IRISH SHOTS START BEST

recommends as politically and economically advisable that the Boers be removed to the coast. Seem to Make Better Showing Than Americans at Sea.

SAE GIRL, N. J., Aug. 31.—The National Rifle Association of America began a ten days' shooting tournament on the New Jersey state camp grounds at Sea Girl which promises to be the most important rifle shooting contest ever held on this side of the Atlantic.

Two matches of international character will be decided before the close of the meeting. These events will be the special challenge match at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards between representative teams from the Ulster Rifle Association of Belfast, Ireland, and the New Jersey State Rifle Association, and the world's championship team contest, for which only two teams have entered, making it a match between Canada and the United States.

Today the Ulster men and several of the American shots from whose ranks General Bird W. Spencer will select the New Jersey Rifle Association team, monopolized the long ranges, beginning at the 200-yard range and going back to the 900 and the 1,000 yards, each man shooting eleven times at each distance.

Military Men Look On. A large gathering of civilian and military experts as well as many visitors watched the work of all the men. Governor Foster M. Voorhees complimented John Wilson, captain of the Irish team, on the wonderful performance of his men. At 500 yards John Morgan of Ireland scored ten successive bullseyes, and out of his first twenty shots he made twenty bullseyes at the 800 and 900 yards. When each side had finished the rounds of three distances Morgan had 133 points out of a possible 150 and Robert Duncan, another Ulster man, had a similar score. There was only a light wind in evidence while the men were firing over the shorter ranges, but when they began at 1,000 yards there was a stiff, puffy wind which bothered them and the scoring became irregular. J. R. Williams of Belfast made the top score of forty-five at this distance, and his total for the three ranges was 134. The next best work done was that of Major J. K. Miller, whose name has been identified with international rifle shooting since 1874, who in the Irish team first shot at Creedmoor. While he has not been at his best for some time he shot well today and his score was 132.

Americans Not So Good. Among the American representatives who participated on the long range work were: Dr. Hudson, William De V. Foulke, Captain Whitaker, H. M. Pope and many other members of the New Jersey Rifle Association. They all acquitted themselves creditably. None of the scores of the American contestants was made known, but it was generally conceded that their shooting was not as good as that of the visitors. Many additions to the ranks of the state riflemen were made today, as two teams arrived from Boston. Squadron A of New York sent a team, and late this evening two Pennsylvania representatives reached the camp.

The only other important matches decided today were the Columbia trophy and inspectors' matches. The former was confined to five teams of six men each from New Jersey state regiments and naval reserves. The Columbia trophy was won by the Fourth regiment of Jersey City with a total of 248. The inspectors' match, open to all inspectors of rifle practice, either by commission or detail, was won by Captain Stebbins, Twelfth regiment, New York, with ninety-six points. Captain Marston, Second regiment, New Jersey, was second with ninety-one points; Lieutenant W. M. Parrow, Second regiment, District of Columbia, third with eighty-nine points, and Captain Springstead, Fourth regiment, New Jersey, fourth with eighty-nine points.

The principal event tomorrow will be the foot race for the Wimbledon cup, for which there is a large entry. The conditions are thirty shots per man at 1,000 yards, and it is open only to citizens of the United States.

PRESIDENT OF THE SOUTHERN Paul Morton Says He's Not the Man, and It May Be Felton of Alton. CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—(Special Telegram.)—Paul Morton, second vice president of the Santa Fe road, returned to Chicago today from the east. He said he had not been offered the presidency of the Southern Pacific and would not accept it if he were offered the place.

It is generally believed in Chicago railway circles that President Felton of the Alton will soon be named to succeed Mr. Hays. Mr. Felton has been in the east the last week and will stay there a week longer. He is in conference with E. H. Harriman, head of the syndicate owning the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Alton, Illinois Central and other systems.

Curse DRINK CURED BY White Ribbon Remedy Can be given in Glass of Water, Tea or Coffee without Patient's Knowledge. White Ribbon Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a teetotaler, a tippler, a social drinker or a drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using White Ribbon Remedy.

Endorsed by Members of W. C. T. U. Mrs. Moore, superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, writes: "I have tested White Ribbon Remedy on very belated drunkards, and the cure has been many. In many cases the remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and endorse White Ribbon Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Mrs. West, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, states: "I know of so many people redeemed from the curse of drink by the use of White Ribbon Remedy that I cannot resist the temptation to give it a trial. For sale by druggists everywhere, or by mail from the manufacturer by writing or calling on Mrs. A. M. Townsend, for years secretary of the W. C. T. U., 218 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. Sold in Omaha by Charles H. Schaefer, 16th and Chicago streets."

South Africa in Turmoil Correspondent States Cape Colony is Bordered Upon a Panic. LONDON, Aug. 31.—Some interesting sidelights are thrown on the South African war by advices published today. A dispatch from Capetown to the Daily Mail indicates that Scheepers' command has now moved to the southwest coast, and that Cape Colony previously undisturbed by the Boers, while more severe restrictions have been imposed with the object of preventing communication between Capetown and the newly disturbed areas.

The Colonel's correspondent in Capetown declares that the "entire Cape Colony is a seething mass of disorder and alarm." He asserts that the Boers are receiving support from all sides.

Edgar Wallace, writing to the Daily Express, expresses a decided opinion that Lord Kitchener's banishment proclamation will not result in the surrender of a single important commandant and that much severer penalties are needed, the only useful policy being vigorous military measures. In the early part of August a correspondent of the Morning Express had a long talk with Lord Kitchener, from whom he gathered that "it is not Lord Kitchener but the government that is to blame for many of the present evils."

Kitchener Blames Government. Lord Kitchener, it seems, complained that the home government continually worried him about trivial details, "merely to reply to parliamentary questions, and that this compelled him to enforce a strict censorship over telegrams, although personally he objected to the present system. He said he thought correspondents ought to be given greater liberty, and should be held responsible for their statements. He avoided expressing any opinion about the "approaching end of the war" and dissuaded the correspondent from speaking about it.

Both the Morning Post and Standard give the information as to the concentration camps and confirm the reports of heavy mortality there, especially among the children in July. This is said to be largely due to the ignorance and unsanitary habits of the Boers, but conditions are rapidly improving. At the beginning of August there were 100,000 persons in the concentration camps. A correspondent of the Morning Post asserts that the Boer refugees get eighteen pounds in ration money for each man, woman and child, and head given to British loyalists, and he
