Declare He Rode Clean and Intimate That Charge of English Jealousy is Founded on Apparent

LONDON, Oct. 2 .- Lester Reiff, the American jockey whose license was withdrawn by the Jockey club yesterday and who was warned off the New Market beath, in an interview today on the subject said: "It's all a maze and a muddle. There are no explanations. The stewards decided that I pulled, or at any rate rode a crooked race on De Lacy, and let my brother win on Minnie Dec. I have nearly been at the top of the list this year and was the leading jockey in 1900. I have only half as many mounts as some of the crack jockeys, yet I ride more winners. To do more than this I would have to ride the winner in every race. Yet Lord Marcus Beresford declares I rode crooked.

"I got well away on De Lacy, leading until he reached the bend to the straight It is a peculiarity of Manchester course that the leading horse always goes wide four or five feet or more in turning in the straight. De Lacy did just this thing. Johnnie, seeing his chance, shot through and got in. If I had closed in again I should have put my brother over the rails. All I could do was to keep De Lacy straight and ride like the devil to win. But Minnle saw," interposed Wishard, Richard Croker's "I never saw a horse that did not swerve at the Manchester bend, as Reiff

Continuing. Reiff said: "I never bet on horses and I told the stewards so. I made this explanation to them, but the case was already decided against me. One of the three stewards acted as prosecutor as well as judgs. It was no use to argue. The whole business is the outcome of the hatred and jealousy of the English trainers and jockeys of us Americans. I never rode a race in this country that I did not carry my life in their hands. All these English jockeys would take a back at me. With the turf closed against me here my future for Games.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The magnates composing the National Association of Foot Ball Players met here today. Detroit dropped out and this left the league with three teams, St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee, and as one team would be idle every week the magnates were in a quandary. It was then made known that Joseph Cappels of St. Louis was anxious to place a second team in the league and a wire was received stating that Richard Jarrett was on his way to chicago. The meeting was adjourned till the evening, by which time Jarrett arrived.

The circuit was then composed with two clubs from St. Louis and one each from Chicago and Milwaukee. The St. Louis teams will be known as the Diehls and the Caps. The first matches will be played on October 23, when the Chicago team will play the Diehls in St. Louis and 'the Cappels will play in Milwaukee.

Permanent officers of the league were elected as follows: President, J. C. Karel, Milwaukee, vice president, Gas Diehl, St. Louis; secretary and treasurer, T. S. Andrews, Milwaukee.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 2—Amherst's foot ball eleven treated the Yale team to a surprise this afternoon in holding the Elits down to a single touchdown in a game of twelve and ten-minute periods. The Massachusetts men put up a remarkably aggressive, offensive game for the first of the season. Yale scored its touchdown in the first period by a series of short plunges through the line.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 2.—The Harvard foot ball team defeated Bowdoin today in twelve-minite halves, 12 to 6, the same as last year. Harvard's back field was composed of substitutes and only the excellence of the line saved the day. Bowdoin's bank was better than Harvard's. The work of the Harvard backs was so ragged that no end plays could be tried. Campbell played at left end and showed all his old-time torm. Hovey did the best work in the line. Touchdowns were made by Derby and Swan and the goals by Campbell.

> CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Oct. 2 - (Special.) Considerable feeling was occasioned Sat urday at the Lower Brule agency over the forced attendance at the agency schools of two Indian children by Agent Somers. The children in question belong to Grass Rope and Little Crow, two prominent Indians on the reservation. Their parents igorously protested against the children attending school because of sickness. The Indians point out that, by article 5, of the treaty of 1877, an Indian child who is ill cannot be compelled to attend the agency school, but must be allowed to remain at home and be cared for by the parents and > the agency physician. Little Crow objected to his daughter being compelled to go to school when she was sick with pulmonary trouble, and he was so strenuous in his charges of arbitrary treatment upon the part of the agenthat he was placed in the agency jail Almost the entire tribe is said to have revolted at this, and demanded the release of Little Crow. Their demands being unheeded, they took the prisoner from jail. saying that if the agent could take him without cause he might as well take the shole tribe, some fifty in number. Little Crow was taken home by his friends. As near as can be learned, the Indian police were overpowered in a calm, orderly manner by the friends of Little Crow, who appear to be fully determined not to submit to Agent Somers, and have wired the commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington to send an inspector at once to the agency to investigate the matter thoroughly.

They attacked the lail door with a battering ram and it soon yielded. The jailer then got the man out of his cell and he was given to the mob.
