Last Day of Race Meet Brings Out Banner Crowd of the Week.

FOURTH EVENT IS THE BIG FEATURE

Fiercest Contest of the Engagement Comes Between Eight of the Swift Ones—Highlighted Story of How It Happened.

It was almost a foregone conclusion that the favorites and the field yesterday at the Exposition park track running races, but the advantage lay slightly with the latter, two favorites landing first out of five races.

By far the largest crowd of the meet attended the last day's sport. There were fully 1,300 people on the track, and the racing was furious. This fact led bookies to be more generous than has been their wont during the last two weeks, and the odds on indifferent choices ran higher than usual.

The fourth race, a mile dash, brought out a contest that was probably the fiercest of the meet, and the most exciting of the day's card.

Other prominent winners were Greer Wick at 3 to 1, Enchant at 4 to 1, Bonner at 4 to 1 and Lararouque and Emerald at 2 to 1 each.

It was a beautiful race, but neither Bonner nor the favorite were in it after the first quarter. Lararouque started things at a terrific pace and seemed about to finish in the same position as the favorite.

She came down in the same position as the favorite, but Lararouque and Emerald were fighting hand in hand. But Emerald nipped in a winner by six inches, with all three under fierce whip and spur.

Mead's riding of the winner was superb. Enchant took third money. The time was 1:45.7, very good for the track. A three-fourth mile dash, last race was also a great event. Betty B was played up to win at 4 to 5, but Alroy was considered very wisely at the price offered, 5 to 2, and considerable money was bet despite the fact that he had won the third race a short time before in good time.

Elmerito was in minus a jockey's name, and did not fill the horses came to the track did the people discover that the regular rider Snell was up. Then a rush began and a lot of money was placed on the chestnut gelding at 2 to 1.

When the start was finally made Snell adopted his usual tactics when he is against a better horse than his own mount, and tipped in at the end of the race. He did not start in this way and his lead was not long for a long time. In the final sprint, however, he was able to hold his own.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 22.—A. G. Winner special to the Times says: A. G. Winner declared his intention of re-entering the world of amateur sport and has issued a challenge to the champion of the world, J. G. Snell, to a race on the 23rd of September at the Exposition park track.

It is expected the race will be possible on the 23rd, but as yet no word has been received from Snell.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The Fremont High school eleven played a practice game with a picked eleven yesterday afternoon at the Exposition park track. The boys showed a showing that last week. The boys showed a showing that last week.

DUKE AND HIS WIFE AT CHURCH

British Royal Couple Attend Services at Christ's Cathedral and Then Retire.

OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 22.—The duke and duchess of Cornwall and York spent the day at church, attending the services at Christ's cathedral at 11 o'clock and that was their only public appearance during the day.

They were accompanied by Hon. Derek Keppel and a troop of Royal Canadian Mounted police. There was a platoon of police at the door of the church and the police in civilian dress mingled in the crowds on the streets and about the cathedral.

The crowds on the streets cheered the duke and duchess as they drove past, but there was no demonstration at the church before the services. Seats for the royal party and the count and countess of Minto had been reserved and they were immediately shown to them. The sermon was preached by Rev. Henry Kitson, rector of the cathedral.

As the duke and duchess left the cathedral the outpouring congregation broke into a cheer, the duke raising his hat in acknowledgment of the applause. There was no demonstration at the church before the services.

Tomorrow the royal party will be taken through the timber stilly on the Ottawa river and then down the river to Rockville in Indian canoes and lumbermen's boats. They are to visit the lumber camps to see the royal couple and the duke and duchess. In the evening there will be a public reception in the senate chamber at the Parliament building. The duke and duchess will stand on the speaker's throne and those present will merely bow before them and withdraw.

At Melbourne the duke shook hands with 3,000 persons in one afternoon and lost the use of his arm for over a week. That experience led to an abandonment of handshaking at the general reception.

The royal party resume their journey westward to the Pacific coast Tuesday morning and their first stop of any length will be at Winnipeg, which place they will reach Thursday afternoon. It has been definitely decided that the duchess will not go to the Pacific coast with the duke, but Premier Laurier will accompany them.

NEED AMERICAN PUSH

Cotton Mill Situation at Mexico Depressed and Owners May Sell to Syndicate.

MEXICO, Sept. 22.—The cotton mill situation remains depressed and discouraging. Shares are suffering from lack of confidence and the mills remain overstocked with coarser sorts of fabrics, while a few which are turned out superior goods, are doing excellent business. Rumors are rife of the selling out of some of the most important mills to important American syndicates, who will re-equip the mills, introduce progressive machinery for doing a finer grade of work as to keep French and English goods out of the market and eliminate destructive competition. Men best acquainted with the situation are speaking impartially say that this is the one solution possible. Cotton manufacture has been overdone by people who have no technical experience, who have rushed in and built mills, tempted by former fabulous profits.

Daniel Guggenheim, chairman of the executive board of the American Smelting & Refining company, is here with a party of leading manufacturers engaged in the same industry. The party will make careful inspection of smelters in this country now controlled by the trusts.

For regarding the substitution of Texas oil for coal in this industry, Mr. Guggenheim said "the question of oil is only a side issue with me. We have proved beyond all doubt that crude oil is by far the best fuel. It has passed beyond the experimental stage."

COLUMBIA PUT IN DRY DOCK

Cup Defender to Be Given Final Cleaning Before Races Begin.

CRITICS EXAMINE THE BIG YACHTS

Commodore Praue Pleased with Build of Shamrock II and Thinks It May Win—Crows Will Challenge.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Saluted by scores of vessels as it was towed through the East river this morning, the cup defender Columbia, flying the pennant of the New York Yacht club at its masthead, looked very much as if it had just been overhauled. Columbia reached the Morse Iron works, Brooklyn, at noon and at 1 o'clock it was floated into the sectional dock, astern of the steamer Old Dominion. In two hours the yacht was high and dry and blocked in position for its cleaning before the start of the international race. Stages were slung all around it before dark and early tomorrow morning a gang of men will be put to work burnishing its bronze hull.

The yacht had many visitors during the day, and several yachtsmen. It was learned that Columbia is the mainstay of the defender's mainboom and the mainstay with which it won the trial races at Newport. It is not likely that any change will be made in either the boom or the sail until after the first race Thursday.

Crowd Visits Shamrock.

It is safe to say that fully 20,000 persons visited Shamrock II at the Erie basin dry dock today. They stood in rows two and three deep all around the edge of the big stone dock, admiring the yellow shining body of the yacht and its wonderful sky-reaching mast. Sir Thomas Lipton, patently limping as a result of his recent injury, looked over his challenger early in the morning in company with Charles Russell, David Barrie and some friends. Then he went back on board the steam yacht Erin, which took them up the Hudson for a few hours' sail. The yacht returned about 4 p. m.

Expert opinions were not lacking from those who had visited both the defender and the challenger. Former Commodore Lipton, who has perhaps won more races with his yachts in the old days than any other, said:

"I like the shape of the Shamrock and if its sails are as good as Columbia's it will win the cup. Its rigging is strong and its hull is very good. I think she will win more races with her yachts in the old days than any other, said:
