

ONE HANDED MANY SWITCHES

Union Station Trains Will Be Guided by Electric Apparatus.

TWO CONNING TOWERS WILL BE ERECTED

Trains Entering Yards Will Be Directed to Their Destinations by Operators Located in Stations High Above the Tracks.

By October 1 a complete system of electric switching and signaling, operated from two towers, will be in operation at the Union station railroad yards.

Work has already begun. The foundations for the tower at the west end of the yard are in, and the superstructure will follow shortly.

The towers will be to the north of the main tracks and ten feet from them. The west tower is to be located about twenty-five feet east of Thirtieth street, the east one about the same distance east of Sixth street and probably three blocks from the bridge across the Missouri river.

The towers will be twenty-five feet high, twenty-two feet long and thirteen feet wide. The operating floor will be twelve feet above the tracks. Here a vast system of levers will control all the switches and signals. One man will operate in each tower. Each will have seventy-five levers to handle. The operators will probably work twelve-hour shifts.

Clear Roadway Ahead. These men will control seventy-one switches and seventy-six signals in these yards. All movements of trains or any rolling stock equipment will be subject to their care and manipulation.

The work will require not only a thorough knowledge of train movements, but also a cool head and steady nerve on the part of the operator. What has always heretofore been done by hand and is still done that way will then be accomplished by electricity, man merely pulling or pushing on a certain handle as he sees a train coming or receives notice in any other manner of its approach, before the signal is given. When a dense fog or other circumstance prevents this he will be apprised by telephone.

Switches and signals will be operated and lighted by electricity. The arrangement will be such that the route must always be set up with the electric signal before a train is given. Then the act of giving the signal locks all the switches. This insures a safe and certain system, and the one in Omaha will be as important and large as any in the west, controlling an unusually extensive trackage and interlocking.

DISC SIGNALS ON DOUBLE TRACK.

Engineers Will Be Able to Depend on Electricity in Harness.

The block system, a new and improved method of signaling, is being established by the Union Pacific road throughout the extent of its double trackage from Council Bluffs to Gilmore, ten miles southeast of Omaha on the main line.

The work is being done by contract, an eastern firm having undertaken it. It will be completed by September 1 and the Union Pacific will then have in operation the latest approved scheme of signaling for keeping its trains spaced along the double track at this terminal.

This block system will manipulate itself automatically, electricity being the agent. The trackage for the extent named, thirteen miles of double or twenty-six of single, is to be divided into sections ranging from half a mile to a mile and a half in length. These are the blocks, so-called.

Trains on this double trackage run right-handed entirely and the disc signals will be placed along the outside of each track, there being a system for each. The signal consists of a large disc, extending from a support at the top of the post, and they signal by position or exposure in the daytime and by vari-colored lights at night.

Such a signal will be placed at the beginning of each block. If there is a train in the next block the signal at the head of it shows danger; if in the next block but one, it says, "Go slow." Thus the driver of a train can always tell just what is in front of him for two miles or more.

This result is accomplished by electric power and the contact of the car wheels does it, not the weight. A handcar will spring the signal for a block. The electric work is rather complicated and the entire mechanism is placed out along the tracks and the signals themselves. Work the Union Pacific line has proceeded as far as the insulation, on which the force of men which is putting in the signals is now working.

Former Omaha Man Is Promoted.

A circular announcement from the headquarters of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway at Chicago, tells of the appointment of W. S. Howell, a former Omahan, to the position of general eastern agent of that road, controlling both freight and passenger traffic in the New York district.

Only two years ago Mr. Howell held the position under Mr. Nash in the Omaha office as assistant general western agent. He was removed east and promoted to be general eastern passenger agent. Mr. J. R. Hixson held the correlative position of general eastern freight agent. The latter's death last Thursday left a vacancy, and the two offices were consolidated under Mr. Howell, who, dating from August 1, will be at the head of both departments of the traffic. His headquarters will be in New York City.

St. Patrick's Church Social.

St. Patrick's church social will be held at the Base Ball park Thursday evening, August 1. In addition to the usual attractions found at a church social, there will be a band concert and an interesting exhibition of stereoscopic views. Mr. Joe Barton will sing a solo, "The Holy City." Some very beautiful prizes will be voted to the most popular young ladies.

DISCUSSES EMBALMED MILK

Dr. Ralph of the City Health Department Talks of the Effects of Formaldehyde Preparations.

"It is impossible to tell exactly what the effect of formaline, preservative and other formaldehyde preparations is on the human system," said Dr. J. R. Ralph, assistant to the city health commissioner, in discussing embalmed milk. "The action of such preparations, even when used in very small quantities, must be very dangerous. Put a few drops of formaldehyde solution in the palm of the hand and the skin will shrivel up where the solution touches. It seems to tan the skin."

"If the action of formaldehyde is so noticeable on the palm of the hand, where the skin is tough, its effect on the tender membranes lining the alimentary canal must be more pronounced. Physicians disagree as to the action of preservative fluids, but practically all authorities concede that harm is liable to come from the introduction of such substances into the system. Some physicians maintain that typhoid fever is frequently traceable to formaldehyde and other preservatives used in food-stuffs."

The city milk inspector is constantly receiving complaints from people who suspect their milk dealers of using formaline, but a chemical analysis of all samples secured has revealed preserving formaline in the milk of only one dealer.

EFFECT OF STRIKE IS FELT

Omaha Hardware Dealers Are Stocked for Present Needs, but Not for the Future.

Omaha dealers in heavy hardware and building steel are beginning to look anxiously forward to a settlement of the strike now in progress in the steel mills of the country, as there is at this time no possibility of renewing stocks once depleted and delivery within any specified time.

Inquiry among the wholesale and larger retail dealers shows that Omaha is particularly fortunate in the matter of stocks of steel, as all of the houses made heavy orders in the spring which were filled before the strike.

"The weather will be decidedly warmer Thursday, but I do not wish to be understood as predicting a setting of the excessively hot weather of last week, for that weather was abnormal and we have no right to expect such conditions again," said Forecaster Welsh yesterday.

TEMPERATURE IS COMING UP

Warmer Weather Is Officially Predicted for Omaha and Vicinity Today and Tomorrow.

"The weather will be decidedly warmer Thursday, but I do not wish to be understood as predicting a setting of the excessively hot weather of last week, for that weather was abnormal and we have no right to expect such conditions again," said Forecaster Welsh yesterday.

SWEET CORN FOR THE HORSES

Market Gardeners Feed Their Horses of Burden on Luxuries and Prices Go Upward.

Local vegetable markets are awaiting the result of the rains which fell last week. The prospects are bright for many vegetables.

Tomatoes are going to be scarce and much higher by the close of the week, as the early crop is about exhausted and the later one is not ready for the market.

Gardeners are feeding sweet corn to their horses in preference to buying old corn at existing prices and this has a tendency to keep the price of that article above normal.

The last of the early wild plums will be sold this week and for ten days there will be little of this fruit on the market.

There is a large crop of the later variety in sight and prices will probably be lower than yet quoted.

On account of the scarcity of home grown vegetables California fruit is having a boom for the season and the sale in Omaha this summer will exceed that of previous seasons.

HOME FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Domestic Privileges Offered to Young Women of Limited Means.

NEW INSTITUTE HAS NO SAVOR OF CHARITY

Dean Campbell Fair and His Co-Workers Will Transform Child's Saving Institute into Establishment for Working Girls.

A home for working girls, prices gauged with reference to their wages, surrounded by educational and Christian environments.

This is, in brief, the most recent addition to Omaha benevolent institutions, and thanks for its inception and consummation are due to Rev. Campbell Fair, dean of Trinity cathedral.

For several months Dean Fair has had this project under contemplation. It was no easy undertaking and many difficulties were encountered from time to time, but now it is believed that all barriers have been removed and the new work will be in operation within a very short while—perhaps the next two weeks.

The home for working girls will be located in the building at Eighteenth and St. Mary's avenue, now occupied by the Child's Saving Institute, of which Rev. A. W. Clark is superintendent. Superintendent Clark's institute will be removed to its new home at Eighteenth and Ohio streets in a few days and Dean Fair's enterprise will then take possession of the building.

Some little will be required for papering and other repairs, it being the idea to put the place in excellent condition.

Broad Scope of the Home.

Several other features of benevolent work will be conducted in conjunction with the home for girls, taken in the aggregate, this institute is called the "Institute." The upper floors of the building will be arranged for sleeping rooms for young women patrons. A matron will be in charge and every effort will be made to give an air of home-like freedom.

Particular attention is called to the fact that the young women living in this home will not be branded as charity seekers; for, in fact, they are required to pay a stipulated price for the accommodations received. However, the price will be within their reach, and, in many ways, they will find the home superior to such boarding houses as they could afford, so the leaders of the project say.

In this work Dean Fair is supported by numerous prominent citizens and the new institution begins its career with every indication of filling a necessity that has long existed in Omaha, where the factories and workshops give employment to so many girls of limited financial resources.

TEMPERATURE IS COMING UP

Warmer Weather Is Officially Predicted for Omaha and Vicinity Today and Tomorrow.

"The weather will be decidedly warmer Thursday, but I do not wish to be understood as predicting a setting of the excessively hot weather of last week, for that weather was abnormal and we have no right to expect such conditions again," said Forecaster Welsh yesterday.

From away up in the northwest come reports which look like those sent out from the northwest, at Lewiston, Idaho, there was a temperature of 104 degrees Tuesday, at Boise City 102, the same at Pocatello and 100 degrees at Grand Junction, Colo. In the lake region and Ohio valley the weather is cooler, but over the entire northwest a setting of the temperatures. At Omaha there was but a slight difference between the reading at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and at the same time Tuesday, the temperature being 71 degrees yesterday, against 69 the day before.

With the exceptions of the states of Minnesota, Nebraska and the Dakotas there were good rains over the corn and wheat belt of the country, but in the states mentioned there was comparatively little precipitation.

A Cure for Cholera Infantum.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker of Bookwater, O., "an infant child of my neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, and in a few days the child was fully recovered and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance. For sale by all druggists.

PRODUCT OF CO-EDUCATION

Berkeley Graduate Who Has Won Place in Business and Literary World Visits in Omaha.

While enroute from the east to her home in Oakland, Cal., Miss Rebecca Blackwood, private secretary to Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, was a guest in Omaha yesterday. Independent of her position as confidential secretary and protégée of Mrs. Hearst, Miss Blackwood is a most interesting young woman. She is the second of three daughters of an Oakland business man; she is tall, dark and possessed of a most pleasing personality. Miss Blackwood is a graduate of the University of California and is at present completing a post graduate course.

Miss Blackwood arrived at 1 o'clock and left for the west on the 3 o'clock train. She was the guest of Miss Nora Emerson of 2305 Douglas street.

Though but 25 years of age, Miss Blackwood has gained an enviable reputation as a writer of magazine articles. Although she is a regular contributor to some of the leading periodicals of the day she never signs her own name to any of her work. In this habit she is encouraged by Mrs. Hearst, who is anxious that her work be accepted upon its own merits.

For several months Dean Fair has had this project under contemplation. It was no easy undertaking and many difficulties were encountered from time to time, but now it is believed that all barriers have been removed and the new work will be in operation within a very short while—perhaps the next two weeks.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF ARSON

Mrs. Mary McGraw Is Held by Police to Answer Charge of Burning of E. Jester's Barn.

Mrs. Mary McGraw, living at Twenty-first and Hurt streets, is under arrest at the police station charged with arson. She is accused of burning a barn belonging to E. Jester about midnight of Tuesday. The principal witness against Mrs. McGraw is a neighbor, who says that shortly before midnight she came to his house and complained that the barn in question, which is opposite the McGraw home, was being used for immoral purposes and that her husband was there in company with several shoddy characters of both sexes. And if you don't go there right away and throw them out," the woman is reported to have said, "I'll burn the barn before daylight."

As the neighbor had nothing to do with the barn he paid no attention to the demand, but an hour later the structure was seen to be in flames. Mrs. McGraw claims that she started the fire or that she threatened to do so, but admits the part about her husband consorting with immoral persons there.

DANDRUFF WON'T WASH OUT.

The Germ that Causes It Has to Be Destroyed to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking scrubbing of the scalp will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week, at the age of 40 years she has spent 200 days of twelve hours each, or two-thirds of a year of her life, in that vain hope. Dandruff is a germ, and you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is Newbro's "Herpeleide," also a delightful hair dressing and thoroughly antiseptic against all contagion from use of other hair brushes. It is also a delightful hair dressing.
