FUSION IS KNOCKED OUT

Democrats Committed Rejects Proposition of the Populists.

CONFEREES FAIL TO AGREE ON TERMS

Populists Want "Only a Little," but Democrats Decline to Make the Desired Concession and Negotiations Are Off.

There will be no fusion in Douglas county this year. The democrats and populists had it out with each other last night and as a result the straight democratic ticket stands at this morning, while the pope declare themselves to be out for a fight for principle.

The central committees of both parties met last night, the democratic at the rooms of the Jackson club and the populist in the Frenzer block.

The two subcommittees retired to a private room, where they discussed the situation for a half hour.

Mr. Yelzer, for the pope, said that his organization was ready to fuse with the democrats on condition that it be given either the place of county judge or county clerk on the ticket.

IN CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE

Women of Nebraska Hear Reports on Work Throughout State.

ANNUAL ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT WALKER

Leader of State Union Urges Women to Continue Organized Effort in Behalf of Temperance-Lecture by Miss Kearney.

A chorus several hundred strong opened the convention of the Nebraska Women's Christian Temperance union at Kountze Memorial church yesterday evening with the singing of the crusade hymn, the hymn which is inspiration for the army of temperance women, waging war against the liquor traffic in all parts of the world.

After the hymn, the wearers of the white ribbon repeated the crusade psalm and the pledge of the union. Devotional services were led by Mrs. E. J. Fulton of Pawnee City and Mrs. Florence Lake of Republican City conducted an evangelistic hour.

After the completion of the religious exercises the president of the union, Mrs. S. M. Walker of Lincoln, announced that the formal seating of the delegates would begin and the real work of the convention opened.

Dellegates responded to the roll call with scriptural texts. Vacancies in standing committees were then filled by chairman.

The afternoon session opened with reports of the vice presidents, after which Mrs. S. M. Walker, the president, delivered her annual address. She opened with a tribute to President McKinley, referring to his assassination as not only an affliction to the nation, but as a glimpse of the hidden undercurrent of anarchy and vice existing in our midst.

Character extolled, prejudices modified and political differences forgotten, she said, "has men come together to pay respect to the dead. The true greatness of the American people manifested itself as never before in a common, united sorrow."

Consecrated Womanhood. In alluding to the national convention held at Washington, Miss Walker spoke of organized and consecrated womanhood, as a mighty, uncompromising foe to wickedness, to crime and to official cowardice and weakness.

She spoke of the courage and of the arduous editorial of many of the leading papers which suggested that courtesy be shown to the white ribboners in order that they might return to their homes and give enthusiastic accounts of their influence with congress.

Mrs. Walker said: "There was an influence and power manifested that could not be dispelled by sarcastic or humorous editorials. It meant much to the law-abiding of our land, to whom petitions have been offered faithfully for the last quarter of a century, to meet some of the godly women who have been pleading for temperance and tolerance. There was an influence exerted by good, true women, who pleaded for their rights. Can you not realize how this influence will become magnified with positive power when it is augmented and supplemented by a ballot in your own hands?"

Return for the Future. Mrs. Walker urged all the women to watch the coming consideration of the temperance bill and to be on the alert to send petitions to their representatives in congress and to give out the true facts throughout the land.

In conclusion, she said: "When a higher ideal of Christian life leaves its impress upon society, it will not be a question whether cars, with prizes attached, dancing and punch bowls can constitute or enter into the lives of the nation. Our Christian women will set in motion the reforms of all the social vices of the day."

Following Mrs. Walker's address came an interesting demonstration from the children of the girls' classes and boys' temperance clubs of the Tenth Street City center who have been training under the direction of the Omaha Women's Christian Temperance union by Mrs. Shirook and Miss Mabee during the last year.

All that could be rounded up and induced to enter the church participated, about thirty in all. At the conclusion of their exercises they were each given a badge bearing the picture of Miss Willard and the temperance pledge, and when all had been pinned on the children gave three cheers for the Women's Christian Temperance union.

A reading by Miss Virginia Merges concluded the program for the afternoon.

Lecture by Miss Kearney. The evening session opened with a temperance prayer meeting and, though all of the ministers and several other men invited to participate in the congregation was composed almost entirely of women.

The service was led by Mrs. S. J. Algier of Plattsmouth. After two well-rendered numbers by the Young Men's Christian association quartet, Mrs. Walker introduced Mrs. H. B. Kearney of Hastings, one of the foremost national lecturers in the field.

"Barnacles" was the subject of Miss Kearney's address and after recounting the most recent steps gained by the Women's Christian Temperance union she named the eight barnacles that dogged the wheels of its progress. These are as follows: Political parties' fear of the liquor traffic; the lower classes of foreigners in the country; the negroes in the south; the indifference of educated men to their obligations as voters; the holding of the bast from women; the liquor traffic-bound press; the dull conscience of church members to their responsibility in this matter and the license laws. Around these points she built her arguments.

The election of officers and delegates to the national convention was held at Fort Worth, Tex., will be the chief business of this morning's meeting and an address on "The Elements of Destiny," by Dean Fordyce of Wesleyan university, will be the feature of the afternoon session. In the evening Miss Kearney will deliver an address on the subject, "Sire, Remember the Athenians."

NEBRASKA FARM HAND BALKED. George Ketter, Eloping with Daughter of His Employer, is Brought to Halt in Omaha.

George Ketter of Norfolk, Neb., was arrested yesterday in company with 15-year-old Lucy Hoffman of Hadar, Neb., whom he was taking to Kansas City. When the pair was released from the police station notified the Omaha police and the arrest followed as the couple were about to take the train. Ketter is 25 years old and worked for the girl's father on his farm and thus became acquainted with her. He says it was his intention to marry the girl after they reached Kansas City. When Vincent Hoffman, the father, was notified of the arrest he wired instructions to hold both until he arrived with the sheriff.

Dog Catcher Shot in Leg. While Elmer Johnson and Martin Kearns, employees of the city pound, were trying to ascertain whether or not a revolver was loaded the former received a bullet in the right leg. The wound is not serious, as the bullet merely penetrated the muscle. Johnson was taken to his home at 519 South Fourteenth street.

WALKER REPORTS AGAIN

County Treasurer Walker makes the following report for the month of September: Balance on hand, Sept. 1, 1901, $5,683.19. Collections in September, 36,969.92.

Disbursements in September, $24,274.24. Cash in drawer Sept. 30, $28,378.87. Total cash on hand, 44,067.73. Total disbursements, 24,274.24. Total balance on hand, 19,793.49.

On deposit in banks: Merchants' National bank, $2,278.75; Farmers' National bank, $15,000.00; National Bank of Commerce, $14,500.00; Citizens' National bank, $1,000.00.

Total, $12,626.41. In a letter to the editor of the Bee, accompanying the report, Mr. Elsassser says: On September 8, in compliance with a general newspaper demand, I made a report showing the whereabouts of the public funds entrusted to my care for each month of the twenty months which I had then served as county treasurer. That report was up to September 1.

Herewith I enclose my report for the first month of the year. I desire to reiterate that I do not make this statement in compliance with the demand of the populists that I should do so, however, that there exists a general sentiment in the community that it is the duty of public officers to be responsible and transparent in their handling of public funds.

I shall hereafter make a monthly statement showing the whereabouts of every dollar of money entrusted to me, and I desire to be fully endorsed by the democratic principle involved in the proposition that public treasurers should be held financially responsible to the people.

Committee is Discharged. "I move that the proposition of the populists be rejected and that the conference committee be discharged," shouted a member of the central committee. There were half a dozen seconds to the motion and it was carried unanimously with cheers. Even such strong fanatics as Will Herdman sent on record as they applauded any further dealing with the pops in this local campaign.

The populist conference committee returned to its headquarters and reported the result of its errand. After considerable discussion, in which several members of the committee fully endorsed the democratic view, the populist conference committee was discharged.

Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

There is one certain way of curing indigestion and stomach troubles, that is, give your stomach a rest but still eat plenty of good food to keep up the nourishment for your body. You can do this by using KODOL, DYSPEPSIA CURE because it is the one preparation which digests what you eat without aid from the stomach. Nature will then repair your worn out digestive organs and restore them to healthy condition. It relieves that feeling of fullness, belching and distress after eating.

"I suffered with dyspepsia a great many years. I tried many remedies without relief until I used KODOL, DYSPEPSIA CURE. My health has improved and I now feel like a new man. S. J. Fleming, Murray, Neb."

Treasurer is Kept Busy Locking After Tax Collections

Question of Additional Room for City Officers is Brought Up by Plea of Crowded Quarters—Magle City Gossip.

Now that the tax commissioner has turned over a completed record of the 1901 assessment to the city treasurer the payment of this year's taxes has commenced. While the great bulk of these taxes will not be paid for a month or so, yet the treasurer will be kept busy making out statements and filling in receipts.

One thing suggested by the city rent the rooms above the city offices and thus provide room for all of the city officials under one roof. Now the city is paying rent for the mayor's office and the rooms occupied by the city attorney. This outside rent would go, it is stated, quite a long way toward paying the amount required for the rooms mentioned.

There will be plenty of room for a council committee room and every official of the city would have quarters in the same building instead of being scattered as at present. This question will doubtless be seriously considered by the council before long.
