The grand mufti announced this near the close of the initiations. It means much more than the fact that these men will be present in the city during the feativities, for of the knights of Ak-Sar-Ben it means that the two parades to be given in connection with the fall festival will be the best ever presented to the citizens of the northwest since the order was established. Until this time there has been some doubt as to the success of the daylight parade, but now that it is certain that the militia will be here the committee will start to work on this feature with renewed vigor, and exert. every effort to bring out a great civic display.

After the initiations were begun still other candidates arrived from out of the Greatest European Anthority on Skin city and the work had to be put on in two divisions.

At the close of the initiations addresses were made by J. W. Axford of Manchester, Eng., E. L. Tiffany of Kennard, Rabbi Abram Simon and E. M. Bartlett.

Mr. Aaford referred to the inronds upon British commerce being made by the manufacturers of the United States, saving that office desks of American manufacture were delivered and sold in London for 5 per cent less than to -ald make the same articles in that country and that the same condition existed in other lines. He further said that there was a growing element in England that was asking why the government did ing. not adopt some sort of tariff law to equalize the difference in the cost of goods of English and American manufacture and that the only reason that he could see for their failure to do so was because they were too green.

The Kimball plane for purity of tonea tone that matches the human voice, is not equaled in all the world. It maintains that tone too. We have on our foor a "Kimbail" plane sold by us twenty-eight years ago, its tone today, is as marvelously sweet and pure as the day it was sold. Seeing is believing. See this twenty-eight-year-old Kimball. Some day we'll be talking about the "Knabe," Hallet & Davis" and "Kranich & Bach" pianos as though they haven't a superior, and they haven't in their particular sphere. See our sale prices this week on these famous makes.
