Since the breaking sign of anything to discourage the people. Today Director Sage of the weather and crop service made the following general report on condition of crops for August 1, They were made to connect with a canal, being a review of the month of July and the summer to that date:

The condition of corn is unusually variable in different sections of the state, as shown by estimates ranging from twenty to found that besides filling the needs for ninety per cent, and the final output of the crop depends upon future contingencies as to moisture and early or late frosts; therefore the average estimate of condition for the state at large, made at this time, must be taken with due allowance for the unusual circumstances under which it has been put forth. No man at this time is sufficiently well informed as to the actual condition of the crop in all parts of the state to be able to formulate anything better than a guess relative to the final output of merchantable corn. Estimates of condition are as follows: Corn, 55 per cent; epring wheat, 84; oats, 75; barley, 83; flax, 74; millet, 62; potatoes, 34; pastures, 45; apples, 35; grapes, 70. The larger number of these reports were made by local correspondents during the last days of July and before the beneficial effects of the copious showers were made evident. And the fact should be noted that the estimates are made by the larger number of reporters on the basis of 40 bushels of corn per acre as the normal crop, representing 100 per cent. This would indicate an average yield of 22 bushels per acre, as the consensus of opinion of the reporters; or a total for the state of about 190,000,000 bushels. In my judgment the total will not fall short of that amount, but this estimate is subject to revision-when we know more about the matter.

HEAT SUPPLIED BY THE CITY.

old Weather Topic for Midsummer Rending.

An innovation in municipal ownership is oon to be launched at Goshen, Ind. The ity council proposes to furnish heat to its itizens in addition to water and lights. The plan is to furnish hot water heat from the municipal water works plant. This system has been tested and found successful in London, England, and also to some extent by private companies in the United States, but never before has a municipality undertaken such a plan. It was in 1874 that the question arose of either increasing the size of Goshen's fire department or else constructing a municipal water works plant on a small scale for fire protection only There had been a number of big losses from fires and in those days the fire department facilities of the smaller towns and cities were usually inadequate. The outfit here consisted of a hand-pumping engine, two hose carts and a hook and ladder device. A public meeting was held. It was largely attended and the enthusiasm was marked It was decided that the city should put in resolution to that effect was sent to the of the prolonged drouth the weather has council, and soon the work was begun. The been ideal for recuperation and there is no eystem installed would now, twenty-five years later, be considered very crude, but it answered the purposes of that day. The main pipes which were laid were of wood. and to force the supply of water through them the city purchased numps and a large wheel for water power. The system, when completed, cost the city $9,000 and it was which it was particularly constructed that it would admit of still further extension with but little extra cost. Following its completion a public test of the system was made to the satisfaction of the citizens.

From this beginning later developed the installing of steam power so as to allow the supply of water for private consumption. Next came the addition of artesian wells. and in 1881 a power house with a complete plant was erected. Today the system in cludes nearly twenty-one miles of street mains, 160 fire hydrants and twelve public watering troughs. The power station equipment comprises a standpipe of 265,000 gallons capacity, one pump with a capacity of ,000,000 gallons for every twenty-four hours and two pumps of 1,000,000 gallons capacity each and four boilers of 400-horse power. From the plant there is an annual income of nearly $7,500 from private consumers.

The installing of a municipal hot-water plant is now in the hands of the water and lighting committee, which is so successfully managing the municipal plants already in operation. In their first report to the city council they stated that they had information to the effect that the exhaust from the city power station would supply, without cost, all the heat required for heating the water for from 40,000 to 59,000 square feet of radiation. One estimate is that it will heat from 70,000 to 80,000 feet. In order to be safely conservative, they go on to assume that the exinent colored men of lowa, at Waverly, at haust will supply heat for only 25,000 the home of his mother. He was one of the square feet. The cost of furnishing the most conspicuous members of the colored heat for 125,000 square feet would be, an-Iowa Masonic fraternity, and was deputy nually, $7,500 for heat and $576 for power grand potentate for the Scottish Rite Masons to circulate the water. Now, if there is one thing in particular that this youth dotes upon it is jelly. But jelly is an article of food that takes time after a few mornings. So the jelly is locked up the tightest of all.

The other morning the youth let himself into the house just as the gray streaks of dawn were cross-barring the eastern sky. There was milk and bread awaiting him, but his soul craved for jelly. He determined to hunt for some. Taking a slice of bread and a knife he stole down cellar and searched the fruit shelves. What happiness! He dimly made out the outlines of dipped in his knife and felt the soft and quivering mass. What a joke on his usually careful mother. She had actually forgotten to turn the key on this treasure.
