events. Cerro Santa, at odds of 12 to 1, gained a neck victory in the opening event and Mesdow Lark, backed from 8 to 1 to 5 to 1, took the last. Rlo Shannon won the handicap easily from Horton and Donator. The stake is worth $40,000 and Mr. Whitney stood to win, it is said, an equal amount. He cabled a present of $2,500 to Reiff. The prevailing opinion in sporting circles is that Volodyovski is not of the highest class of Derby winners and that the whole of the field were of a moderate lot.
