Attorney Aylesworth has been retained by the property owners on the paved streets and avenues in the vicinity of implement row, and he stated yesterday that he intended at the next meeting of the city council to introduce an ordinance which w li provide reasonable regulations for the hauling of cogged wheeled traction engines over paved streets. Property owners on these paved streets insist that unless they are afforded some relief by the city they will refuse to pay for the paving, as they claim it is ruined by the hauling of these heavy engines. There is a question whether the paving is injured as claimed by hauling traction engines over it. With a view to ascertaining the extent of such damage, if any, the city council yesterday afternoon had an engine steamed up and down Seventh ave nue, which has been recently paved. The consensus of opinion of the aldermen was that the engine did not affect the pavement although it was conceded that the constant newly laid and which had not had time to

The attorney for the company, who has become suddenly conspicuous because of this local fight, has been selected by the democratic state committee to be temporary chairman of the state convention and to deliver the keynote address.

It was also decided at the meeting of the state committee that the campaign should be made on state issues, so as to unite the two branches of the party, and to make much of alleged corporation influence in lowa republican politics. It was planned that the temporary chairman should make a vigorous attack on the republicans because of their alleged subserviency to corporations; but the democrats of the eastern part of the state are now demanding that

WILL CONFINE MISSIONARY WORK AT HOME

Efforts in the Congo Country Are Confessed to Be a Patture and Report of Special Committee is Adopted.

DES MOINES, June 5 .- (Special.) --The most important action taken by the synod of the Evangelical church at its Des Moines session was that taken this afternoon in virtually deciding upon abandonment of the mission field in Africa and concentration of missionary efforts at road from Waterloo to the town of Denver home and especially among the negroes of the south. The question of the relative importance of the mission work in various places has caused a sharp division from the first. It was upon this question that the synod divided when the matter of election of a president came up. There was a demand on the part of the minority that the mission work in Africa should be extended and that an additional secretary for that workk should be employed. The conservatives won in the election and have controlled the syno.d.

Today the synod, after considerable disussion, adopted the report of the special committee appointed by the moderator to investigate the foreign mission field and make a report and recommendations This report was presented by the chairman Dr. George S. Miller of Baltimore, this morning, and is as follows, having been signed by all members of the committee:

Report of Special Committee.

That recognizing the fact of the long continuance of an effort made for the evangelization of the west coast of Africa, and realizing as fully that the scene of our operations there is solemnly sacred because of the sacrifice of noble, unselfish and heroic lives, as well as the cheerful expenditure of vast sums of money; yet recognizing at the same time the dead-liness of that climate and the added facts that we as a general synod of the Lutheran church have no work among Africans in our own land and hence we cannot furnish other than white men and women to do that work of Africa's evangelization; And, also, being conscious that the encroachments of civilization and the presence of other Christian agencies have changed the conditions of our mission field; Realizing, also, that to penetrate the interior would necessitate an immediate outlay of vast sums of money in the construction of roads, which does not seem practicable, the rude huts of the natives and their namodic lives precluding this; therefore, be it.

Resolved First, that we, as a church, express our fullest appreciation of our work and noble workers in their efforts there Report of Special Committee.

After a warm discussion this afternoon lead by President Ziegmund of Carthage college, at Carthage, Mo., it was decided to devote one-third of the apportionment for education ($1,000) to that institution the vided between Midland college and Western Theological seminary at Atchison, Kan. It was also decided to make the edu cational apportionment 12 cents per capita. It was decided to transfer the property of the German Theological seminary at Chicago to George H. Kuollenberg, treasurer tion of a claim of $6,131 which he holds The report of the treasurer of the board of education showed that the apportionment for the biennial period was $47,271 but of this amount only $22,702 had been received from the synods. The report of the committee on colleges and seminaries showed Midland college to be greatly in need of funds. Western Theological seminary is in good condition, Wittenberg prosperous and Carthage greatly improved.
