High School Boys Get the Court to Aid Their Cause.

CADET ELECTION STIRS UP A RUMPUSS

Parents of Youths Endorse Their Re-assertment of Interference and Aid in Obtaining a Writ Against Mr. Ensign.

The alleged unwarranted interference of Principal Ensign in the annual meeting and election of the Athletic association of the High School yesterday morning led Albert Treynor, one of the recently suspended pupils, through his father, Postmaster Treynor, to secure from the superior court a writ of injunction restraining Principal Ensign from interfering with the cadet election held yesterday afternoon. This appeal to the courts was another chapter in the strained relations which have existed for some time past between the principal and a number of the boys at the High School.

Following the usual custom the annual meetings and elections of the High School Athletic association and cadets are held on the third day of commencement week. The Athletic association meeting was called for yesterday morning and the cadet election for the afternoon. Principal Ensign was present when the meeting of the Athletic association opened and informed Albert Treynor and James Macrae, two of the pupils recently suspended, that they could not take part in the proceedings. In explanation the principal stated that the association required that all its members must be pupils of the High School, which, owing to their suspension, they were not. The boys left the assembly room and took no further part in the proceedings. When the association proceeded to elect its president, Campbell, another suspended student, Principal Ensign again protested on the grounds that Campbell was ineligible, having been suspended, and was not, therefore, a member of the High School.

Amend the Constitution.

The boys decided to overcome the principal's protest by amending the constitution so as to make the membership of students of the High School but those who expected to become such at the next school year. Principal Ensign called attention to the fact that, according to parliamentary rules the constitution could not be amended at the present time, but the boys proceeded to amend it and the principal's protest was promptly overruled, and the amendment was adopted.

Bees Drive From New Home.

W. S. Cooper has a painful experience with a swarm of bees. W. S. Cooper, member of the Board of Education and insurance agent, had an exciting and unpleasant encounter last evening with a swarm of bees. He was changing his residence and was about to occupy a house which he is about to occupy on yesterday morning. The former occupant owned several stands of bees, which he moved with his other household effects. The bees, however, left one of the hives and made for the new house, arriving at the same time that Cooper drove up in his buggy. The bees began to swarm on the buggy and the horse started to run away. Cooper jumped down to hold the horse and the bees swarmed all over his head, biting him at every vulnerable point. His skin was badly stung about the head and neck also, and they only finally escaped by driving rapidly away from the place.

For Derailing an Engine.

The preliminary hearing of Emil Elshimer, charged with running a switch engine into the pit of the turntable in the roundhouse of the Chicago & Northwestern railway the morning of June 4, began in the superior court yesterday afternoon before Judge Aylesworth. The evidence connecting Elshimer with the crime is mainly circumstantial, as at the time the engine ran into the pit he was not seen by any of the employees at the roundhouse. Foreman Shade of the roundhouse received a letter in which a threat was made that if a certain engine was not discharged the engine would be wrecked by running it into the pit and the roundhouse burned. It is alleged that Elshimer was responsible for the threatening missive. The state has summoned nine witnesses, all employees of the company, five of whom were placed on the stand yesterday. The hearing will be resumed this morning.

Wrong Man Gets the Clothes.

A very individual succeeded yesterday in securing a suit of clothes and other articles of wearing apparel from a delivery boy employed by Metcalf & Metcalf. The boy was sent to deliver the parcel to the purchaser, Nels Madsen, who rooms at a restaurant on Broadway. On the way the parcel was broken and the clothes were scattered about. Madsen, a man was sitting and the boy asked him if Madsen lived there. The fellow answered, "I am Madsen." "Well, here is a package of clothing for you from Metcalf," said the fellow, and the boy handed him the package. About an hour later Madsen called at the store to inquire why his clothes had not been delivered.

Postmaster Resents Interference.

Postmaster Treynor said he regretted having been forced to adopt the course he did. It was not intended as a personal matter on his part, but he considered Principal Ensign's action as an unwarranted interference with the rights of the boys. He said the boys considered that they are now in vacation and not under control and that in any case the officers they were about to elect were to be elected next year, when the boys who were suspended will be permitted to return to school. "My son," said Mr. Treynor, "was, in fact, never suspended formally. He was simply told to go home and Principal Ensign himself assured me that he could return to school next year and take his examinations as usual. Mr. Ensign had no right to interfere with the boys in the Athletic association election and it was to prevent him doing so with the cadet election that I secured the injunction. I expressly advised, however, that the writ be not served on Mr. Ensign unless necessary. I am glad to say that as it turned out there was no need to serve it."

Board is Indignant.

Members of the Board of Education were much exercised over the course pursued by Postmaster Treynor, believing that the school was practically closed for the year the pupils will not be formally dismissed until Friday. One of the members of the board suggested the adoption of corporal punishment at the High School, believing it to be the only remedy for the spirit of insubordination which has recently manifested itself. Principal Ensign was not aware of the issuance of the writ of injunction until after the cadet election was over and was much surprised when he learned of the action taken by Mr. Treynor. He declined to discuss the matter, as did Superintendent Clifford. The elections resulted as follows: Ath-

New G. A. R. Department Commander Metzger Issues His First General Order and Announces Roll of Officers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, June 12.—(Special.)—The Iowa State Association of Opticians is in session in Des Moines, this being the fourth annual meeting of the association. The membership reported today was 127 and thirty or forty will join at this meeting. The association was formed four years ago, when it was discovered that an effort was being made to push through the legislature a bill which would have prevented the professional opticians from continuing their profession in Iowa unless they were also regularly licensed physicians. The opticians organized and prevented this legislation. Now they are going to ask the legislature to pass a law placing their profession on a footing with others.

A judge of the superior court has elected this fall. Under the new law all judges of superior courts shall be elected at the last general election preceding the expiration of the term of office of the present incumbent. The term of the present term will expire on April 1 next and, consequently, the election will have to take place this fall. The law is somewhat ambiguous on the matter and there is a difference of opinion as to whether the judge shall be elected by the electors of the county at large or by the electors of this city, as has been the case heretofore. Prior to this year the judge of the superior court has always been elected at the regular city election and the mayor has issued the certificate of election. The new law passed by the twenty-eighth assembly provides that the Board of County Supervisors shall issue the certificate of election and that nominations shall be certified to the county auditor.

County Auditor Innes says he is not clear as to the meaning of the statute and the opinion of the general will probably be obtained before the time for the convention. The county ticket to be named this fall is candidates for treasurer, sheriff, superintendent of schools, county surveyor and two members of the board of supervisors.

Reynolds was regarded as a desperate criminal and for making this assault upon the sheriff he was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary.

The Association of Professional Swine Judges met here today in connection with the annual meeting of the State Swine Breeders' association. The association expressed a serious grievance against the Iowa state fair management on account of the fair people having disposed of a building for $50 which had been for many years used by the judges of swine, leaving them no place for headquarters. A. M. Caldwell of Champeau, Ill., was elected president, J. F. Kegley of Ames and W. L. Addy of Parnell City, Mo., vice presidents and W. D. McTavish of Coggon, Ia., secretary and treasurer. The day was spent in a school of instruction in scoring swine.

The meeting of the trustees of Drake University was this morning. It is intended that a new chancellor is to be selected, but Prof. DeHaven and Sallis of the faculty will be superseded and a successor elected to Prof. Spradberry, who has accepted the position of principal of the West Des Moines High School. The finances of the college are in good condition and the graduating classes this year are large.

George Metzger of Davenport, the newly elected deputy commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for Iowa, spent the day in Des Moines at headquarters in consultation with the new senior and junior vice commanders and the assistant adjutant general. He issued his first general order in which he asked the co-operation of all members of the order, and especially asked that he be asked to bring back into the order all those who have been dropped for any reason. He desires especially to increase the membership the next year. He highly compliments the work of the officers of the order, and the twenty-seventh annual encampment, which was one of the best ever held. Highest Honors at Iowa City Won by Negro Who Worked His Way Through.

The commencement exercises for the law college of the University of Iowa were held this morning in the opera house. The address of the day was delivered by Hon. Henry D. Estabrook of Chicago. Following this the class was presented to President MacLean by Secretary Richards and diplomas presented by the president to the graduates, who were then sworn for practice in the state courts by Judge Emil McLain, the former chancellor of the college, and for the federal court practice by Judge William J. Haddock, master in chancery.

President MacLean then announced that the board of regents had conferred the degree of LL. D. upon Hon. H. Seelye, class of '78, president of the State Normal school at Cedar Falls. The best examination before the state bar passed by any member of the graduating class was that of St. Joe Brown of Ottumwa. Mr. Brown is colored and has earned his own way through both the college and law departments of the university, receiving the Phi Beta Kappa scholarship key when he graduated from the college of liberal arts. His answers to the questions of the examiners were perfect.

Mr. Brown's services have been in great demand by people who desired work done of the highest quality and thoroughness, which he performed all his work during the year he has been here. He is the only Phi Beta Kappa man in the house. From 1898 to 1899 Mr. Brown was a professor in Bishop college at Marshall, Tex. President MacLean announced the following appointments and promotions in the faculty:

Frederick B. Sturm, B. A., instructor in German, to be senior assistant professor of German. William R. Patterson, Ph. B., Iowa, Ph. D., Pennsylvania, instructor in statistics and econometrics, to be assistant professor in charge of the department of Political Science. William J. D., instructor in Scandinavian language, to be assistant professor in charge of the department of Scandinavian languages and literature. H. L. Rush, B. A., Harvard, to be instructor in the department of history. Fred E. S. Bolton, to be assistant instructor and professor of romance languages.

Prof. J. R. Brown, Ph. D., vice president of the normal college, Indiana, to be assistant professor and instructor at the normal school, to succeed Prof. J. M. Conroy, who resigned his position at Cedar Rapids to accept the superintendency of schools. H. Morrow, D. D. S., Iowa, to be demonstrator in the College of Dentistry.
