unanimously and you have it before you. The people expect a declaration from this convention and we will only satisfy ourselves if we fall to do our duty.

Judge Jensen of Oioe was pointed in his remarks. He said: "It is a question whether we will allow the crime of embezzlers to buy his way out of the penitentiary, or will compel every thief to suffer the same punishment. Every horse thief who is caught is willing to return the stolen horse. I say every horse thief should be treated as a horse thief."

C. P. Heaviside: I want this Bartley question settled now. Bartley, I consider Bartley worse than a thief, if, with the power to restore it, he has kept the money stolen from the taxpayers four years for the purpose of buying his freedom.

Whedon Falls to Impress Delegates. C. O. Whedon, who figured prominently in the Lancaster county delegation, and well known as Bartley's attorney, came forward with a specious plea on behalf of his client, but it failed to catch the temper of the convention.

Five Ballots for Supreme Judge. The preceding stages of the convention were interesting if not so exciting. Judge Baker was well received as temporary chairman with the exception of restlessness toward the close of his speech. His clear enunciation was appreciated and liberal applause was accorded his retirement to the magnanimous retirement of the leaders in the late senatorial deadlock, his tribute to the new senators and his eulogy of President McKinley.

ROUTINE OF THE CONVENTION. Judge Baker's nomination is made unanimous after the fifth and decisive ballot. (From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 28.—(Special Telegram.)—State Chairman Lindsay lowered the level at 2:35 and the delegates came to order promptly. The official call was read and the acting assistant secretary, and Chairman Lindsay then introduced Judge Baker, who had been selected by the state committee for temporary chairman of the convention.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE. The first man to drop was Judge Dickinson, who had early announced his retirement in the morning, yet received four votes on the first ballot. The second was Barnes, who after a loss of twenty votes from the first to the second, executed a flank movement on the third, turning over as much of his strength as possible, including his own county of Madison, to Judge Sedgewick. Calkins did not drop until after the fourth ballot, when he had been run down to fifty-eight votes.

Judge Keyser's Good Showing. Judge Keyser made a good showing, growing steadily from the first ballot, although he did not grow as fast as Judge Sedgewick. The uncontrollable perversity of four of his own delegates, Bush, Troutman, Bistfelder and Marquense, prevented him from polling more than 140 of the 144 votes of Douglas county. Washington county, too, which is part of his judicial district, seemed bent upon preferring his competitors, but he got liberal support from the counties to the west, as well as from a number south and west.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE. The great stalwart leaders, who by their ability and good work made it possible to have a republican legislature and had earned the high honor which their thousands of friends and admirers demanded for them and refused to recede, magnanimously withdrew their names from the senatorial contest and requested their friends to elect two good and tried republicans to the United States senate, and they did it. These self-same war-scarred veterans of the old party are now seen in the foremost rank, fighting with their old-time vigor and ability for the success of the party.

secretary could not have kept track of the movement, which plainly meant the collapse of the remaining candidates, and the motion for a unanimous nomination was a timely relief to the tally markers.

Judge Sedgewick's few words of thanks were well received, showing, as they did, a deep appreciation of the character of the supreme bench and the services expected of the judges who sit upon it. Calls for Keyser and Davidson went unresponded to. The convention was in no mood for oratory, outside of the regular line of business, and even the Senator Millard sat undisturbed on the stage, a favor he greatly appreciated in view of the oppressive heat.

Regents Electify Chosen. The selection of candidates for regents was made on one ballot. The present incumbent, H. L. Gould of Keith county, received merited re-nomination, with C. J. Ernst of Lancaster for his associate. R. B. Schneider of Dodge for some reason or other got into active circulation while the voting was in progress.

Career of the Candidate. Samuel Hopkins Sedgewick is 53 years of age, having been born in Dupage county, Illinois, in 1848. He was educated in Wheaton college, in which he began reading law before he finished. He studied one year at Michigan university law school and completed his studies at Green Bay, Wis., in 1874. In 1878 he came to York, Neb., having first married in Illinois, and has remained steadily in the pursuit of his profession. The only public office he has held is that of district judge, to which he was elected in 1895. He has since that time been a retired, re-election being impossible owing to the strong fusion majority in his district, although he responded to the party's call to run again. He was prominently before the republican state convention of 1899 for course for a campaign this term, but was awarded to Judge Reese. His wife and two daughters live with him at York, one son having died.

and labor cannot live without capital. They should be the greatest of friends. No true saying was ever uttered than that of Robert Burns: "The rich man's sin is that he pushes hard or not, or whether he pushes for hope of reward or love of party. With the harmonious and judicious termination of our senatorial contest, and with all the material aspirants vigorous for party success, victory awaits the nominee of this convention.

Who Would Cripple Commerce? Would you prevent these great organizations? Would you retard their unparalleled and most marvelous advancement? Produced by centralization of capital? Would you cripple the great co-partnership and corporations that employ millions of hands of men and women? No! Let the great march of progress continue and let the great old party have votes enough in congress to pass needed laws to control and regulate these great corporations and industries, by whatever name they may be known. Let it be controlled that the humblest laborer will be protected in all his rights and earnings and the corporations neither uprooted nor their existence jeopardized. There is room for organized capital and organized labor. Capital and labor are the two essential great forces of industry. They are inseparable, they are co-extensive, and if either, by its superior power, seeks to oppress, laws enacted to suppress and punish such violation in the same manner as you would the violation of any other criminal law.

gates as submitted to Chairman Lindsay were accepted as the accredited lists of delegates. L. P. Ludden, John T. Mallieau and W. S. Haller of Washington were elected assistant secretaries. On motion of John C. F. McKesson, Chief Justice Norval was made permanent chairman.

On assuming the chair Judge Norval said: "I appreciate more than I can explain the high compliment you have paid me and I thank you for it from the bottom of my heart. You do not want me to make a speech, what you want is to nominate our candidates and formulate our platform. I am personally acquainted with all of the candidates now before this convention and I am confident that whichever one you name will be elected. I thank you again and ask your further pleasure."

vote for Sedgewick and Pawnee and Adams quickly followed up. At this point there was wild confusion in the hall. Delegates in all parts of the hall were shouting loudly for recognition, but in the midst of the tumult John C. Wharton, standing by the seat of a chair near the stage, gained the floor, and moved on behalf of Douglas county to make the nomination of Sedgewick unanimous. There were loud and vigorous shouts of approval and the motion was speedily carried by the convention.
