At Fair Grounds, St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Oct. E.—Seven favorites in succession went down to defeat at the fair grounds today, the winners turning and three outsiders. The events were well contested, three of them resulting in haitr-raising finishes. Sting, Sir Lewis and Man finished noses apart in the second race, in the order named, and Kitty Ciyde, Fuccer and Menace finished with the same mar-gins between them in the third. Kindred annexed the fixture, the Autumn stake, a six-furiong sprint, worth $2,000 to the win-ner, by a neck from HI Lee in the fast time of 1:135, which is within a quarter pecond of the track record. Early weighed left pseuds and Haley only 55, but the latter broke his antagonist's nove, knocked him down seventeen times and secured a victory in the seventh round. Haley's next path will be with "Bob" Douglas at St Louis on October 24. Haley and Gardner are training together. Wrestling is also on the rise herrs. In the first place, there is a Swede mat man who has just arrived here and is looking for anything in the way of a match. His name is Joint Oldfson and he is willing to take on Leech, Holden or any of the locals. Then, Peter Loch and Captain Joe Sullivan, the direman, have finally been matched The bout will occur on October 25 at the Troundero. DOUGLAS COUNTY CUP THE TROPHY W. J. Foye Stands Good Chance of Winning It for the Third Time-Miss Konnize as a Champion Golfer.

I made up my mind, soon after graduating from college, that no one man was great enough to master the entire field of medi-cline and surgery. Many physicians have tried to do this, but they have met with results usually disappointing to themselves and often disastrous to their patients. For this reason I determined early in my pro-fessional cureer to confine my practice strictly to a single line of diseases and to originating and perfecting cures for them. I therefore treat only what I am absolutely certain I can positively cure to stay cured - VARICOCELE. Omaha Country club, has returned to pur-sue once more the even tenor of its way over its own course. The members of the team were W. J. Foye, J. R. Lemist, J. B. Rahn, W. G. Leavitt and R. R. Kimball, five in all. They won by a big margin, being only 47 down on bogey, while their nearest opponents were 56 down. In this contest each man played against bogey and totals of teams were added to decide the result. Nobody beat bogey, nor equaled it, but no-body ever does on that course, for bogey there is practically par golf. It is 80 strokes and 85 is the record for the course. The sturdy golfers who took top honors at the first annual meeting of the new organi-zation are now back on their native heath, training hard to proparation this time for a trophy this time. He began to play golf on June 1, 1960, and was not, of course, capable of entering for the cup on its first appearance, the opening match being played in that same month. But when the next tournament came along, in the next October, Foye won it, being then a novice only. This year in June he won it again, and now has

After that first day all play was eighteen holes only. Foye continued in form and luck and on Friday morning defeated George Murray of Kansas City easily by 4 up and 2 to play. Murray is the man who covered the Omaha course in 77 recently during the visit of the Kansas City Country club team here. In the afternoon came the second round and here Foye again won, but only after a tense battle. His opponent was Dr. J. E. Logan of Kansas City. When the eighteen holes were finished the two were all even. Another hole was necessary, so they started out again on the course.

It was a critical moment, and also a bad hole to negotiate. About 225 yards from the tee rose a formidable bunker fifteen feet high. Down each side from the tee to the hole was a row of trees, leaving only a narrow alley for play. Foye drove perfectly, about twenty-five yards short of the bun ker. Dr. Logan flubbed his drive and fell short. On the second Foye made the green with an iron. Logan barely cleared the bunker. Another shot laid Foye within hazardous holing distance. Logan approached to within twelve feet of the hole It was too much of a risk to play safe with the "doe" so near the hole, so Foye putted for an out, and got it, making the hole in four, which is bogey. Logan missed his long put and could not halve the hole, going out in five.

Saturday morning came the semi-finata Foye had Warren Dickinson of Des Moines to combat. Stuart was pitted against Richard Sykes of Denver. Foye was defeated up and 2 to play. He was still in good form and played great golf, but luck was all against him. On the greens it showed up

No other coursing meet is scheduled anywhere in the country for the same dates. so there is nothing to conflict with this affair nor mar its success in any way. The hounds will be there by the hundreds from Kansas, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Colorado and west, and large numbers of devotees of the sport will follow their favorite dogs to the slips. The coursing field at Friend is now very near perfection, it having been improved in many ways in preparation for this meet The town itself is all interest in the affair and will have every facility ready for recelving and caring for guests during the week of sport. Every indication is for a vast attendance. St. Louis coursers have already chartered a special train for the occasion, and will come in a body the first day. Two great stakes which attract most at tention, are the Mississippi Valley Futurity stake and the All Age stake. The first consumes three days, October 22, 23 and 24. It includes a total of $2,000 in purses, and 150 dogs are already paid-in entries. This will be one of the biggest events in American coursing, and alone assures the success of the meet. The other stake will be run on October 25 to 25. Entries are limited to sixty-four in number, but the event is open to the world, bar none. The purses aggregate about $1,000. This stake will be managed by the Friend Coursing club, the first one by the Mississippi Valley Futurity Coursing club, an interstate organization.
