

BUSY WEEK FOR YOUNG MEN

Society Shows Some Visiting Collegians Quite a Lively Time.

COUNTRY CLUB STILL A SOCIAL CENTER

Affairs of the Smart Set Get Daily Discussion Out There and Conversation Entertainments Are Many.

As a rule it is a visiting girl or some other girl that is responsible when society is thrown into a whirl of complimentary affairs, but last week the case was reversed and it was in honor of a party of college men that the fashionable gave over evening and afternoon to a round of pleasure that promises no abating until those young men are well out of town. If any one place can be said to have been the center of the gaiety that place was the Country club, for if everything has not actually occurred there, it was there that everybody went to talk things over during the day and every evening there was something going on there for the entertainment of those not enjoying some of the numerous other affairs with which the week was filled.

The ladies' game on Wednesday afternoon brought out more than the usual attendance and again on Saturday the crowd was much larger than is customary, but the attendance at the hop in the evening was not excessive, owing to the theater parties, which, being composed as they were of the older set, left the floor to the pleasure of the younger dancers.

The opening of the Boyd on Friday evening occasioned an unusual number of boxes and theater parties and it was noticeable that there was something more than the usual visiting among the parties between the acts.

There are those who are looking very wise of late and all on the quiet. Dame Rumor is whispering a wedding that is to occur soon. It is to be a smart affair, too, between two of the oldest families in town. Last Wednesday somebody somewhere gave a charming little luncheon for the prospective bride and the bridegroom, but the details of the affair are shrouded in mystery and but for the fact that certain young women were not present at a certain place at a certain time and refuse to give any account of their whereabouts at that time, it is doubtful if even the busy Dame would have suspected all the indefinite things that have developed since that time.

Ante Room Echoes
The next state meeting of a fraternal order to be held in Omaha will be the great council of the Improved Order of Redmen, which will meet October 8. The local tribes are making extensive preparations for the great council and promise to give the visitors royal court entertainment. The order has a membership of about 400 in Omaha and the last council was held, and there will be many delegates in attendance. The committee on arrangements has been chosen from the local tribes and the Pocahontas councils of Omaha and South Omaha and the great officers of the order are selecting them in the preparations being made. George W. McCallum of Nebraska City, great sachem of the order, was present at the meeting of the Redmen on Monday evening and with Omaha friends Wednesday evening. He said that the meeting of the great council would be the largest ever held. Great Junior Sachem T. Z. Magarrell has returned from a trip to the northern part of the state, where he instituted several tribes.

The great council of the Redmen will meet in New York September 9. The delegates from the great council of Nebraska are: S. J. Dennis, Lincoln; G. W. Inskoop, Falls City; K. K. Chubbuck, Tecumseh, and E. B. Warner, North Platte. The delegation has started for the east and will arrive in New York today.

The Omaha Elks are getting into the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities in good shape. The parade has accepted the invitation of the knights to take part in the day parade to be held one week from Wednesday, and on that occasion sixty-seven members of the order in full Indian costume, which brought forth such loud applause at the recent national convention, will be lined up for a large crowd and the preparations for their entertainment are said to be more extensive than for any meeting ever held in that city. There will be represented every state and territory in the United States, including Hawaii, which for several years has had several working lodges. The Nebraska delegates to the sovereign grand lodge are: L. B. Hoagland of North Platte and L. B. Heller of Hastings, elected by the grand encampment of the state, and G. W. Norris of McCook and G. D. Snyder of O'Neill, elected by the grand lodge.

One of the features will be a parade by uniformed members of the Patriarchs Militant and drills by these societies. Louis Helmond of this city has been chosen aide-camp to the commander-in-chief, the Patriarchs Militant, and as lieutenant colonel of the order will have charge of one of the divisions in the parade.

The state grand lodge of the order will meet in Kearney Wednesday, October 16.

Nebraska lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, is in a most flourishing condition and the interest of the members in its prosperity is increasing and is evidenced at every meeting. A season of unusual activity is looked for after the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities are over.

On next Monday evening the lodge will work in the first rank and every member is expected to be present. Visiting knights are cordially invited to attend.

The make-up of the Lodge Bulletin is finished and is now in the keeping of the printer. On next Saturday the first issue will be in the hands of every member. The editorial management believes and fondly hopes that it will be a welcome visitor to the homes of those destined to receive it. It is the intention to make it the source of Pythian information in this city and to the management invites correspondence from the members of the lodge wherever they may be, and especially from the grand lodge officers of the Nebraska domain.

The joint address of Omaha and Council Bluffs Pythians are busily engaged with the work of arranging for the basket picnic to be held at Lake Manawa on next Thursday, September 12. The committee hopes that every knight in Omaha and South Omaha will rest from his labors on that day, take his family out for an airing and to the lake and make the occasion one to be long remembered in Pythian circles.

At the next session of the grand lodge, to be held in Lincoln October 9, a supreme representative is to be elected and Omaha has a candidate for the position in the person of Past Grand Chancellor J. H. Bexen, who at this time seems to be forging to the front in great strides. It is hoped that every lodge in Omaha will declare for him and that the members will work unceasingly for his election from now until the grand lodge meets.

Court No. 75, Tribe of Ben Hur, was instituted Friday evening, August 30, at South Omaha with forty-five charter members. The meeting was held at Woodmen hall. All the officers of the royal clan have been re-elected and the order is shown to be in a most flourishing and sound condition. Further arrangements were made regarding the concert to be given here December 10 by the (Kilties') Forty-eighth Highland Regimental band of Toronto, Canada.

CHICAGO ANARCHISTS APPLAUD

Grass for McKinley and Cheers for the Misanthrope Who Sloughed His Life.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Chicago anarchists, in response to a call issued three days ago, held a meeting last night in a saloon on West Chicago avenue and discussed the attempted assassination of Mr. McKinley. Men and women who continue to be associated with the anarchist movement in the city were in the bar room. The attendance at the meeting showed that it was no impromptu gathering. Over 200 persons were gathered in the hall.

Three days ago the members of several societies were notified that a celebration was to take place last night. The motive for the call of the meeting could not be learned. They made no secret of the fact that they anticipated something of which they might talk, however. Not a word of sympathy for the man who was near his death was heard at the meeting.
