BURKETT OPPOSES REVISION

Nebraska Congressman Says People Want Tariff Lot Alone.

IRRIGATORS PATIENT IN SPITE OF DROUTH

Annual Report of State Military Reserve-Old Settlers Prepare Program-More Deputy Game

Wardens.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, July 25 .- (Special.) - Taking into consideration the general and unprecedented prosperity of the people and their evident approval of the existing tariff laws, Congressman Burkett, replying to an inquiry from an eastern newspaper, has placed himself on record before the public as being opposed to tariff revision. His views on the subject are spoken emphatically as follows:

"I do not find any demand in the middle west for tariff revision. In fact, I should say it is not desired. The people are prosperous and, in my judgment, they do not forget with what promptness their prosperity followed the enactment of the Dingley bill. In this I would differ from the eminent statesman from Ohio, General Grosvenor, in his letter of June 1, wherein he said: 'The great danger to the future weltare of the American people lies in which, as announced in The Bee yes the shortness of their memory.' The 'pecple' have not forgotten, nor will they ever forget, the disaster in business during the unfortunate period of free trade in this

"The agitation for revision of the tariff laws is neither the voice nor the mind of the people. It does not sound like the 'people.' It does not look like the 'people.' It does not come through proper J. P. channels to be recognized as the 'people.' I have failed to find any expression of the 'people' whatsoever, either in election returns or elsewhere, indicating their dissatisfaction with the present conditions.

"Agitators may always be found. Those who believe in free trade would no doubt like to see the advocates of the American system in a clash among themselves as to detail. Persons interested in certain ways no doubt pretend to believe a revision of the tariff desirable, but neither the voice of the agitator, nor of the freetrader, nor county. the interested one should be mistaken for the voice of the 'people.'

Some may attempt to name particular facilts in our present tariff laws, but the chances are they are not in sympathy with the general policy of protection.

Welfare of Whole People.

"It can be said, without doubt, that no legislation could be enacted that would suit everybody and every individual's interest. The welfare of the whole Amer- ship on the State Penitentiary Medical American congress should be guided. The tendent Greene of the Hospital for the Infarmer in the west, the planter in the south, the manufacturer in the east and the woolgrower in the northwest and the from Lancaster county, under life sentence laboring men all over the country are prosperous at present and, in my judgment, ask no change.

The Dingley bill may not be perfect in its workings in every particular, but better it warrant the risk of the undertaking, especially when we take into consideration the fact that the machinery of commerce and industry are all adjusted to it? Besides, reciprocity is a wiselydevised and constructed safety valve to guard against any possible danger of toe high tension of the tariff law itself in any partment. Mr. Burns says the city, by acpolicy of the nation. It is the governor, so to speak, on the commercial and industrial machinery of the nation and if KNOW we would take it off to mend it the machinery would either run away with itself or stop on a dead center. Any threat of tinkering with the law would create such fear in business centers and among the people interested as to de much harm even if the only excuse therefor should prove to be the familiar philosophy that the bark is often worse than the bite."

Irrigators Are Patient.

State Engineer Dobson said today that, notwithstanding the continued drouth, he had received but few complaints from owners of irrigating permits. Ordinarily when a stream becomes dry the persons send in indignant protests, together with take some action by which the flow of water in their own particular locality might be restored. "Nearly all of the rivers and creeks in of the year, but, surprising as it is, we have received not over fifteen complaints. however, does not mean that the irrigadry for some weeks and the supply in then. particular parts of the state has been greatly reduced by the dry weather. The Platte river is almost dry from Lexington to Columbus. The North Platte near Mitchell is far below normal, but there is still a small amount of flowing water, about as much as one month later last year. The Republican is reported dry at Oxford and McCook; in fact, there is comparatively no water in the river west of the latter place. The North Platte is about normal and the Loup river is in good condition.

"The most serious trouble is experienced along the Republican river in Dundy and Hitchcock counties and along the Platte in Dawson county and the eastern part of Lincoln county. There are a great many irrigating ditches along the two rivers in the territory including these counties and the territory including these counties and the demand far exceeds the supply."

Reserve Military Force. An annual report of the condition of the state's reserve military force has been prepared by Adjutant General Colby and approved by Governor Savage. It shows that last year the United States govern-

They made their last and winning run in the sixth inning, when Genins singled and went to second on Fleming's sacrifice and to third on Calhoun's long fly to Honeyman, and scoring on Hall's wild throw to first base. # COLUMBIA TAKES THIS ONE

Leads New Yachts by Pair of Minutes In Their Latest Race.

CONSTITUTION SCRAPES ITSELF ON A REEF

Twice Bumps Ledge and After That Acts Lame-Diver Investigates and Today's Final is Called off.

NEWPORT. R. I., July 25 .- Columbia today, in a rattling thresh from New London to Newport, gave Constitution a great beating, the latter finishing a good third of a mile astern of its antagonist and being defeated two minutes five seconds. The victory was surprising, for the race was sailed in weather that as a rule has just suited Constitution, with wind not exceeding twelve knots and the sea comparatively smooth. It was not until Newport was reached that an intelligent explanation of its real good drubbing could be given.

Constitution following in the wake of Columbia, the leading yacht in the big sloop class, struck twice on a ledge near the Race Rock lighthouse. There was a substantial bump on each occasion, and after this Constitution behaved like a lame duck. All its oldtime smartness was lacking. Its speed was diminished and it sagged off to leeward. Mr. Duncan, who is in command, said that he believed some of the plates on the leaden keel were wrenched off by the force of the impact on the hard rock, and that these plates from the fin acted as a drag on the yacht, and made it theapable of showing its usual racing form. A diver was sent down shortly after Constitution was moored tonight, but he was unable to make a satisfactory examination, and Mr. Duncan decided not to race the boat further until it has been hauled out and opportunity given for a thorough investigation.

Columbia had the best of the start today, but had it not been for another streak of illfortune Constitution would have crossed the line first and results might have been different. But two boats got into its way and it was forced to gybe to clear them showed an inability to point or sail fast, which was astonishing to those who have watched it from its launch down to date. Columbia, beautifully handled in the "dead nose-ender," from Race Rock to Beckon's Recf lightship, got Constitution under its lee and kept it there to the finish line. About fifty tacks were made between Race Rock and Beckon's Reef and many miles of blue water were wasted in the keeping of Constitution blanketed. Captain Barr did not care whether any other vessel in the fleet, no matter how sluggish, beat him. His aptagonist was Constitution and he pegged at it, hammer and tongs, in light airs and puffy breezes, until onethird of a mile from the finish line, when, being that distance in the lead, he gave ita chance to get free and overtake Columbia, if it could. The wind was from the northwest and blowing a ten-knot

Constitution Acts Strangely. After passing Race Rock Constitution

Race Rock the wind blew almost due east from there to the finish line. After Race Rock was passed it grew puffy and the foremast of the schooner Muriel snapped in two places and made a wreck of the yacht. The maintopmast also parted about eight feet from the masthead. The revenue cutter Gresham came to the rescue. It is owned by Charles Smithers. The Rainbow also, not long after the Muriel was dismasted, broke its peak halyards. The owner, Cornelius Vanderbilt, set a signal of distress and the Lady Godiva towed the crippled yacht into New-gale at the start. When the yachts passed

Its stores are all on board and the challenger could start for the other side tomorrow, but in deference to nautical superstition the departure will be postponed until 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The interior bracings of the challenger are most thorough, with the idea of withstanding the worst possible weather.
