AS SUCCESSOR TO MR. KYLE

South Dakotans in Washington Discuss Candidates.

SUPERIOR YOUNG MAN FOR THE ARMY

Claims of R. B. McConnell Are Presented by Auditor Andrews-Congressman Mercer to Sail Around the World.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, July 2 .- (Special Telegram.) - The announcement of the death of Senator Kyle came as a great shock to the South Dakota colony here, whose members during the last few days had received encouraging reports regarding the senator's condition. Notwithstanding the unexpectedness of Senator Kyle's death, politicians from that section of the union have begun to speculate as to who Governor Herried will name to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Kyle or for the period which will intervene until the next meeting of the legislature. There is an impression in certain circles here that an effort will be made to induce A. B. Kittridge of Sloux Falls to accept the vacant senatorship. Coe I. Crawford of Huron announced his candidacy for the senate to succeed Mr. Kyle some time ago and has been making s quiet canvass. He is an attorney for the Northwestern in the state.

Both congressmen from South Dakota, Martin of Deadwood and Burke of Pierre, are said to have ambitions to secure the seat in the United States senate, but the selection of either to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Kyle's death would involve considerable expense for a special election and it is also doubtful if either would throw away the chance of a full term for Recommends McConnell.

Auditor Andrews of the Treasury department, who in the absence of Senators Dietrich and Millard has been looking after the interests of R. B. McConnell of Superior, has presented the young man's recommendations to the president for a position in the regular establishment of the army. Senator Millard wired Mr. Andrews that he desired the young man should be given a licutenancy, in view of his ex-ceptional record in Cuba and the Philip-

George S. Johns, editor-in-chief of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who is a member of the St. Louis party now domiciled as guests of Colonel J. J. Dickey at his country home near Benson, declares that Omaha is a good town, no matter what the census reports say as to population.

Mr. Johns, who is a mixture of Missourian and Virginian, had never been to Omaha until he arrived here Sunday morning. While inspecting The Bee establishment vesterday he said:

"I am delighted with Omaha. It is a great town and The Bee is a great newspaper. One always hears The Bee mentioned in the same breath with Omaha. So far as my observation has extended, Omaha must be moving along on a prosperous basis."

Mr. Johns, who is now at the head of Mr. Pulitzer's St. Louis newspaper property since Florence D. White removed to New York, is yet a young man, although he has had wide experience. He is conceded to be one of the most versatile and accomplished.

pistol Pennsylvania's four caught the water first, but they were quickly followed by Cornell and Columbia. Nearing the quarter mile Pennsylvania pushed its head to the lead and there was open water between Cornell and Columbia. When the three crews approached the bridge Cornell took a swerve to the eastward of its course but the bowman quickly regained his former position and there was a brave fight for the lead. At the one mile mark Pennsylvania still retained the lead by half a length and Columbia was a half length ahead of Cornell. Cornell was slowly decreasing Columbia's lead and all three boats were holding their course in a beautiful manner. Nearing the last quarter Cornell spurted and again decreased Pennsylvania's lead, while Columbia dropped to the rear. The Ithacans seemed to have plenty of reserve power left and made another spurt when near the finish, closing the gap between the two shells and taking the lead over Pennsylvania, winning the race by a length and a half. Columbia was not expected to make much of a showing, but by its heroic struggle it finished third, only a length and a half behind Pennsylvania. Official time: Cornell, 11:39 3-5; Pennsylvania, 11:45 2-5; Columbia, 11:51 3-5.

The freshmen race between crews representing Cornell, Pennsylvania and Syracuse for the Steward's cup, presented by Francis S. Bangs, was a beautiful struggle from start to finsh. Pennsylvania's spurt caused two lengths to show between itself and Columbia, while Syracuse was in the wash of Pennsylvania. Cornell held its lead by a length, Pennsylvania second, Columbia third and Syracuse a bad fourth. Stroke Pepper of the Pennsylvania crew again lifted the stroke to 34, and then to 36, to try to overcome Cornell's lead, and the gap was gradually closed up, the Pennsylvania freshies capturing the lead from that Torney at No. 5 had broken his oar.

GOLD DISCOVERED BY CUSTER'S COMMAND

Commissions Appointed and Finally Succeed in Making Treaty with Chiefs - Red Cloud Among the Signers.

DEADWOOD, S. D., July 2 .- (Special.) --Twenty-five years ago this fall the Sioux Indian nations signed the treaty giving the United States the portion of country now known as the Black Hills. It was necessary for congress to appoint two special commissions before the proper agreement could be made,

When General Custer entered the Black Hills in the summer of 1874 with an expedition sent out by the government to ascertain the actual condition of things he found indications of gold in French creek. On the afternoon of July 3, 1874 N. Ross, a scout of this expedition, panned out the first particles of gold, which was the first actual discovery, as far as records go. General Custer reported this finding, which made it plain to congress and the president of the United States litively to give out any statement as to that it not only would be desirable, but his possible action and nothing will be was absolutely necessary, for the government to get possession of this new gold
