City Solicitor Propares Petition Asking the Court to Act.

COUNCIL VOTES TO RETAIN LIGHT TOWERS

Resolution for Refunding Fifty Thousand Dollars in Bonds is Laid Over in an Effort to Secure a Lower Rate.

At the meeting of the city council last night City Solicitor Wadsworth was called upon to give his opinion as to the status Miss Zarn of Leavenworth, Kan., is vis-ting her aunt. Mrs. George Gerner of He stated that he had prepared a petition asking the court to set aside the judgment, but declined to make public the grounds on which he based the petition before it was filed, as he was sure that ittigation would at that time as to the validity of mayor's veto. The city council decided to retain all the electric light towers, believing that a greater area could be illuminated by them than by placing the lamps at street intersections. Some of the aldermen were in favor of dispensing with the tower on the courthouse, but'the majority decided on its retention. The electric light company was instructed to install the new lamps on the towers as soon as possible.

At the request of Manager Nichols the light company was allowed half time for the towers which have been left dark at the orders of the city council pending the testing of the towers at Oakland avenue and Fifth avenue and Twenty-first street this allowance to cease on July 15 if the tower lights are not installed by that date. Considerable discussion was had over the senior member.

The case against John Hiatt, charged with shooting holes through the windows of the office of the Freie Presse on Main street, was dismissed in police court yesterday on payment of the costs by the defendant, who, while denying his guilt, decided it was chesper to do this than employ an attorney to defend him.

An information was filed yesterday becore Judge Aylesworth charging Jake and Nate Bethers with assault and battery on Julia Cuiver, a little girl. Julia and her two elder sisters attended Epworth Methodist church Sunday evening and after the service the Bethers boys insisted on accompanying them home. The girls protested and in a seuffle that ensued the youngest was, it is charged, roughly handled by the two Bethers.

Ole Goldberg of 1317 Third avenue was fined & and costs in police court yesterday on complaint of his wife. According to the Goldberg, her husband had sold his Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, most of her wearing apparel and the greater part of ap potatoes from their garden to secure money for drinks. Goldberg said he had simply hid his wife's clothes to prevent her going to a dance. Judge Aylesworth ordered Goldberg to produce and restore to his wife her clothes.

Considerable discussion was had over the method of the motor company in relaying the granite paving between its tracks and the granite paving between its tracks and the granite paving between its tracks and the granite paving between the sender to notify the company to relay the engineer to notify the company to relay the charged to have degree instead of flat, as it is now doing. Funeral of David DeVol.

The funeral of David DeVol, one of the doneer business men of this city, occurred yesterday afternoon from the family residence on South First street and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends of the deceased. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Rev. W. S. Barnes, paster of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the services and burial was in Fairview cemetery. These were the pallbearers: Charles Green, Louis Green, William Green, George Green Paul DeVol and William Roy DeVol.

Looks Like Amateur Counterfetter. The counterfeiting outfit found in a cu' vert under the tracks of the Omaha & S' Louis ratiroad was turned over yesterday by the police to Secret Service Officer NEW Webb. Mr. Webb gave it as his opinion that the outfit belonged to amateurs in the business who had started out to coit bogus dollars and half dollars, but had become scared. He said that professional counterfeiters would never have started out to make the coins with Babbitt metal alone. The police have been unable to find where the ladle and clamp were purchased.

Working Off Mexican Money.

Complaints come from various cities of the state of efforts being made to pass Mexican money. Some time ago two persons were arrested in Des Moines for swindling and were found to have a large amount of Mexican coin in their possession. They had been passing it at its face value on unsuspecting persons. Now the same persons are in Oskaloosa, where they have been working the same game. They also have Mexican bank bills, which they work off at face value. It is reported they have distributed a large amount of Mexican coin and bills about the state and find many persons who do not know that it is of dopreciated value.
