Wants Secretary Wilson to Come and See Farm Products.

YEAR'S FINEST AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT

Demonstrates the State's Important Part in the Corn Belt and Sends Enthusiastic Word to Washington.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—The following message was sent by telegraph tonight to James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, at Washington.

The Nebraska State Board of Agriculture, greeting and cordially requesting your presence at the annual agricultural exhibition in the United States during the year 1901.

It has been demonstrated that Nebraska is a very important part of the corn belt, said a member of the board, referring to the message, "and we want the man who said the state was not in the corn belt to come here and be convinced of his error."

Mr. Wilson comes to Lincoln he will see that it is not excelled in any state in the union and we will have no difficulty in proving that both in acreage and yield Nebraska occupies a position pretty near the top of the column.

Surpasses All Previous Shows.

The sending of the message was the result of a conference of the Board of Agriculture, held soon after the state fair gates closed tonight. It was unanimously agreed that the agricultural and live stock exhibits at the fair surpass all previous efforts in this state. Claims of this nature have been made during the last two or three days, but they were generally thought by the public to be exaggerated. Tonight the board reaffirmed the claim and went still further by sending the enthusiastic message to Secretary Wilson.

Fair weather and a good attendance marked the opening day of the fair. The gates were thrown open at 7 o'clock and the street cars and Burlington specials were crowded all day with visitors going to and from the grounds. The Pawnee City band gave concerts morning and afternoon.

Tomorrow there will be numbers of attractive features. The speed program will begin at 2 o'clock and between the events there will be a contest by the volunteer fire departments of York, Grand Island and University Place, for cash prizes aggregating $250. Public trial exhibition of cattle will be begun in the morning.

MURDERERS ARE LOCATED

Chief Detective So Declares in the Gillilan Case.

EXPECTS TO MAKE ARRESTS SPEEDILY

L. B. Jones of South Omaha Made Deputy Warden at Penitentiary—Plans for a Holiday Thursday.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 2.—(Special.)—Chief Detective Malone of the Lincoln police department declares that he knows the whereabouts of the murderers of John J. Gillilan and that he will arrest them within the next few days or as soon as he can collect some additional evidence against them.

"This is not merely a supposition," said Malone, "but an established fact. It is next to impossible to secure evidence in a case of this kind and that is the cause of the delay in this case. The men have been located and they will not get away."

"Since the night of the murder, we have been almost constantly on foot, following up every clue and suggestion which could possibly be of any value. We have followed every theory and thoroughly examined and investigated all suspects. As a result of this work we have drawn a net about the guilty persons which makes it impossible for them to escape arrest."

Detective Malone refused to say whether his knowledge of the case made him believe that the murder was premeditated or was the result of an attempted holdup. "It might have been premeditated murder, it might have been a holdup and it might have been a case of mistaken identity," he replied when questioned. "The fact will be given to the public in due time."

DR. BRYAN PRESCRIBES AGAIN

Tells Kansas City Unionists to Insist on Greater Justice Before the Law.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—Labor day was marked by the largest and most imposing parade of labor unions ever seen here and by the participation of William J. Bryan in the procession. Eight thousand men marched through the streets, grouped in their unions and each union wearing a distinguishing uniform. These uniforms were made by the lock-outed girls of Government Makers Union No. 47, who have started a co-operative dress factory. The young women, dressed in white, rode in a tall-boy coach and were cheered all along the line.

DR. BRYAN PRESCRIBES AGAIN

Each decade of our history shows greater production of wealth and the men who produce it have less leisure time. It is in regulation for equal justice before law. The laboring man is not a slave. The laborer has but it is weak and inefficient. If the laboring man were half as active on his own days as he is in enforcement of their strikes they would wield a force that would strike the evils which beset them. The greatest danger of today is private monopoly. Not that any one monopoly is worse than others, but the principle is bad which fosters any private monopoly.

WOMEN IN MANY FIELDS

Occupations Novel a Few Years Ago Attract Attention Now.

The march of progress which has brought so wide an extension of opportunities for women shows no signs of ceasing or even dimming. Every year a new department of labor, a new college, a new field of investigation is opened up to this class of occupied, peopled or rippled sex. Not only industries, but the professions, high and low, now offer avenues and outlets for the energies of girls and women who are ambitious, clever and willing to work. Stenographers, clerks, factory hands, teachers, are now so predominantly feminine that mention is almost never made of these, in praise or censure, but every month discloses some unique profession adopted by some pathbreaker among women, or some new and special honor bestowed upon a deserving girl.

Wonders why? To build her up everything under the sun is tried except a lessening of mental work and the structural strain upon the nervous system. The girl develops into what? A bundle of nerves encased in the most fragile frame, her physical vitality sapped almost to the last drop. And in this condition she enters the marriage state! And yet we wonder why there are so few women absolutely free from organic troubles. Is it so inexplicable? ... One of the most amazing phases of modern life is the lack of some parental knowledge which exists on the part of mothers in the education of their growing daughters. It seems to be impossible for some mothers clearly to realize that a girl between the years of 16 and 18 cannot endure any mental or physical strain without inviting the gravest possible dangers. The cases of the grossest neglect of the physical development of our American girls are, according to medical statistics, traceable to New England homes. The weight of a girl's head, rather than the weight of her body, is what most concerns the New England mother. And the results of such training are apparent to even the most casual observer of the American woman. In short, the New England home is a healthier product than is the New England girl.

Tramp at Weeping Water is Given a Taste of Lynching.

LOWERED ONCE TO SAY PRAYERS

After Being Thoroughly Scared, This Trifler with Children is Driven Out of the County.

(Special Telegram.)—Saturday afternoon a tramp stopped at the home of Walter Perry, five and a half miles northwest of here, during Perry's absence. His two children, one 4 and the other a girl of 6 years old, were playing near a straw stack. The tramp induced the girl to go behind the stack and took liberties with her. When Perry came home in company with neighbors they searched the country over, and finally located the man working here in the quarry this morning, and at the point of a revolver Perry made the tramp go with him. He gave his name as E. M. Lingell, and before reaching Perry's home confessed that he was the man wanted, but denied any evil intentions.

This afternoon the neighbors strung him up to the crossarms of a telegraph pole at the railroad tracks, then lowered him, allowed him to pray and send word to his mother then put him up again and finally lowered him. They made him promise to leave the county and let his good friends' intentions were to kill the man, but later thought he was not right mentally and as the girl had not been harmed in any way concluded to let him off. The neighbors stood ready to obey any orders given.
