

NEW BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

Romance of the Last French Dauphin by Mary Hartwell Catherwood. LIFE IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY Book of Short Stories by a Chicago Writer—World's Great Religions—The World's Best Essays—Story of Jesus.

When Mary Hartwell Catherwood was 12 years old she read in a magazine an article intended to prove that the son of Louis XVI of France did not die in prison, but was taken to America, where he was given the name of a half-breed Indian and brought up under the name of Elias Williams, or Lazzare, as the Indians called him.

Sir Walter Besant's "The Lady of Lynn" is a story of life in the middle of the eighteenth century, being set in an English coast town. "The Lady of Lynn" is the name of a ship in the Portuguese trade, but the story is not a tale of the sea.

Edith M. Nichol, author of "Observations of a Ranch Woman," has written a novel bearing the striking title "By Their Fruits." It is a brisk and pleasing story that will be admired by many readers.

Eleanor C. Reed writes under the title, "The Battle Invisible." Five short stories of farm and country life. The first story, which gives the book its name, tells of the tragic consequence of the feud between two leading citizens, and is highly dramatic in outline.

"Great Religions of the World" contains a series of articles on Mohammedanism, Confucianism, Buddhism, Brahminism, Judaism, Christianity and other systems which represent the sacred beliefs and hopes of considerable portions of the human race.

The third volume of that great work, "The World's Best Essays," is at hand, and like its predecessors, will be found to be a mine of literary wealth. It contains selections from fifty-four essayists, no less than 112 subjects being treated upon.

AFREND'S ADVICE

Will Often Help You Greatly. Read What an Omaha Citizen Says.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of Omaha is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this. Then the evidence must be conclusive. Read the following:

"The World's Best Essays," especially if reinforced by "The World's Best Orations," has a wider range of literature of the highest class than is procurable in any other form.

Frederic Lawrence Knowles has edited a little volume of verse, which he appropriately calls "The Golden Treasury of American Songs and Lyrics." The purpose of the volume is solely that of preserving in permanent and attractive form about 150 of the best lyrics of America.

"The Story of Jesus," compiled and arranged by Louise Castle Walbridge, is the best thing of the kind that has been brought out for children. Most bible stories for children are written in the author's own language, which is apt to be several times more difficult of comprehension than the language of the bible.

Edith M. Nichol, author of "Observations of a Ranch Woman," has written a novel bearing the striking title "By Their Fruits." It is a brisk and pleasing story that will be admired by many readers.

Advance orders for 75,000 copies of Hall Caine's latest novel, "The Eternal City," were received by the Appleton & Co. publishers, before the date of publication.

The many friends of Cyrus Townsend Brundy, who published the book "The Touch," will be very much interested to learn that the complete copy of the New York state library of the 266 best books of 1900 published in 1900, the works of this popular author read all other titles it is credited with no less than four titles—a novel, a history, a biography and an juvenile biography ("Reuben James, Apollonius").

The above books are for sale by the Megreath Stationery Co., 1308 Farnam St.

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger, 212 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

Chas. Replige of Atwater, O., was unable to work on account of kidney trouble. After using Foley's Kidney Cure four days he was cured.

Roosevelt in the West

(Extracts from speech at Camp Lincoln, Springfield, Ill., delivered August 30, 1901.) Every man who does his work well, whether he is working as a big capitalist, as a tradesman, as a skilled mechanic, a farmer, a laboring man, no matter how low in the scale of life he may be, so long as he is doing his duty by his country as a whole.

MIRTH AND DOWN MIDWAY

Carnival Gates Are Opened in Evening to Merry Throng. TRAVELERS HAVE THEIR OWN WAY TODAY

Knights of the Grip Will Produce a Gay Pageant—All is in Readiness for Court Ball, Climax of Ceremonies.

Noisy, pushing, but good natured crowds that numbered way up in the thousands swarmed through the carnival grounds last night from the opening hour at 7 until the gates were closed at 11.

Success of Festival Certain. Altogether, last night's carnival was such as to leave no doubt, if any existed, of the complete success of this fall's festivities with favorable weather today and tomorrow.

Surprises in Store. There will be in the general parade eight sections of twenty-four men each and this display, which the promoters are keeping under the most careful supervision, is something beyond the expectations of all.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Margie Bird, aged 12, an employe of the canning factory, had her scalp torn and her body badly bruised this morning when she was caught in machinery.

Views Expressed in Recent Speeches. (Extracts from addresses delivered in the pulpit of the Trinity Reformed church, Chicago, September 1, 1901.)

One of the most abhorrent traits of character a man can possess, in my estimation, is hypocrisy.

It is not only highly desirable, but necessary that there should be legislation which shall carefully shield the interests of wage workers and which shall discriminate in favor of the honest and humane employer by removing the disadvantage under which he stands when compared with unscrupulous competitors who have no conscience and will do right only under fear of punishment.

MANY METHODISTS AT NELIGH

Over One Hundred Ministers Attend the North Nebraska Conference.

NELIGH, Neb., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The twenty-third session of the North Nebraska conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which met in this city Tuesday, is attended by 109 ministers and more are arriving daily.

MUST ANSWER FOR ASSAULT. Ex-Representative Brundy of Kansas Charged with Beating Old Soldier and Wife.

CLAY CENTER, Kan., Sept. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Ex-Representative William Brundy was arrested today on a charge of assault and battery.

Girl Burned by an Explosion. YORK, Neb., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Alice Brittain, the little daughter of James Brittain, the livestock man, was badly burned by the explosion of a kerosene can here yesterday noon.

Balzac no rival but George Sand; some critics consider her the greatest of French novelists, was certainly the most remarkable woman of her age and the greatest authoress in the world's history.

Statement of Funds. City Treasurer Koutsky has prepared a statement showing the receipts of the various annual levy funds, including the money received from all other sources from August 1, 1900, to August 31, 1901.
