The only new sail tried today was its largest clubtopsail. It was a revelation to those who saw it. It appears much larger than the topsails on Columbia and Constitution. It extends further out over the gaff and runs up higher above the topmast. It is said that the distance from the boot of the mast to the top of the topsail club is over 190 feet. The sail sheets fill out well and there is less looseness along the head than on either of the American boats.

Sir Thomas Lipton was on board during the entire trial and when seen at Sandy Hook after the racer picked up its moorings seemed much pleased with its showing. "This is the twentieth spin which the boat has had," said he, "including its races on the other side. It is improving all the time and I am more pleased with it today than ever before. If it does not carry back the cup the American boat that beats it may well inspire pride in your people." A notable feature of the day was the constant saluting which the challenger received from ocean steamers down to the smallest of launches.
