RASSIEUR COMPLAINS OF H. CLAY EVANS

Doesn't Think He Has Been Proper Kind of Pension Officer—Relief Corps and Mexican War Survivors in Session.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—The first day of the national convention of the Grand Army of the Republic was taken up by the reading of the reports by the commander-in-chief, adjutant general, chaplain and the various committees.

Commander-in-Chief Rassiour, in a spirited address, severely arraigned Pension Commissioner Evans on his administration of the affairs of the pension bureau.

Senator Hawley announced his intention of fighting any attack made upon Commissioner Evans. He expressed the fullest confidence in the administration to rectify any evils in due time and counseled moderation in the convention.

Criticizes Committee Also.

Commander-in-Chief Rassiour made remarks supplementary to his address and attacked the officers of the pension bureau at Washington.

Senator Hawley of Connecticut was then presented and at some length on the pension question. He recommended that no formal protest be made against the present administration of the present pension bureau.

A number of cities are in the fight for the next encampment, among them being Detroit, Lexington, St. Paul, Salt Lake City and Charleston, W. Va.

The Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, held the first session of its annual convention today.

The National Association of Mexican War Veterans at their session today received telegrams from Mrs. Jefferson Davis, Admiral Dewey and others.

Mrs. Grant's Felicitations. The following dispatch was received from the widow of General U. S. Grant:

COBOLING, Ont., Sept. 12.—General William McKinley has been a great blessing to the world. He has done more for the world than any other man since the death of our great president.

General Wilbur Smith, to whom the above was addressed, is secretary of the Mexican War Veterans' association. The association today intended to report about pensions and passed general resolutions and a special resolution of thanksgiving upon the prospect of President McKinley's recovery.

The action of the convention on the report of the pension committee is still a subject of all absorbing interest with the veterans. It was expected that this matter would be disposed of at today's session, but the convention adjourned without taking any formal action on the report.

Condemns Pension Commissioner. The commander-in-chief, Leo Rassiour, devoted a large part of his address to the matter of pensions. "Without any effort," he said, "on the part of the organization or its officers to give the pension problem any undue prominence, that subject has overshadowed all other subjects."

He criticized the administration of the pension bureau and demanded "the honest and fair administration of laws which are already on the statute books." Continuing, he said: "If an officer's lawlessness, recklessness and dishonesty go to such a degree that he leads him to override and ignore a plain and unmistakable order, indicating the line of his duty, under the law, coming from his superior officer, the secretary of the interior, what can the poor and helpless old soldier expect at his hands when he is claiming to exercise his discretion under that law?"

He said that the pension bureau is not a charity, but a government department, and that it should be administered as such.

assistance in the administration of the pension bureau and the objections to the bill which he proposed.

He referred regretfully to the failure of the veterans' preference bill to receive favorable consideration by congress and urged further efforts to secure its passage.

Another ground for disappointment, he said, was the failure to pass one of the three bills for a soldiers' home in South Dakota, Idaho and Oklahoma.

As to military and patriotic instructions in the public schools, he deplored the exclusion of non-commissioned officers from the bill which passed congress.

The schools of the country," he said, "are the fruitful field where patriotism can be so planted and so cultivated that nothing can destroy or eradicate it.

Commune of Paris to Be Reproduced on the Streets of Omaha Saturday.

ENTIRE BRIGADE WILL BE ENGAGED

Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery Will Unite to Produce a Grand Spectacle—Including Guns Will Also Take Part.

Omaha is to have two visits from the Nebraska National Guard in addition to its present military and civic parade of next Wednesday. The first visit will be tomorrow afternoon, when the troops will start from camp at 1 o'clock and march to the city, arriving at the corner of Seventeenth and Douglas streets at 3 o'clock.

The second visit will be Tuesday, when, at 3 p. m., starting at the corner of Seventeenth and Douglas streets, the entire brigade, including infantry, cavalry and artillery, will give riot and street drills, battle formation of all arms of the service, the infantry being reinforced with the Gatling gun sections.

The riot drill will demonstrate the different phases of the work of the militia during riots and will develop into a general engagement against a sham mob, showing how such uprisings are suppressed.

Every arm of the service will be brought into action. The guns of the artillery have been provided with 1,000 rounds of blank cartridges for the occasion, and they will sweep the streets. The infantry will be in line in open order and the Gatling guns will be trained down the highway.

Orders will be issued by Colonel Archer commanding all members of the regiment to report for services, and probably the personnel will be present in the city. The chaplain is forming a chorus of 100 voices from the men of the regiment to take part in the services and music will be supplied by the first regiment band.

The tents for Company E of the Second regiment arrived today and "Puff" Tent avenue has disappeared from the camp grounds. While waiting for the larger tents the members of the company decorated their street with many legends to show their disapproval of the campaign tents.

President Breakfast Too Hearty and Shows Decline as the Day Advances.

MILBURN HOUSE, BUFFALO, Sept. 12.—For the first time there was a bed strain in the news from the president's bedside tonight. Possibly the alarm it caused was exaggerated, but that genuine apprehension existed there can be no question.

The complication that has arisen is of a serious character. The food given to the president this morning was not properly assimilated and passed and the administration by the mouth has been discontinued. Late tonight, however, the president had two movements of the bowels within fifteen minutes and this gave him great relief and his doctors reassurance.

The president had continued to complain of the fatigue noted in the afternoon. His pulse increased to 128. This is considered entirely too high for his temperature. One of the consulting physicians said that judged by medical records, his pulse should be 96. The acceleration of the pulse was attributed partly to the revulsion of the stomach against the food.
